At last one side of my face and my neck were up to my hair were affected. The water ran out of the sores that I had to be medicated cotton, for it was so inflamed I was sure that I had to put a piece of cloth over my pillow to keep the blood from it and it would stain the cloth a red color. The sores itched so that I scratched as though I could tear my flesh to pieces. The disease began in April and I did everything for it until the next winter. Then I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in not more than three months had my face all healed up. Commander of Georgia Tells Court-martial He Was Very Sick.

Officers Describe Scene at the Consul's Reception at Tangier.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GIBRALTAR, Feb. 3.—All of the evidence in the court-martial of Capt. Edward F. Qualtrough of the battleship Georgia, on charges preferred by Rear-Admiral Wainwright that he was under the influence of intoxicants at a reception given at Tangier by the American Minister, Samuel R. Gummere, was presented today.

The hearing was held on the battleship Louisiana, and a number of witnesses testified that Capt. Qualtrough was intoxicated and unfit for duty. The accused officer, who took the stand in his own behalf, made a lengthy statement, to the effect that he was ill and suffering greatly from fatigue, and that he had taken only one glass of sherry and nothing else. He had smoked a strong cigar.

Surgeon Crandall of the Georgia, one of the two witnesses for the defense, testified that Capt. Qualtrough's physical condition was low, and he was therefore very susceptible to the action of liquor and tobacco.

The defense introduced as evidence the record of Capt. Qualtrough's thirty-eight years' service, and two flattering letters of recommendation received by him during the present cruise.

Pleading will begin tomorrow, but a decision will not be given out until it is fully approved.

Lieut. Z. H. Madison, chief engineer of the Georgia; Ensign Cook and Capt. R. F. Nicholson of the Nebraska, were concluding witnesses for the prosecution. All testified that Capt. Qualtrough, at the reception following the dinner given by Minister Gummere, appeared to be under the influence of intoxicants. In their opinion he was unfit for duty.

About fifty persons, including foreign representatives, were at the reception.

Rear-Admiral Wainwright said Capt. Qualtrough was smoking at the entrance to the ballroom, and he touched him on the shoulder and reminded him that the smoking-room was adjoining. There was, however, no direct testimony that Capt. Qualtrough had indulged too freely or demeaned himself in a noticeable manner.

Capt. Nicholson, who went ashore with Qualtrough, testified that the latter had complained of feeling "very rocky."

The accused officer took the stand, and said that he had been on the bridge until midnight and was up again at 4 o'clock in the morning. As soon as the Georgia had anchored at Tangier he was obliged to receive and return official visits, representing Rear-Admiral Wainwright, who was otherwise engaged. The result was that the day was so crowded that he had only two cups of coffee until Minister Gummere's dinner.

He had attended the dinner only because he had been ordered to do so.

Capt. Qualtrough described at length how he went ashore with Capt. Nicholson and of their riding on mules to the hotel. He said he drank only one glass of sherry at the dinner, and nothing afterward, but he had smoked a strong cigar. He felt worse as the evening proceeded, and finally informed Consul-General Phillip that he would like to retire. He got his cape and hat, mounted his mule and rode back to the launch.

When Lieutenant-Commander Kline entered his cabin at midnight and informed him that Rear-Admiral Wainwright had suspended him, Capt. Qualtrough told the lieutenant-commander that he was not aware that the admiral had considered him intoxicated.

"My only feeling was one of illness," he continued. "I asked Kline what he thought of my condition and he responded: 'I think you have been drinking, but on the witness stand I should have to say you were perfectly fit to go on the bridge.'

"Kline advised me to see Wainwright, but as the admiral had not sent for me, I declined to do so."

ROUGH ON DIRECT PRIMARY.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another jolt was given the Wright-Stanton Direct Primary Bill in the Senate Committee on Elections and Election Laws today, when all reference to the nomination or election of a United States Senator was stricken out by a vote of 6 to 3. Senators Wright, Estudillo and Stetson alone standing for the original provision. It is practically settled now that the bill as first framed will be so mutilated in committee that it will not have any semblance of its former self. The fight yet may get to the floor of the Senate with the original bill supported by minority report and the committee substitute with the support of the majority.

KNEE OF DEAD UPON LIVING

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Physicians and surgeons are today discussing the most remarkable operation ever performed in this country. It was performed at the Georgetown University Hospital, when Dr. George Tully Vaughan removed the left knee of George A. Kelly and substituted the knee of a dead man.

The bones of Kelly's knee were so badly diseased that Dr. Vaughan decided on amputation. In a ward in one of the upper floors of the hospital lay a man about to die. Dr. Vaughan obtained permission from the patient's family to remove the left leg in the event of death. The patient died and the substitution was made.

The bones were riveted together by slender, strong wire. Every tissue, tendon and muscle was joined and the bones fastened together. In the course of time, say the physicians, the bones will knit together, the ligaments will become strong and the man will be able to use his leg.

TWO WOMEN CALL MAGAZINE WRITER HUSBAND.

"We Were Married in Another Country," Declares Wife Number Two in Explaining Declaration of Number One That Her Marriage Was Never Legally Annulled.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In addition to the statement made by Dist.-Atty. Jerome today that he would put Broughton Brandenburg, the magazine writer, in jail as soon as he set eyes on him, two women voiced their claims to the right to call him husband.

Mrs. Minnie Leonard Cabanne Brandenburg explained her reasons for regarding herself as the wife of Broughton. The explanation was called forth by the declaration of Mrs. Valine Brandenburg, from whom the writer separated three years ago, that the woman with whom he was living at the boarding-house at No. 62 West Ninth street was not Brandenburg's wife and could not be because he had not been divorced.

"Mr. Brandenburg and I are married, nevertheless," said Mrs. Minnie Leonard Cabanne Brandenburg today, apparently oblivious of the fact that, despite her explanation she was adding the charge of bigamy to the others of which Brandenburg has been accused.

"We were married in another country and our marriage was legal there. No, I shall not tell in what country it was. And inasmuch as his marriage to this woman who denies my right to his name was not legal and not binding on Mr. Brandenburg, and inasmuch as I obtained a divorce from my husband, I am the only Mrs. Brandenburg."

BITTER EXPERIENCE.

EARL'S BROTHER BADLY FROZEN.

YOUNG ENGLISHMAN HUNTED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Rescued Unconscious from Snowbank, With Companion, Baron Schaffer, and Taken to New York. Lies at Point of Death at Waldorf-Astoria.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Hon. James Knyvett Estourt Howard, brother of the Earl of Suffolk, is lying at the point of death at the Waldorf-Astoria, the slight hope of recovery darkened by the prospect that should he survive he will suffer amputation of one of his feet and several fingers, the result of a terrible experience while hunting in the frozen wilderness of British Columbia.

Howard is 22 years old. Accompanied by the Baron Schaffer, a German nobleman, he came to this country two months ago to hunt moose and bears. About a month ago they arrived at Banff, B. C., where their party was further augmented.

On the return trip to Banff a blizzard swept over the country and huge drifts of snow blanketed the trail. By turns they cried for assistance, but from the miles and miles of uninhabited country around no response came. Fatigued and weak, they lay down on the skins of three heavy bears that had fallen before their guns.

When, in a week, no sign from them had come, a party of ten was made up and ventured out in search. After riding hard for six days, the rescuers came upon Howard and the Baron, banked up against a huge drift, unconscious.

CAUGHT.

HASKELL INDICTED.

Governor in Net of Grand Jury.

Accused of Conspiracy in Muskogee Townsite Land Frauds.

Forty-seven Overt Acts, Including Forgery, Are Charged.

Eight Men Involved, According to Report of Federal Inquisitors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSKOGEE (Okla.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United States grand jury for the Eastern District of Oklahoma returned in court here today three indictments in the Muskogee townsite land fraud investigation and stated to United States District Judge Campbell that they would have no more such cases at present.

One indictment was against Charles N. Haskell, Clarence W. Turner and Walter R. Eaton, the second was against William T. Hutchings and Clarence W. Turner, and the third and last was against Albert Z. English, Frederick B. Severs and Jesse Hill.

Each one of these indictments first recites that the United States has always exercised official functions in the matter of protecting the Indian tribes in the enjoyment of lands set apart for their use, supervising through the Interior Department, the selling of such lands, when this was done under the law, and also taking care of the proceeds for the Indians.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

Then the act of March 1, 1901, is referred to. This act provides for the selling of lots in townsites in the Muskogee or Creek nation reservation at auction to the highest bidders at not less than their appraised value. The act, however, contained a provision in favor of persons already in occupancy of lands within townsites, in that it permitted such persons to purchase not more than two lots at one-half of their appraised value.

Under these circumstances it is charged the defendants, in violation of Section 5440 of the revised statutes of the United States, conspired to manage matters by means of "dummies" that they finally would come into possession of many valuable lots in Muskogee at one-half their appraised value.

They were to first schedule with the townsite commission the names of all the persons they could think of in the different parts of the United States, and to set the government machinery in motion which would finally result in the issuance of patents in those names. While the machinery was grinding, the defendants would secure quitclaim deeds from those prospective patentees.

RESORT TO FORGERY.

Having secured a record title, the defendants would then hasten to dispose of the lots to innocent third parties. The result of all this is charged as a fraud upon the United States and also upon the Creek nations, wards of the government.

Other acts, to the number of forty-seven, in the first indictment, thirteen in the second, and ninety-two in the third, are set forth as having been committed by the different defendants in pursuance of the conspiracy. These overt acts consisted in the writing of letters, signing of deeds, and the making of payments and accepting patents from the government.

In cases where dummies refused to sign quitclaim deeds or demanded money, as was charged in the indictments, forgery of deeds in their names was resorted to to complete the claims of title.

Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Sylvester R. Rush of Omaha, who, with Dist.-Atty. W. J. Gregg and Special Attorney J. F. Gaskell of Muskogee, has been engaged in the examination of witnesses and presentation of evidence before the grand jury, departed tonight for Omaha.

The grand jury devoted today to the examination of Muskogee witnesses and James Avery Webb, the St. Louis attorney, Gov. Folk's brother-in-law. Among Muskogee witnesses today were J. George Wright, commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes; Dr. Blakemore, Charles W. Moore and Julius M. Miller.

United States Marshal Victor stated he would not make any arrests until evening. Tonight bonds in the sum of $5000 each were furnished by C. W. Turner, Walter R. Eaton and William T. Hutchins, who, upon being notified of the indictments against them, immediately surrendered themselves. Bond in the same sum was arranged for Gov. Haskell, who is in Guthrie, the State capital, and for Albert Z. English, who is ill in Los Angeles, Cal.

CALLING IN FUNDS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Secretary of the Treasury today announced that he would make another call on the temporary national bank depositaries to be paid on or before February 24, 1909, that will yield about $30,000,000. This will leave a balance in the temporary depositaries of about $10,000,000.

OWNER OF SANTA ANITA RANCH AT DEATH'S DOOR.

E. J. Baldwin,
America's most picturesque turfman.

LAST RACE.

"LUCKY" BALDWIN NEARING THE END.

World-Famous Millionaire King of the Turf Lies Critically Ill and Death is Reported Hovering Over the Ruler of Arcadia.

E. J. ("LUCKY") BALDWIN is critically ill at his country home at Arcadia. He suffered a nervous collapse yesterday, and in the sinking spell that followed was very near death. He rallied, however, and was reported to be resting well at 2 o'clock this morning. It would occasion little surprise, however, if death should claim him before daylight as the end is believed near.

Although Mr. Unruh, manager of the Baldwin estate, did everything in his power to spread the report that Baldwin was not seriously sick late last night, George Rose, the well-known bookmaker, is quoted as saying that the king of Arcadia might not live through the night.

Dr. John W. Trueworthy, who has been Baldwin's physician for many years, was called to Santa Anita ranch early yesterday, and was at the bedside all day and throughout the night. Dr. Trueworthy was called by telephone at midnight, and made the following statement for The Times concerning Baldwin's illness:

"Mr. Baldwin was taken ill today. He suffered a nervous collapse, with heart complications. He had a sinking spell, but rallied well. At the present time he is sleeping, and is resting well. We have every hope for his ultimate recovery."

When told that it had been stated that Baldwin might die before morning Dr. Trueworthy said: "Oh, no. We hope that it will not be that bad. Everything is being done for him that is possible, and we expect to pull him through this attack."

A question as to whether the members of Baldwin's immediate family were at his bedside aroused the ire of Manager Unruh, and he took the telephone and said that any statement concerning the family in connection with this illness would be resented.

Manager Unruh objected to any statement that might lead to the belief that Baldwin is about to die, as he said it would have a serious effect upon his business.

NEW RECORD FOR SACRAMENTO.

RIVER SIX FEET DEEP IN STREETS OF TOWN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

REDDING, Feb. 3.—The flood burden was shifted today from Shasta county to Tehama county. The crest of the wave reached Red Bluff at noon, when the river stood at thirty feet, six inches, more than two feet higher than ever before.

The levee north of the town of Tehama broke, and water ran six feet deep through the main street, and was sixteen inches deep in the railroad depot. Every house in the town was flooded, and occupants fled to higher ground.

A mile of Southern Pacific track at Tehama was washed away. Division Superintendent Sheridan and a special train left Red Bluff at 4 o'clock to relieve the people of Tehama as far as possible. The river has been falling at Tehama since noon, and the worst is over.

No trains have passed through Sacramento Cañon today. Four landslides this side of Delta block the way, and they cannot be cleared before tomorrow night. Four southbound passenger trains are held at Dunsmuir. North-bound passenger trains can no longer come as far as Red Bluff, owing to the missing mile of track at Tehama. A made-up passenger train left Red Bluff this morning, going as far north as Kennett and returning to Red Bluff.

The river fell thirty-five inches here today. At Kennett the drop was six feet.

CHICO LEVEES BREAK.

CATTLE RESCUED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICO, Feb. 3.—The Sacramento River, seven miles west of Chico, made a new high-water mark today and broke through the Phelan levee in three places, spreading over 5000 or 6000 acres. One break is above Chico Landing, another at Angel Slough, and the third lower down the river. The breaks in the barrier caused only nominal damage, as the levee protected the Phelan lands, most of which are under lease to a cattle firm, Bohlander & Lucas.

DEFEATED.

DREW BILL IS KILLED.

Anti-Jap Laws are Blocked.

Credit Is Due to Gov. Gillett and Speaker Stanton for Action.

California Will not Interfere With Diplomacy of the United States.

BY S. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Assemblyman Drew's rabid anti-alien bill was killed by the Assembly late this afternoon by a vote of 43 to 28 and this emphatic action has practically blocked all legislation aimed at the Japanese. When the other fire-eating bills, framed by Johnson of Sacramento, come up for disposal tomorrow morning they will b voted down by the same majority.

Thus the State of California is not, at this session of the Legislature at least, to bring about any possible international complications and it will be left to Washington to settle in an amicable way all questions as to the immigration of Japanese.

To Gov. Gillett and Speaker Stanton goes the credit for today's result. In face of tremendous opposition they turned the Assembly right about face, converting a majority in favor of all anti-Japanese legislation into a much larger majority against it. It was done in a manner so clever as to leave no sore spots, the Democrats and a handful of Republicans composing the minority, swallowing defeat with something akin to grace, Drew whining that "They used the big stick."

WINNING CONVERTS.

A few days ago a canvass of the Assembly indicated 35 or more votes for Drew and other anti-Japanese bills enough to carry the measure by a large majority.

Then the Governor and Stanton, relying upon the national government to arrive at a peaceful solution of the difficulty, began their work of winning converts to their side. It has been boasted that Stanton could have accomplished this result alone, but he necessarily would have hit many heads and left some bumps, so another plan of campaign was determined upon.

Every Assemblyman who could be reached by sane argument was interviewed by Gov. Gillett, ably assisted by Stanton and from the time these two got busy there was apparent aching in the situation. Each day numbered additional recruits to the cause. The Southern California delegation lent valuable assistance. Every member from South of the Tehachepi lined up with the Chief Executive and the Speaker and their work among other members brought remarkable results.

UNIONITES CHANGE FRONT.

Chief among the triumphs of the Governor and Speaker was their success in gathering in the union-labor sympathizers of San Francisco, headed by Assemblyman Coghlan, one of the ablest men on the floor and head of the San Francisco delegation. Coghlan brought with him Beban, Lightner, McManus, Perine and Schmitt of San Francisco. Other supporters of anti-Japanese bills to change their minds were Rutherford of Truckee, Beardslee of Stockton, former Speaker of the Assembly, and Hawk and Greer of Sacramento, which is a hot bed of anti-Japanese sentiment. Nearly every one of these converts made speeches on the floor today in the debate that started at 11 o'clock in the morning and did not close until the vote came just before 6 o'clock this evening.

Of the Southern California members who made speeches, the most effective were Melrose of Orange county and Cogswell of El Monte. Other southern members either spoke or performed effective service in swinging the majority in opposition to the bills.

DEFEAT FORESEEN.

The bill had been amended at the request of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root so that the clause applying only to the Japanese was eliminated, making it apply to all aliens, but the measure aroused such a storm of opposition that long before the debate was closed by Mr. Drew, it was apparent that the measure would be defeated.

In substance, the objection to it was that it would drive at least a billion of foreign capital out of the State and might jeopardize the present friendly commercial relations with Japan.

The proponents of the bill contended that the State was being overrun by thrifty Japanese who had no intention of becoming citizens, who were gradually gaining an impregnable position as land owners and whose government was trying to dictate to California regarding legislation.

SENSATIONAL SPEECHES.

Two sensational speeches were made, one for, and one against the measure. Assemblyman Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento and ex-Congressman and author of four bills segregating Japanese in schools and residential districts and preventing aliens from becoming members of corporations, made an impassioned appeal for the enactment of the Drew bill.

At his climax he walked backward from his seat to the lobby rail and seizing in his arms a golden-haired girl of 3, held her aloft and declared

SNAP JUDGMENT.

STOCKHOLDERS SUSPECT PLOT.

Harriman and Gould Charged With Conspiracy.

Tried to Bankrupt Chicago Terminal, Is Charge.

Accused Say It Is Effort of Obstructionists.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Details of an alleged conspiracy on the part of E. H. Harriman, George J. Gould, James Stillman and Jacob H. Schiff to bankrupt the Chicago Terminal Transfer Railway Company were recited before Judge Kohlsatt today by Clarence A. Knight, attorney for the common stockholders of the Terminal Company.

The attorney charged it was the scheme of the men he called conspirators to secure for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad property worth from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000, at an expenditure of about $17,000,000 for the bonds of the company.

The story of the alleged looting of the company was made the basis of a petition of holders of over 25,000 shares of common stock to intervene in the case in order to prevent the sale of the property under foreclosure proceedings, subject to the lease of the Baltimore and Ohio.

It was declared that the "looting" was accomplished by means of a fraudulent lease of the terminal facilities. Under the terms of the decree of foreclosure, entered by the court on February 20, 1907, the property will be sold to satisfy mortgage debts amounting to about $17,000,000, of which the Baltimore and Ohio holds the bonds, unless the petitioners are allowed to intervene and have the lease set aside.

The common stockholders declare that if the property is sold subject to the Baltimore and Ohio lease the latter will be able to bid it in for not more than enough to satisfy the mortgage, leaving the stockholders out in the cold. If it is sold without lease, however, it ought to bring, it is said, between $30,000,000, an appraised value of the properties, and $48,000,000, the book value.

The Baltimore and Ohio attorneys argued that the status of the case is in no way affected by the rights of the common stockholders, as the appraised value of the property, $30,000,000, would not leave anything for the common anyway, after providing for the payment of the bonds and the $17,000,000 of preferred stock.

"The charges of fraud against Harriman, supported by mere information and belief allegations, are not sufficient ground to justify the court in reopening the case at this late day and taking evidence of acts extending over ten years," said H. R. Preston, general solicitor of the Ohio.

W. J. Calhoun, representing the Baltimore and Ohio, declared that the petition was intended only to obstruct and hinder the case until some one had settled with the common stockholders.

INSANITY CASE REMARKABLE.

Delusion of Negro Blood in Their Veins Causes Commitment of Four Sisters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DAVENPORT (Iowa) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A remarkable case of insanity resulting in an entire family of four sisters, all unmarried, and ranging in ages from 35 to 49 years, being adjudged of unsound mind, was heard today by the County Commissioners. The sisters are Martha, Emma, Lillie and Mary Slater.

The first sister has curly hair. On this account some friends jocularly remarked she had negro blood in her veins. This remark greatly preyed on her mind. She repeated the experience to her other sisters, and they likewise began to worry. In a short time all four became possessed of the common delusion that their neighbors were running phonographs, by means of which various opprobrious names were hurled at them. Whether in their sleep, in church, in stores, or upon public thoroughfares, they claimed they heard the phonographs going all the time inferring they were of negro extraction.

One of the sisters finally became so exasperated as to make threats to kill several people if they did not stop imaginary noises. This resulted in their arrest, and when taken before the commissioners of insanity all were adjudged to be of unsound mind, and ordered committed to the State insane asylum at Mt. Pleasant. Through their attorney, they have taken an appeal to the District Court.

TUBERCULOSIS AND MARRIAGE.

Bill to Compel Consumptives to Remain Single Introduced in Pennsylvania Legislature.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Horace A. McClung of Allegheny introduced a bill into the House of Representatives at Harrisburg today to prevent parties afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis from marrying.

The medical profession of Pennsylvania and the United States has taken notice of the proposed legislation. On many sides it is commended strongly, but Dr. S. G. Dixon, State Superintendent of Health, cautioned careful steps and gave his reasons for so doing.

Representative McClung introduced the bill at the request of Dr. Fred A. Rhodes and other physicians of Pittsburgh and it promises to be one of the most important matters the present Legislature will be called on to consider.

ALFALFA MUFFINS.

New Dish Served at a Banquet as a Novelty; not Breakfast Food Rival.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The National Association of Alfalfa Millers, about 100 strong, feasted tonight on muffins made of alfalfa meal. The new dish was served more as a novelty, but many banqueters ate it with a relish.

Alfalfa meal is made from the leaves and stems of alfalfa hay, finely ground. It is hardly believed that breakfast food can be made from the meal or any part of the plant, although many suggestions have been offered along this line.

THE LOVE ROUTE.

MRS. STIRLING SO SAD SHE TOOK A TAXICAB.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EDINBURGH (Scotland) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The feature of today's hearing in the Stirling divorce case was a skillful effort on the part of the husband's counsel to wring from Brinsley Harper, the wife's first legal adviser, an admission that he first counseled the naming of Mrs. Atherton as co-respondent in Mrs. Stirling's petition because he thought the use of her name, in view of her record for domestic difficulties, would strengthen the case.

"When I was first introduced to Mrs. Stirling by Lord Northland, in September," said Harper, in answer to the questions, "she declared that she had lost her husband's love through the latter's intimacy with Mrs. Atherton. The poor lady broke down and sobbed and was the most pathetic figure I have seen in my whole professional experience. I sent her home in a taxicab."

"But you admit that Lord Northland first confessed to you that Mrs. Stirling had a row with her husband over him and you thought it would be a good thing to take advantage of Mrs. Atherton's record" he was asked.

"No, I thought no such thing, but I sent detectives to Sandown on my own initiative, the result being the discovery of Stirling's conduct there with Mrs. Atherton."

Mrs. Stirling submitted to examination today for the last time. She has been on the stand three days.

In spite of the searching questioning, which occasionally broke down her outward composure and caused a flood of tears, the defendant almost invariably had a ready answer and a plausible explanation for seeming indiscretions. She stuck to her story that there had been no misconduct between her and Lord Northland, named by Stirling as co-respondent.

Just before Mrs. Stirling left the stand, she raised an outburst of laughter by replying to the question whether she had given up the idea of marrying Lord Northland, by saying: "I am now free; Lord Northland could not propose to me yet."

Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Stirling's mother, testified briefly to her daughter's distress on the receipt of a certain letter while in America and her sudden resolve to return to London. This was the letter written by the Stirlings' nurse, hinting at improper relations between Stirling and Mrs. Atherton.

Lord Northland also was called for the defense, and generally corroborated the testimony given by Mrs. Stirling. He denied that he had ever been guilty of misconduct with the defendant. He was still on the stand when the case was adjourned for the night.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS LEAD.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—Figures on the nativities of California brides for the year 1908 were completed today by George D. Leslie, statistician for the State Board of Health.

Of the 21,739 brides, the non-Caucasians numbered 417. Of the 21,322 white brides, the single numbered 17,448; widowed 2238; divorced 1641. The white brides born in California numbered 8672, of whom 7598 had never been married before; 547 divorced, and 492 widowed.

The brides born in other States totaled 8352. Among these the wedding was the first for 6363; widowed 1123; divorced 866.

There were 4832 foreign-born brides led to the altar in 1908, of whom 3432 were single; 623 widowed, and 228 had been divorced.

TO NULLIFY RACE TRACK LAW.

Apparent Purpose of Justice Court Bill At Sacramento.

There has been introduced in the California Assembly a bill relating to the jurisdiction of justices' courts, which, if enacted, might nullify the effect of an anti-race track gambling law. The measure reads as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 584.

An act to amend Section 1425 of the Penal Code of the State of California relating to the jurisdiction of justices' courts.

The people of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1. Petit larceny.

2. Assault or battery not charged to have been committed upon a public officer in the discharge of his duties, or to have been committed with such intent as to render the offense a felony.

3. Breaches of the peace, riots, routs, affrays, committing a willful injury to property, and all misdemeanors punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Where is the joker? Do you see it? A leading attorney of Los Angeles pointed it out to The Times. If violations of a law against race track gambling were to be prosecuted in justices' courts for the respective townships, the Arcadia gamblers would be prosecuted in Arcadia and tried before Lucky Baldwin's justice. Of course Lucky would have a justice, just as well as a town constable. He owns and manages the whole works. How many race track offenders would be fined or jailed by his township justice? The racing and gambling could go on indefinitely with continuous prosecutions and no stopping of the game.

The Times asked District Attorney Fredericks what he thought would be the operation of the above bill and he inclined to this view of it.

GAY HOME-COMING.

SILK HATS TO WELCOME TAFT.

Two Thousand Frock-Coated Citizens in Line.

Fifty Thousand Expected to Gather on Levee.

Negroes to Be Given Chance to Offer Greeting.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A reception committee of 2000 citizens, attired in Prince Albert coats and silk hats, will greet President-elect Taft on his landing here next Thursday afternoon, while, if the weather is fair, there will be a throng of 50,000 people on the levee to give him a cordial welcome. He will arrive off South Pass Wednesday night or Thursday morning and will start up the river about daylight, reaching the head of Canal street on the scout cruiser Birmingham about 1 o'clock.

The negroes of New Orleans have been deluging the Arrangements Committee for an opportunity to extend their greetings to the President-elect and this afternoon the matter was definitely settled by providing for a stop at Straight University on Canal street, where the negroes can gather for several blocks and where the negro Y.M.C.A. will extend a greeting to him. It is distinctly understood that negro politicians are barred from the ceremony.

A. J. Davidson, president of the 'Frisco, and J. T. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central, today wired their acceptance and will participate in all functions.

Invitations to the Taft banquet to be given at the Hotel Gruenewald on the night of February 12, have been sent to President Roosevelt, Vice-President Fairbanks, the Governors of sixteen Southern States and to a number of prominent editors, railroad officials and public men.

Elaborate arrangements for the welcome of Mr. Taft upon his arrival on February 11 are being formulated.

UNDERTAKER OFFERS BOUNTY.

Competition for Privilege of Burying Paupers Is Very Keen in Colorado.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GRAND JUNCTION (Colo.) Feb. 3.—The Mesa county commission today awarded the contract for burying deceased paupers of the county to a local firm of undertakers, who will receive one-millionth of a cent for each body prepared for burial.

Competition for the contract was exceedingly keen, one bid of one ten-millionth of a cent for each pauper being received.

One firm offered the county 10 cents each for the privilege of burying the paupers, but the commissioners decided they could not accept a bounty from an undertaker on the dead he was to care for.

LOOKS GUILTY TO TALESMAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Because he didn't like the looks of Hassan El Hashash, who is on trial on the charge of having murdered Tuffa Shasheim, 15 years old, Clarence Gray was excused from service on the jury yesterday. Gray was called as a juror, and was tentatively accepted until he was asked if he had an opinion concerning the prisoner's guilt. "While sitting in the jury box," he said, "and looking at the defendant, I have formed an opinion of his guilt and for that reason I wish to be excused." He was excused.

MAYOR BUSSE AT FUNERAL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—The funeral of Mrs. Lucius C. Tuckerman, who was killed Sunday night by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of George A. Busse, brother of Mayor Fred A. Busse, was held last night. The body of Mrs. Tuckerman will be cremated, and the ashes taken East for burial. The Mayor and members of the Busse family, with the exception of George, who is ill as a result of the accident, attended the funeral. Maj. T. J. Lewis, in command at Fort Sheridan, and other army officers, also attended. The bereft husband came from his home at Milton-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. With him was his daughter, Marian. Alfred, the little boy, was in Chicago at the time of the accident. Mr. Tuckerman said he had no desire to reopen the inquest, inasmuch as it was clear that the killing was accidental.

ISTAR, PRIZE TABBY, LOST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Istar of Gaddesfern is lost. Istar is an Angora cat, of proud lineage and she lived with Mrs. Laura Woodward until Sunday morning, when she jumped out of a window. Istar is the United States champion in the solid orange Angora class, and has captured prizes all over the country. Last year she won first premiums at the Buffalo, N. Y., and Chicago shows. Mrs. Woodward is heartbroken and has offered a large reward for the return of the runaway.

BIG WEAPON FOR WOMEN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Small hats and enormous hatpins are evidently to become the style. Both appeared upon the heads of thirty women who met last evening to form what the men might call a milliners' union. The president, however, declared the meeting to be one of the National Association of Retail Milliners. "We believe the dignity of millinery artists should be upheld by an organization," said Mme. Maere. "Good milliners get from $50 to $200 a week, and expenses. Chicago started the movement."

SEE WORMS' HEARTS BEAT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Pulsating heart beats of anesthetized earthworms, scales from the legs of mosquitoes and the larvae of lobsters and other sea food, are among the many curious things shown at an exhibition of the State Microscopical Society and the Chicago Academy of Science. It is the first large showing of the kind here in years.

TO SUE KANSAS COUNTY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—United States Dist.-Atty. Bone of Topeka, Kan., who is here on his way West, says he intends to bring suits in the Federal Court at once to have seventeen bridges across the Kaw River at Kansas City, raised to prevent damage by spring floods. The suits will be against the county of Wyandotte, Kan., which controls five of the bridges, and against individuals and corporations controlling twelve more. There are twenty-two bridges across the stream, but interests controlling five of these have complied with a popular clamor to raise them. The bridges with their large piers are said to obstruct the flow of water, which in the spring and summer time backs up at Kansas City and does great damage.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Judge Van Fleet has assessed judgments aggregating over $300,000 against the insurance companies which refused to pay in full the insurance carried by their San Francisco policy holders at the time of the big fire of 1906.

In all, 104 cases were on the calendar of the Federal Circuit Court, and eighty-eight of them were decided adversely to the insurance companies. The others were allotted more time on the plea of the attorneys for the companies, that they had not had time to prepare for the final presentation of their cases. The cases remaining undecided involve $250,000.

The judgment was divided among three insurance companies, as follows: Norwich Union, $242,616; Williamsburg City, $149,347; Indemnity, $23,443.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Sixteen citizens, for the most part possessed of radical opinions concerning the guilt or innocence of Patrick Calhoun, passed in review before the attorneys in Judge Lawlor's court today, and none succeeded in qualifying for the eleventh place in the jury that will try the president of the United Railroads upon an indictment charging bribery of a former Supervisor.

Man Who Bonded Mine Missing in Inyo County.

Mountain Trails to Nevada Are Guarded.

May Have Gone Astray in Snowstorm.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BISHOP, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The two toll roads leading across the mountains from Inyo county to Nevada are being guarded tonight by deputies armed with warrants for the arrest of A. A. Stanton, representing San Francisco capitalists, who took a bond on the Monster mine near Big Pine about three months ago and this morning disappeared, having many angry creditors. Stanton is most wanted by J. P. Fitting, associated with Charles M. Schwab, who alleges embezzlement, and this morning secured the warrant for Stanton's arrest.

Stanton sent his wife and son north to Mina today on the train, but, realizing he was watched, secretly secured two horses, and, with a guide, took to the hills, presumably headed for Nevada. Within half an hour after his disappearance Fitting secured a warrant and urged Constable Logan to take up the trail. The nearest road from Big Pine to Nevada is across the White Mountains over the Goldfield toll road. Heavy snowfalls in these mountains, however, have completely blocked traffic. A high wind accompanied by snow flurries, it is believed, has caused the riders to go astray.

Stanton has had many men employed on the Monster mine, taking out ore and shipping this to the smelter at Keeler. He kept the returns for the ore, neglected to pay his bills and refused, also, to come through with the royalties on the ore due Fitting and Schwab.

VERY WISE RUSSIAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. Budivan Pogechevsky, who introduced himself to the State University town of Eugene recently as the master of seven languages and a European university professorship, and who was writing a book on American colleges, is strangely missing. Eugene people who honored his letters of credit would like to learn what has become of the affable Russian savant.

Such an eminent scholar as Pogechevsky received lots of attention in Eugene. He was dined by the college professors and declared to be a man of great learning, but some who enjoyed the visitor's acquaintance had misgivings. To one he would declare himself a Parisian, to another that he was a Russian and he said his wife and children would join him later from both Philadelphia and Omaha. However, before anything startling developed about the distinguished foreigner at the university, Budivan obtained the confidence of several townspeople and on the strength of a letter of credit succeeded in borrowing $200 in hard cash, to be returned on February 1. February 1 came promptly but Budivan and the $200 did not.

STOCKTON IN ANXIETY.

GRAFT AND GAMBLING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The probing by the grand jury has caused much anxiety in some circles, but the general opinion here is that the investigation will go the way of numerous other inquisitorial bodies. The alleged poolrooms and gambling and other supposed vices that have existed are being investigated, and the police department is charged with permitting them to exist. Accusations of graft are also rumored, but it is understood that up to date nothing on which a case could be based has been brought out.

The grand jury has been questioning witnesses for four days, and it is understood the body will be in session for another week at least. An effort is being made to show that the police have been receiving bribes to permit gambling of various lines to run without molestation. Lottery venders have also been on the carpet, and it is possible some indictments will be returned by the grand jury before it closes this session. As many people are involved in the outcome of the investigation, the interest is very keen.

INSURANCE JUDGMENTS GIVEN.

SAN FRANCISCO LOSSES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Judge Van Fleet has assessed judgments aggregating over $500,000 against the insurance companies which refused to pay in full the insurance carried by their San Francisco policy holders at the time of the big fire of 1906.

In all, 104 cases were on the calendar of the Federal Circuit Court, and eighty-eight of them were decided adversely to the insurance companies. The others were allotted more time on the plea of the attorneys for the companies, that they had not had time to prepare for the final presentation of their cases. The cases remaining undecided involve $250,000.

The judgment was divided among nine insurance companies, as follows: Norwich Union, $342,616; Williamsburg City, $149,347; Indemnity, $23,445.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Sixteen persons, for the most part possessed of radical opinions concerning the guilt or innocence of Patrick Calhoun, joined in review before the attorneys and Judge Lawlor's court today, and one succeeded in qualifying for the seventh place in the jury that will try the president of the United Railroads upon an indictment charging bribery of a former Supervisor.

Just before adjournment, Judge Lawlor issued an order for the eighth special venire, to consist of sixty talesmen, who are summoned to appear next Friday. By that time, 700 citizens will have been subpoenaed to appear in the case.

A stir was created early in the session by the discovery that Sigmund Cohn, husband of the woman who was requested yesterday to leave the building, was in the courtroom. Cohn, whose wife was known to be friendly with Morris Haas, the ex-convict who shot and seriously wounded Francis J. Heney, was closely questioned and searched by detectives before he was permitted to remain among the spectators.

W.C.T.U. INDIGNANT.

REFUSED HAWKERS' PERMIT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the W.C.T.U., in Portland, are indignant because they were today refused by the City Council permission to sell Lincoln badges on the street on the Lincoln centenary. The temperance workers applied for a permit, necessitating a special ordinance, but unexpectedly opposition arose, and the privilege was denied.

Several Councilmen declared that because such permits are refused, cripples and others, the ribbonites come in for no special privileges. The women, however, declare their request is much different; that they wish to do a patriotic service, and that some of the Councilmen, who are friendly to liquor interests, were prompted by spite work.

Supreme Court Affirms.

SALEM, Feb. 3.—In an opinion written by Justice Bean, the Supreme Court affirmed the decree of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county in the State vs. the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, in which the constitutionality of the initiative and referendum amendment, adopted by the Legislature in 1903 and by the people in 1906, is upheld and the company is required to pay the annual license of 2 per cent. upon its gross receipts, and to make annual statements to the State Treasurer. The case probably will be appealed.

THE POTTER

The Mission Bell of the past left an echo of truth which for today is a motif breathing hope for the future of a grand oratorio. The hotel man who believes that guests can be permanently housed like swarming bees by a big noise, then dined on superheated atmosphere and personal advertising without regard to any of the unwritten rules of commercial integrity, is bound to defer dividends and finally disintegrate. Sincerity and fair dealing are just as essential in hotel keeping as in banking; hence our frequent referring to our adherence to strict business principles, maintenance of uniform rates, supply of good living because we produce our own staple delicacies and our persistent endeavor to afford pleasant service

DIFFER OVER TARIFF BILL.

Fight Develops in the Ways and Means Committee.

Members Take Sides on Up or Down Revision.

Contest May Be Carried Into House Next Session.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was learned today that differences have developed among the Republican members of the Committee on Ways and Means that may result in a bitter fight over the tariff bill when it is presented in the House at the special session to be called in March. The stand-pat element among the Republicans on the committee is in the minority and the alignment is interesting as showing in a measure, at least, Representative Sereno Payne of New York and Representative John Dalzell of Pennsylvania no longer standing shoulder to shoulder on the tariff. Here is the way the committee is lining up at present according to information obtained today:

Standpatters—Dalzell of Pennsylvania; Bonynge of Colorado, Needham of California, Fordney of Michigan and Calderhead of Kansas.

For a revision downward, or at least a more liberal policy in that direction than those named above are inclined to agree to; Payne of New York, McCall of Massachusetts, Hill of Connecticut, Boutell of Illinois and Longworth of Ohio.

Representatives Crumpacker of Indiana and Gaines of West Virginia, have not identified themselves in their conclusions with the schools of thought on the tariff represented by the two groups above named. They are voting on the merits of each proposition as it is presented.

All of the indications are that the Republican members of the committee are finding it exceedingly difficult to reach an agreement on important provisions of the new tariff bill. Some of the differences are said to be irreconcilable and may have to be settled in a contest in the House.

Among the many other projects of national importance favored by President Roosevelt to which the present Congress will give no practical encouragement; is the movement for conservation of national resources. It now appears to be settled that no action will be taken in regard to this, no bonds authorized and no appropriation made, while Mr. Roosevelt is in the White House.

MODOCS GOING HOME.

LONG EXILE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—After a weary wait of more than a third of a century, Capt. Jack's band of Modoc Indians are about to be permitted to return to their old homes in the "Land of the Setting Sun."

Following their disastrous warfare on the white settlers in Oregon, in 1874, these Indians were exiled to Indian Territory, where they were placed on the Quapaw reservation. At that time there were 271 of them, but before a year had elapsed, the number was reduced to 132. By 1877 there were not more than 112, and at the present time there are only forty-nine.

In a report recently made to the Senate by Senator Curtis of Kansas, himself an Indian, he says:

"This rapid decrease seems to be the result of mental anxiety caused by their enforced separation from family and friends."

Senator Curtis' report recommends the passage of a bill, which already has received the approval of the House and which authorizes the return of these aborigines to their former home in the Klamath reservation in Oregon, where an allotment of land is now going on, in which they will be enabled to participate.

Senator Curtis says in his report that the Modocs, notwithstanding their record of 1874, are extraordinarily good workers. He says also, there are no drunkards among them, and that they are "careful and economical." It is quite probable that the bill will pass the Senate.

ARMY OFFICERS HONORED.

NAMES PERPETUATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Brevet Brig.-Gen. Rene de Russy, U.S.A., who served with distinction during the War of 1812, and the Civil War, has been honored by having the military reservation at Kalai, Island of Oahu, Hawaii, named Fort de Russy.

The military reservation at Kapahulu, Island of Oahu, has been named Fort Ruger, in honor of Maj.-Gen. Thomas A. Ruger, who served with distinction in the Civil War.

In honor of Maj-Gen. Emory Upton, U.S.A., the military reservation at Queen Emma Point, Island of Oahu, Hawaii, has been named Fort Upton.

Brig.-Gen. Royal T. Frank, U.S.A., has been honored by having the military reservation on Carabao Island, P. I., named Fort Frank.

Batteries at various reservations have been named in honor of Brig.-Gen. Gustavus A. Deryss, U.S.V.; Col. L. H. Walker, U.S.A.; Maj. Benjamin H. Randolph, U.S.A.; Maj. Frank Harlow, U.S.A.; Col. J. E. Greer, U.S.A., Capt. William F. Crofton, U.S.A., and Capt. Edgar F. Koehler, U.S.A.

FOR HETCH-HETCHY BILL.

SENATOR FLINT ARGUES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Flint made a determined effort today to get the Land Committee to report out Senator Perkins's resolution permitting San Francisco to exchange lands in the Yosemite National Park for land in the Hetch-Hetchy Valley. He said Los Angeles had been through the same experience, and that San Francisco would be in a deplorable situation if it were denied reservoir rights. The committee decided to grant a hearing to the Spring Valley company next Wednesday, when it will probably instruct Senator Flint to report the bill favorably.

SOUNDS LIKE ANVIL CHORUS.

AGRICULTURAL BILL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—General debate on the Agricultural Appropriation Bill in the House today afforded critics and defenders of the Department of Agriculture an excellent field. Mr. Leever of South Carolina led off with an attack on the appointment and referee board of consulting chemists in the department. Mr. Heflinger of Alabama asked on behalf of the cotton growers for a governmental monthly report on the consumption of cotton.

Mr. Sturgis of West Virginia urged an extension of the forest service.

Mr. Humphrey of Washington took an exactly opposite view, while Mr. Mondell of Wyoming declared the Bureau of Forestry the most autocratic bureau outside of Russia.

Mr. Bartholdt of Missouri declared for inland waterway improvement, and Mr. Chandler of Mississippi complained of the tariff on agricultural implements.

Chairman Scott of the Agricultural Committee closed the debate with explanatory remarks on work done by the department during the last year.

Before the bill was taken up in general house, the House passed the Senate bill for the appointment of Federal judges.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Kibbey Persona Non Grata.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to gossip here, President Roosevelt indicated to Gov. Kibbey of Arizona, that the prospects of Statehood would not be damaged if the Governor should go home. Kibbey has been here for some time, urging Statehood and seeking to be confirmed for reappointment by the Senate. He is not warmly approved in the Upper House, because he is said to have criticised some of the Senators.

Dr. Wiley Is Just That.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Wiley, chemist of the Agricultural Department, admits that he received a hard blow when the referee board declared that benzoate of soda was not harmful, and he expressed fears that a similar verdict would be rendered in regard to sulphur. "But," said he, "we will fix them; we'll get the duty on sulphur put so high that they cannot afford to buy sulphur out there in California to put in the fruit."

Magoon Optimistic Regarding Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Charles E. Magoon, former Provisional Governor of Cuba, called upon the Secretary of War today. He expressed himself as optimistic regarding the future of the Cuban republic.

Agreement With Venezuela Near.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A dispatch came to the State Department today from Caracas from American Special Commissioner Buchanan. It was said that the condition of affairs does not present a situation indicating any serious hindrance in reaching an agreement between the United States and Venezuela.

President to Veto Census Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The President will send to Congress this week a special message vetoing the bill which provides for taking the next census. The veto will uphold the objections of the President to the thousands of appointments being made outside the civil service.

House Passes Judges' Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—After a decisive defeat two days ago, Representative Caulfield of Missouri today persuaded the House to pass the Senate bill to pension Federal judges who are 70 years of age and who have served ten years on the bench. The bill was amended so as to prevent a district judge from retiring as a circuit judge after serving a short time.

NEGRO PROBLEM.

ARREST BLACKS BY WHOLESALE.

RACE WAR NEAR PITTSBURGH IS THREATENED.

Of One Hundred and Twenty-six Prisoners, Forty-three Are Discharged—Police Trace Attacks on White Girls to Cocaine Fiends and Take Precautions Against Trouble.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Feb. 3.—One hundred and twenty-six negroes, who were arrested late last night and today, following a carnival of crime against young white girls in the Herron Hill district, recently, were given hearings today.

Forty-three of them were discharged; forty-two were fined or sentenced to jail, and forty-one were held over pending further investigation. Every negro who has no visible means of support or who is known as a user of drugs will be arrested.

Some of the women of the Herron Hill district now go armed and a majority of the men have armed themselves and positively threaten to kill negroes caught molesting white women.

The police are of the opinion that the terrible acts of the negroes are the work of a few degenerate cocaine fiends.

During the past month over a dozen girls have been assaulted in the Herron Hill district.

There is talk of race riots and bloodshed and some of the negroes are predicting a reign of terror. The district under police surveillance covers miles of territory and negroes are arming themselves.

COURTS FIND FOR DUKE.

Decision Respecting Estate of Manchester Puts $125,000 Into His Lean Pockets.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DUBLIN (Ireland) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Irish law courts, after many days passed in investigation, have reached a decision respecting the estate of the Duke of Manchester, which puts 25,000 pounds sterling ($125,000,) annually, into his lordship's pockets. It was Manchester who, in 1900, married Miss Helena Zimmerman, daughter of Eugene Zimmerman of Cincinnati.

The Duke sold his estate to the tenants under the act of 1903, which provides that when an estate is insolvent the proprietor being a tenant for life, gets no bonus, but if the estate is solvent the bonus goes to him.

The courts have decided that, although a receiver had been appointed over the estate in the interest of the creditors, it escapes insolvency by a few hundred pounds a year.

Wireless telegraphy has saved its first Mexican ship. The revenue cutter José Yves Limantour became disabled fifty miles off the coast, near Culiacan, a few days ago, according to reports received at Mexico City, and her calls for assistance by wireless were caught up by the Alamos, which immediately steamed out and brought the disabled cutter safely to port.

DEMOCRATS IN RETALIATION.

Arizona Legislators Vote Under Party Whip.

Take Vengeance in Crippling Administration.

Abolish Examiner and Rangers; Both Useful.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ruled by a Democratic caucus majority, and the caucus apparently managed by members of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee, the bills abolishing the Territorial Examiner and the Arizona Rangers got through the Legislature this afternoon, both passing the Assembly by a strict party vote of 17 to 7. Several Republican members made protest, but were given scant courtesy.

A considerable number of Democratic legislators voted against their own beliefs, sand-bagged by their party leaders, and the curious spectacle is presented of measures passing that a majority of the members are opposed to. It is a straight case of the party whip. The Democratic organization has sworn vengeance upon the Territorial administration for its activity in the election of Ralph Cameron as delegate to Congress and now proposes to cripple the administration if possible. The high value of the public examiner's work is acknowledged, but he happens to be a strong Republican. The southern counties are strong for the rangers, but their protests have been unheeded.

A bill has been introduced taking insurance fees from the Territorial Secretary and this afternoon another bill cuts off the allowance for his assistant. The salaries of Federal judges for doing Territorial work are to be lopped and the fees of Territorial district court clerks are to be cut off.

Gov. Kibbey will return Monday, the local legislative situation being more critical than even the Statehood fight in Washington. An interesting feature of today's session was the presence of a large delegation of railroad employés from all parts of the Territory, protesting against drastic anti-railroad legislation that has been proposed.

DEADLOCK UNBROKEN.

STEPHENSON LOSES TWO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Wisconsin Legislature deadlock over the election of a United States Senator remains unbroken and indications are it will remain so until after the investigation of the charges of corrupt use of money by Senator Stephenson in the primary election.

On the fifth joint ballot today Stephenson received 61 votes, four less than enough to elect, two less than he has hitherto received. Two of his supporters were absent. As on previous joint sessions one of the Stephenson supporters made a formal protest against taking any joint ballots, contending that Stephenson was re-elected by separate vote of the houses a week ago yesterday. Lieut.-Gov. Strange ruled the point not well taken. The protest was for the purpose of making a report to carry the contest before the United States Senate if Stephenson fails to receive a majority of the votes in joint session.

A joint conference committee is working tonight to see a compromise between the two houses on the question of a Senatorial investigation.

Attorney-General Asks That Supreme Court Give State Hearing in Standard Oil Appeal.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Feb. 3.—Atty.-Gen. Major today filed in the Supreme Court of the State a suggestion that if the court decides to have a hearing on the motion filed yesterday by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, the State be allowed to be represented either in oral arguments or by filing a brief. The decree does not reveal the exact stand to be taken by the State, but it is thought that the Attorney-General will endeavor to have enforced the points agreed upon in last night's conference on the case at the executive mansion. These points in brief are:

First: That there must be an increase in the fines levied against the company and its subsidiary companies if the court is disposed to modify the decree of ouster, and,

Second: There must be some provision for effective supervision of the oil business by the State, whether along the lines suggested by the companies or otherwise.

The attitude of the Waters-Pierce company has not been revealed here. The company has until February 5 to file a plea.

VACCINATION FATAL.

Kansas City Schoolboy Dies of Lockjaw—Wound not Kept Clean, Says Physician.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Floyd M. Tinsley, 12 years old, was vaccinated at the Irving school last Tuesday by Dr. H. Delamater, a physician acting for the board of health. Sunday night, he became ill and Dr. B. F. Watson was called. He found that blood-poisoning had set in and notified the health department. Dr. Delamater went to the home and with the parents' consent had the child removed to the general hospital. Lockjaw developed and the lad died yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Wheeler, Dr. Watson and Dr. Delamater found that the blood poisoning and subsequently lockjaw was caused by infection.

"The wound was not kept clean," said Dr. W. S. Wheeler, health commissioner, today. Dr. Wheeler attended the boy at the hospital.

"The result is unfortunate, but could have happened from any kind of a cut that was not kept clean."

Vaccination is compulsory in the Kansas City schools.

Reports have been received at Mexico City of a fight between a force of Mexican soldiers of the One Hundred and Seventieth Battalion and a band of Indians, between Santa Cruz and San Isidro, in Yucatan, in which one soldier was killed and several were slightly wounded. The Indians were driven back, and took to the hills, taking with them their dead and wounded.

SMOKED OUT.

STRIKES ENDED ONLY BY CASH PAYMENTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Revelations of the "educational methods of labor-union grafters are coming thick and fast, now that the new prosecuting attorney has declared himself in favor of punishing these malefactors.

Contractors today told of being assaulted when they revolted against continual hold-ups, and one man told of having his plant wrecked by dynamite to bring him to terms.

Revelations involving twenty alleged cases of blackmail and graft in building trade circles, which M. B. (Skinny) Madden dominates, were made to Assistant State's Attorney Popham today, and as a result of the commotion that broke out in certain circles where "business agents" predominate there was every belief that the big strike at the new Northwestern Depot would be settled within twenty-four hours.

A secret session of the "business agents" representing the building trades was held today. It was declared that plans were there made to start overtures to the contractors, with hope that if the strike is called off the present agitation for a grand jury investigation would gradually wear away.

Three affidavits are already in the hands of the State's Attorney, and information has been secured by the prosecutor that will lead to more startling revelations.

The contractors agree that most of the alleged blackmailing transactions take place in Powers and Gilbert's saloon, where M. B. (Skinny) Madden, boss of the Associated Building Trades, has his headquarters, and where he calls strikes and ends them at his own discretion. One of the closest assistants is M. J. Boyle, a "business agent."

The three affidavits which have already been submitted to the State's Attorney are: Sworn statement that W. Scholot of Schwartz & Scholot, contractors, paid Boyle $200 for calling off a strike in Kenilworth.

Sworn statement by Robert Work, architect, that he paid Boyle $300 for calling off a strike in Winnetka.

Sworn statement from Paul D. Blake, a contractor, that he paid Boyle $100 for calling off a strike in Winnetka.

Other charges made are:

Hately cold storage building, strike called on the electrical work on a slight pretext, and $2400 paid for calling the strike off.

Building at northwest corner of Vincennes avenue and Thirty-ninth street. Strike called on the electrical work. All other building trades workers called out in sympathy. Strike settled for $250. Money said to have been paid in the down-town saloon.

Picture molding factory, California avenue and Twentieth street. Strike called and all building trades workers on the job were called out. Joseph Klicka, contractor, paid $700 to settle the strike. The money was paid to Madden's gang in the down-town saloon.

Nelson piano factory. Strike called and entire job was tied up and a demand made for a "settlement." After the strike had lasted six weeks, H. P. Nelson, head of the piano concern, was compelled to go to the saloon where he paid Business Agent Boyle $1000 for calling the strike off.

H. H. Mapler of Postle and Mapler architects, gave the most sensational testimony of the day. He was architect for the Nelson piano factory and had something to do with bringing about the "settlement."

"After the strike had been on for some time I went to Powers and Gilbert's saloon to see 'Skinny' Madden," he said. "Madden said if Mr. Nelson wanted the strike settled he should call there himself. I informed Mr. Nelson of this and together we went to the saloon.

"We were taken into a small room by Madden who went out and sent in a man, who said his name was Boyle. Boyle suggested that I leave the room, I did so. Mr. Nelson then paid $1000 for settling the strike."

Another incident which the contractors state points accusingly to the labor grafters, is the strike at Isaac Ettelson's clothing store. The electricians were the lever used. After the strike was called, Mr. Ettelson was told that he had better see "Skinny" Madden if he wanted to settle the strike.

"You will have to go to him," said the messenger. "You will find him in Powers and Gilbert's saloon." Mr. Ettelson did not go. Then there was an explosion, which wrecked his store.

Finally, some one called up Mr. Ettelson and told him that he would have to pay $2500 if he wanted to make the repairs caused by the explosion. For days he was compelled to employ watchmen as the front of his store had been blown out and no one could be induced to put in the glass. Then he was again called up by telephone.

"This is Martin B. Madden, proprietor of the Associated Building Trades," said the speaker. "You had better come in if you want your repairs made."

Later on, the repairs were made, but no one would explain how the strike was settled.

Cutting her third set of teeth at the age of 78 years, and complications produced by it, are assigned as the cause of death of Mrs. Theresa Zuckfel, at McKeesport, a suburb of Pittsburgh, Tuesday. Ten grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren are among her descendants, and several of the latter were teething simultaneously with their great grandmother.

GOV. HASKELL COMES DOWN.

Finds Railroads Abandoning Oklahoma.

Calls Conference to Settle Difficulties.

Santa Fe Had Threatened to Desert State.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma has sent out an invitation to the executive officers of all the railroads operating in that State to meet him in a general conference. He has been moved to do so by the widespread publication of the statement that the roads generally are much dissatisfied with the provisions of the constitution and laws the State has adopted, so far as they affect transportation lines.

Some roads, such as the Santa Fé, have allowed it to be understood that they will build no more lines in the State under present conditions. In proof of their purpose they have stopped all construction work within the State, and projected lines have been abandoned for the time being.

Members of the corporation commission of the State and committees of the Legislature that have had charge of railroad affairs also have been invited, and it is hoped that out of this conference will come a way of ending the antagonism which now exists and of stimulating the roads to resume their construction work. It is realized that Oklahoma must have railroads at any cost.

Two O'clock In the Morning—The Burglar Moving About—How to Bring Him to Justice—The Deep Bass Voice and the Steady Hand. Don't Move or You're a Dead One!

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Albert Beck, A. P. T., messenger, and expert in Old South literature, has been the means of sending George Wall, a burglar, to the House of Correction.

The story told by the boy in court rivals his favorite stories in blood-thrilling details. It is as follows:

"It was the night of December 28, about 2 o'clock in the morning. I was awakened by some noise in the room, and in the darkness I could dimly see a man moving about. I knew it was a burglar and so I lay still thinking what I would do.

"Once he came over to the bed and looked at me, and I closed my eyes and made believe I was asleep.

"Then he went on searching the room and I opened my eyes and watched him. I could see he was a full-grown, strong man, and I thought I would have a hard time taking him red-handed and single-handed without any gun or knife.

"So at last I decided there was only one way to capture him and bring him to justice and that was by a ruse. So I spoke up suddenly with a deep bass voice just like a man, and said: 'Aha, you've got into the wrong place this time—it's all up with you. I'm a policeman and I've got you where I want you. Don't you move or you're a dead one.'

"I had my finger and thumb pointed at him just like a gun, and in the dark he certainly thought it was one. He put up his hands and stood there without saying a word. So I thought I would scare him some more and make it good.

"'Cap,' I says, calling out loud as if there was another man in the next room, 'hand me that 44-Colt and that pair of handcuffs and jump into your clothes. We've got a little job here to do.'

"'Now you, Mr. 'Burglar,' I says, still talking deep, 'you turn around to the wall and keep your hands up till I dress.'"

Young Beck related how he started to march his prisoner to the Police Station, but about a block away they met a patrolman who took the burglar into custody.

Wall sheepishly admitted he had been captured by the boy's ruse.

New Jersey Man Says He Can Temper Metal for Cutting Tools.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS (N. J.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Ludlow of Keansburg says he has discovered the process whereby copper can be hardened and tempered and made useful as a cutting tool. Mr. Ludlow became interested in copper when the trolley road first came through Keansburg and for the past four years has experimented in copper, with the above results.

Judge John E. Foster is acting as Mr. Ludlow's representative in the matter. One concern from New York has already offered $54,000 for the discovery. Negotiations have been opened with the copper trust for the purchase of the patent, which has been applied for.

LAVENDER LADY.

LEMP DENIES WIFE'S CHARGES.

BREWER REPLIES THAT SHE WAS CROSS AND NEGLECTFUL.

Alleges That Conduct Exposed Her to Criticism and That She Flew Into Rage When He Protested. Sister-in-Law Was Objectionable, but Persistent Visitor.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William J. Lemp, the wealthy brewer, admits the birth of their son but denies nearly every other allegation made in his wife's second amended petition for divorce, to which he filed an answer in Judge Hitchcock's court today. He admits giving away articles of furniture but denies he spoke rudely to his wife. He admits employing a detective in January, 1905, to watch her, that he carried a revolver, and that he left her, October 13, 1906, and said he would not live with her again. He admits entertaining guests, at his home in the summer of 1906 but denies that there was any improper conduct. He admits photographing his son in a manner objected to in Mrs. Lemp's petition but says it was done with Mrs. Lemp's consent.

He alleges she began to grow cross in June, 1903, and from that time until he left her in October, 1906, she made his life almost intolerable. He says she neglected her household duties and flew into a rage when he suggested that her conduct exposed her to public criticism saying, "To hell with public opinion, I don't care what the public says of me."

Lemp repeats his former charge that the mode of dressing of his wife, known as the "Lavender Lady," was so conspicuous as to excite talk, and renews his charge that she continually invited one of her sisters to his house to whom he seriously objected. He says when he sent a letter to Mrs. Lemp's father protesting against the visits of Mrs. Lemp's sister, he received a sarcastic letter from the sister.

Lemp says his wife went to Palm Beach, Fla., in the summer of 1905-1906, leaving him only a servant and making no effort to provide for his comfort.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A daring burglary occurred here last night. Mrs. Martha Hathaway and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Sutherland were the victims. They are guests at the Anderson Hotel. Early last evening a stranger, registering as J. W. Smith, was given a room, and at midnight the guests named returned to find their suites ransacked. A large amount of jewelry and money were taken.

This morning the jewelry was found in Smith's room, but he was gone. Mrs. Hathaway lost a draft for $100.

NEVADA ASSEMBLY'S VOTE ANTI-JAPANESE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CARSON (Nev.) Feb. 3.—The Assembly of the Nevada Legislature adopted the anti-Japanese resolution, as amended, today. The amendment eliminated all reference to Federal interference, but urge the State of California to pass stringent measures to exclude Japanese. There was but one vote against the measure, that of Assemblyman Church, Republican, of Lincoln county.

A telegram received from Senator Perkins, read this morning in the Senate, was read to the Assembly this afternoon. In reply the Assembly telegraphed to him the resolution as amended.

It is likely the resolution will be delivered to the Senate tomorrow. Should that body take up the measure it will further amend it, and it is said that the wording will be so altered the Assembly will scarcely recognize it.

Assembly resolution No. 2, which asks that a fleet of warships be kept in the Pacific, was adopted without opposition or amendment.

The dispatch from Senator Nixon was as follows:

"The Japanese question, like the Chinese question, is non-partisan to all Nevada citizens. I take it that the action of the resolution now before the Nevada Legislature is a serious one and was introduced for the purpose of securing beneficial results. Personally I have no desire to inject my views, but after a conversation with the President this morning, I feel that it is my duty as a representative of the people of Nevada to suggest to the Legislature through you gentlemen that the very object of the resolution may be injured by radical action at this time."

Gov. Dickerson, when shown the telegram and also the telegram in the papers from President Roosevelt, gave out the following on the subject:

"Personally I would like to see the Japanese excluded from this country, and every one of them, now here, deported. I regard them as being a worse evil and a greater menace to our country than the Chinese. I am not in favor, however, of enacting laws or passing resolutions on this subject that will tend to embarrass the national administration in its negotiations with the Japanese government for the restriction of immigration. I believe that President Roosevelt is earnestly endeavoring to exclude the Japanese, so far as it is possible for him to do so under present treaty conditions. As to what disposition will be made of the resolution now before the Nevada Legislature I do not care to venture a prediction. The Legislature may be safely trusted to handle the matter in a wise, dignified manner."

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

SHOT DOWN IN BUSY STREET.

Tragedy in Denver Explained by Wronged Husband.

Slayer Is Prominent Citizen of Wallace, Idaho.

Had Followed Victim and Wife from Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Cradelbaugh of Wallace, Idaho, Grand Master of Idaho Odd Fellows, prominent in politics, today in the heart of the retail shopping district, in the presence of thousands, fatally shot Frederick Walton, whom he accused of having run away with his wife and children. Walton died an hour after he was shot. Cradelbaugh says:

"I did no wrong, when the people know the facts I will rest my case with them."

He told the Chief of Police he had pursued Walton a long time. The hunt started a month ago when Mrs. Cradelbaugh fled from Wallace with Walton, her husband's business partner, who was also high in Odd Fellows councils. He traced them to Portland, but they had left for San Francisco. When Cradelbaugh reached San Francisco the pair had gone to Los Angeles, where the woman's parents reside.

Mrs. Cradelbaugh's father is Edward M. Magner, a contractor, who resides at No. 413 Bonnie Brae street.

Leaving one son there, they came to Denver, and with one child, occupied a room at the Kane Hotel.

Cradelbaugh arrived last night, told his story to Chief Armstrong, and asked for the couple's arrest. The meeting on the street was apparently by accident.

His companions in the crime were Fred Shuman and James Bassett.

They were run down by Sheriff Ross, tried, convicted, and sentenced to State's prison, Bassett to three years, Shuman to four and Clifton to five. Clifton had been discharged from a ten years' sentence for burglary in Los Angeles less than six weeks prior to the hold-up.

The inquest will be held tomorrow. The husband, who is employed on a ranch ten miles away and comes home weekly, has been sent for. The deed evidently was done some time last night. The woman is about 15 years old.

The pair were staying at a boarding-house since yesterday under assumed names. The girl, under sharp questioning, admitted her relations with Janer, who, she said, had lured her away by promises. It is expected the charge of felonious assault, which is a capital offense in this State, will be made against Janer.

ENDS BRIDES' DIFFICULTY.

Woman Has Word "Humor" Substituted for "Obey" in Marriage Service.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Ora Della Pickert has solved a problem that has worried brides for many years. She has found a substitute for the word "obey" in the marriage service. Until she wept to St. Charles with Charles E. Pickert she was Miss Ora Della Keese. The license had been issued and the couple were leaving the Recorder's office when Justice Frei entered.

"Ah," he said, smiling, "may I not have the pleasure of performing the ceremony?"

"You may," said Miss Keese, "if you will agree to one thing."

"And what is that?"

"Well," said the blushing bride-elect, "you must leave out the word obey."

"Oh, yes, I can do that."

"And you must substitute for it the word 'humor,'" which was accordingly done.

CASE OF RUSSIAN SPY AZEF IS MAIN TOPIC IN PETERSBURG.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 3.—The case of the so-called provocative agents, Azef and Lopukine, which came up in the Duma yesterday in the form of an interpellation, continues to be the sole topic of conversation among the people and the local press is filled with details of the incident.

Azef was known as the head of the fighting Russian Socialists, while he was in reality a government spy, and Lopukine, former director of police in the Department of the Ministry of the Interior, is charged with high treason in connection with the Azef revelations. Azef is now in hiding and Lopukine is a prisoner in St. Petersburg.

The Rossia in an inspired article declares that Lopukine should be tried in open court. The court, it is asserted, has no desire to hide the facts, but welcomes a full investigation and is determined to prove to the world that an ex-official who has betrayed secrets of state to the enemy of the country can not escape punishment.

The disclosures regarding Azef have been chiefly in the matter of his activity in organizing assassinations, but today the other side of the shield is being disclosed, and it is shown that his chief value to the government was in preventing the carrying out of plots against the Emperor and Premier Stolypin. In this, he was so successful that the Terrorists were unable to organize even a satisfactory surveillance of the Emperor. Four so-called plots never got beyond the first stage.

It is rumored that M. Trusevich, director of the political police, will be replaced by M. Muratoff, Governor of Tamlov.

PROSPECTS.

HOGAN HAPPY OVER OUTLOOK.

Boy Manager Believes He Can Land Fourth Place.

Eleven Men Secured and Four More in Sight.

Hess to Play Third Base for the Vernon Team.

"Happy" Hogan, manager of the new Vernon ball team, says that he expects to finish just out of the money in the pennant race this season, and that means that his team may be fourth. This is the dope he handed out yesterday, but from the looks of the team that he is reasonably sure of getting, he may even finish ahead of the Sacramento and Portland teams, always figuring that Los Angeles will be first.

According to Hogan's statement, he has eleven men now, and before the end of this week expects to have four or five more. He sends and receives from six to fifteen telegrams each day, and if perseverance will get together a ball team, he will surely have a good one. He is personally acquainted with many of the new men he has in view, and declares that his team will be a strong one. The line-up Happy gives out is as follows:

Hogan, Kinkel and Lewis, catchers; Thomas, Annis, Coy and Stovall, pitchers; Brashear, first base; Haley, second base; Hess, third base; Goodman, Curtis and Adams, outfielders. In addition to these he has lines out for four good pitchers, three infielders and an outfielder, and the majority of these are well known on the Coast.

Catcher Lewis will be turned over to Vernon by Oakland, if the Clams get the catchers they are looking for, and Kinkel is a possibility. Thomas belonged to the Chicago Nationals, and was turned over by Chance, and Annis is a local pitcher who plays with the Hoegse team. Coy heaved for the Seattle team last year, but worked in only nine games, of which he won five and lost four. In thirteen games he hit five men, gave fourteen passes, made one wild pitch, and batted .263.

NEW THIRD-SACKER.

Third Baseman Hess, who has been bought from the Little Rock team of the Southern Association, played in 140 games last season, and hit for .243. In 126 games as a third baseman he had 187 outs, 267 assists, and 38 errors, for a fielding average of .918.

Haley played with the Santa Cruz outlaw team last year, and hit .302 in fifty-one games. In forty-two games as a second baseman his fielding average was .941. Graham and Adams are local boys who are playing in the semi-professional nines, and Goodman and Curtis have been turned over by the San Francisco team. Hogan may get Green of the Rockford, Ill., team, and also Brackenridge of the Akron club of the Ohio-Pennsylvania League. In thirty-seven games as a pitcher and outfielder Brackenridge hit .289, and in twenty-two games as a pitcher he won thirteen and lost nine.

There seems to be a good chance for Truck Eagan to play with the Vernons, for Hogan said yesterday that Truck would jump to the outlaws rather than go to St. Paul, and President Cal Ewing of the Coast League will doubtless be able to arrange this business.

Mott of the Fresno outlaw team is said to be willing to sign with Vernon, and he may be landed. He belongs to the Coast League, and last year was sold by Portland to the Aberdeen team of the Northwestern League, but refused to report, and jumped to the Fresno outlaw team.

The trade of Oakes of the Los Angeles team for Ellis and Daly, with the Cincinnati team, is apparently off, but a proposition is now being considered to trade Daly and a bundle of cash for Oakes, and Berry may yet lose his crack center fielder.

As forecasted exclusively in The Times some days ago, President Cal Ewing of the Coast League has appointed McGreevy, Toman and Jack McCarthy as umpires for this season. Eugene McGreevy was the crack umpire of the Three-I League last season, and Toman and McCarthy are well known on this Coast.

CALIFORNIA TEAM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 3.—Indications point to a very strong team by the time of the intercollegiate series with Stanford. There is an abundance of material for every position but that of pitcher. Christen of Anaheim is doing the best work, although "Brick" White, last season's 'varsity sub, is also doing well. White has wonderful speed and an abundance of curves and when practicing can place the ball just about where he wants it. When it comes to a close game, however, he loses control and has almost as much trouble in locating the backstop as the plate. Coughran of Long Beach is out again for the box position after a rest of a year. He gives promise of being able to regain the speed and power that made him famous in his prep school days and if he succeeds, he will be a likely candidate for 'varsity honors.

While several men are out for catcher's position, the man who handles the glove in the 'varsity games will be either Bob Moulton of Riverside or Stoner of Bakersfield. Stoner has the best form behind the bat but Moulton has the truest wing and is the better batter.

The infield that seems most likely to be the final choice of Coach Causley for the southern trip and the Stanford series consists of Capt. Myers at his old position at first, Lewis of Anaheim and Anthony alternating between short and second, and Smith at third where he played last year. It will only be a bad slump on the part of one of these or a wonderful improvement in some one of the other candidates that will keep any of the above from making the team.

Competition for the outfield is hot and the contenders are numerous. Forker from Bakersfield is a freshman who stands excellent 'varsity chances, both because of his field and hitting. Forker has been playing in center field and will play there Wednesday. Robert Clendinin from Pomona High is another freshman with good 'varsity chances while Barrea also seems to have a chance of making good.

Swacina is considering taking a chance with the California outlaw league. He does not object to playing with Harrisburg, but he thinks he should receive the same reasonable salary that he has been getting the last two years.

WALLABIES SKIP SOUTHERN TRIP.

TEAM LEFT CHICAGO TUESDAY NIGHT FOR WEST.

Have no Time to Visit Los Angeles Under Present Conditions and Are to Open Western Series Saturday With California at Berkeley—On Northern Route.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Los Angeles is not included in the schedule of the Australian Wallabies football team unless changes are made after reaching California. The team left here Tuesday night at 6 o'clock over the Northwestern road and expects to play Saturday with the University of California at Berkeley.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dispatch from the manager of the Wallaby team, received by Manager Merritt, says that Los Angeles will have to be cut off the list of games because of lack of time. Schaefer has the 'varsity hard at work and the men will be in good condition for the game on next Saturday. Several of the men who played on the 'varsity last fall and who will be eligible next year are not out. Notable among these are Freeman, the rear ranker; Webster and Johns, three-quarters.

The team which will play Saturday will line up about as follows: Front rank, Markwart and Phleger; side rank, Carpenter and Bennett; lock, Fairbanks; rear rank, Swim and Pauly of San Diego. The backs will be Dwiggins at half; Capt. Cerf and Elliott, five-eighths; Evans of Pomona and Watts and Harris, three-quarters; Lawton, full. The 'varsity men in the line-up are Markwart, Phleger, Cerf, Elliott, Watts and Harris. Fairbanks played on the 1906 and 1907 'varsities and Evans was a 'varsity sub this year, and played three-quarters on the victorious freshman team of last fall. Swim has been out for two seasons and Carpenter and Bennett were the side-rankers on the '11 freshman fifteen. Lawton played full on the same team.

SIX-DAY BICYCLE RACE.

Third Day's Grind Results in Four Teams Being Tied for First Place Honors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Repeated sprints without a lap gained is the story of the third day's racing in the six-day bicycle grind at Convention Hall. Time and time again Fogler, Root, Bardgett and Demara started a sprint, but none of the efforts was conducive of the much-coveted lap.

The nearest approach to pilfering a lap came at 5 o'clock. Demara, closely followed by Root, started a sprint which looked for a few minutes as if it might bring results, but Moran's tire burst and the speeding had to stop until repairs could be made.

The score at the closing hour tonight was: Root and Fogler, Hill and Demara, Mitten and Bardgett, Moran and Cramer, each 565 miles 9 laps; Wiley and Cameron, and Devonovitch and Mackay, 565 miles 8 laps; Wilcox and Senhouse, 563 miles 7 laps. Today's mileage, 186 miles 4 laps.

UNIFORM SPEED LAW.

Olcott, Who Introduced Bill to Regulate Speed of Automobiles, Calls on the President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William H. Page, counsel for the Automobile Club of America, is here from New York conferring with Representative Olcott about the bill Olcott introduced in the House at the instance of the club. It provides for the regulation in the Territories and the District of Columbia of the speed of automobiles, prescribing that the rate shall be reasonable. It is hoped that if the national government passes such a law the States will follow suit.

Page said today that a law fixing the speed of automobiles not at an arbitrary limit but at a reasonable limit, was the desire of automobilists everywhere. He explained that what was a reasonable speed through a crowd was not a reasonable speed on an open stretch of road. The bill is before the House District Committee and it is possible hearings will be had on it later, though none have been arranged thus far.

Page was at Harvard with President Roosevelt, and he and Olcott called on the President today.

Los Angeles Defeated.

RACING AT ARCADIA.

Old Sprinter Jack Atkin Beaten by Miss Sain Which Surprises the Gamblers.

Rainy weather hurt the attendance yesterday at the Arcadia race track on the occasion of "Elks' Day," and while the card was a fairly good one there was nothing startling except the beating of the stake horse Jack Atkin by an outsider, Miss Sain. The bookmakers held Atkin at prohibitive odds in the gambling and yet he apparently had no chance to win, for Miss Sain beat him easily by two lengths. There were seven races on the card and the time made was slow on account of the muddy track. Results:

Six and one-half furlongs: Friese, 105 (Frachs,) won; Otilo, 103 (Butwell,) second; Billy Bodemer, 104 (Howard,) third; time 1:21 4-5. Fargo Rose, Some Stone, Nasmerito, Lula G. and Sir Barry also ran.

BIG MARATHON FRIDAY NIGHT.

LONGBOAT AND SHRUBB READY FOR GREAT RACE.

Indian Lopes Over the Ice Behind Pace-making Skaters While Shrubb Ploughs Through Snows of Central Park With Heavy Shoes on—Greatest Race of the Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lively interest attaches to the forthcoming race between Tom Longboat, the tireless Indian, and Alfred Shrubb, the sturdy British sprinter, who are to meet here Friday night. Shrubb takes long training stunts daily by plowing through the snow around Central Park. In this training he wears heavy boots, but in the Marathon will employ light shoes.

Longboat is being speeded up by a bunch of fast skaters. The Indian does his racing over and around the lagoons, and shows no fatigue after hours of loping over the ice, up steep banks, and tearing through the shrubbery.

Both men are in splendid condition, Shrubb having recovered from the recent injury to his foot due to a shoe that rubbed his heel, producing a big blister, in which infection appeared.

One thing about Friday night's race is certain—there will be more money bet on the result than on any event which has taken place in New York in a long time.

Until recently the Indian has been using the Asbury Park boardwalk for a running track, and with his trainer, "Timmie" de Forest, manager of the National Athletic Club, New York, took several turns over the two-mile stretch twice a day.

Longboat claims the salt air gave him great strength, and believes the boardwalk has advantages as a training course not obtained in going over the roads. The Indian runner was an object of great curiosity to the Asbury Park promenaders, many of whom have come to know him personally and found him of congenial disposition.

Longboat is supremely happy now that his bride of a month came to remain with her husband during his training course, and has decided to buy a home.

Longboat says the postponement of his race with Shrubb made the Englishman's defeat certain. Two days more of training will place him in the pink of condition, and he feels certain the world's record for the Marathon race will be broken Friday.

ATTELL AND DRISCOLL.

Champion Featherweight Makes Conditions on Which He Will Meet Englishman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Negotiations for a fight in New York between Abe Attell, the featherweight champion of America, and Jem Driscoll, the English champion, today narrowed down to a definite proposition from Attell that he will meet the Briton any time in March, before either the National Sporting Club or the Fairmont Club, both of whom have agreed to pay Attell 30 per cent. of the receipts. Attell's weight stipulation is 124 pounds. The champion tonight wired to a New York friend to select the club and make it final. Driscoll, it is understood, prefers the Fairmont, and if it is necessary, Attell will waive his preference for the National.

WISE TALKS

By the "Office Boy"

As our old friend Mrs. Wiggs would say, "You're not in such awful tough luck. Supposin' you had a hare lip?" The man who lies down and the man who lies up and down aventually stays down—the one won't deliver what is expected of him and the other can't. They both want to buy success at illegal rates. They're taking too much discount. There is just one easy road—the hard, straight way. The little offcuts—the smooth, twisting side paths only seem safe. They are not meant to be walked on. Ever since human folks began to reason, a certain percentage of misguided men have tried to get ahead by cutting over the quicksands. The card sharper cannot expect to retain both the cash and the confidence of the community. The cheat may buy a few minor luxuries, but he must forego the real necessities of life—peace, happiness and a clear conscience. The Old Man says: "The employe who is willing to steal for me is capable of stealing from me." If a salesman misrepresents an article in a Silverwood Store, it costs him his position. We have no misrepresentation, no price cutting and no discounts. Every article is priced in plain figures and your boy can buy goods at our stores just as satisfactorily as you can. Then the Old Man's guarantee goes in every package. It says: "If these goods do not fit or suit or wear as they should you are requested to return them and have them exchanged or your money refunded. Nathan C. Coghlan of San [illegible] co, who was elected with the [illegible] ment of the Union Labor pa[illegible] posed the Drew bill on the [illegible] that it was in conflict with th[illegible] Constitution; that it was ini[illegible] union labor, and that it was [illegible] vored by the national adminis[illegible] which he said was dealing with [illegible] icate problem and should be [illegible] left by the people of California.

Dramatically confronting Assemblyman Drew, he said: "If P[illegible] Roosevelt should suddenly thro[illegible] the doors of this Assembly o[illegible] and, laying his hand on your sh[illegible] should request for reason of sta[illegible] you withdraw this bill, you, Mr. [illegible] as a patriotic citizen of the [illegible] States would accede without [illegible] mur."

DREW FEARS ARMY.

This sally was received with [illegible] applause.

In reply, Mr. Drew, closing h[illegible] gument for the bill, declared t[illegible] had received a letter from the [illegible] dent, in which he stated that h[illegible] not opposed to the bill as it ha[illegible] amended.

In his opening address this m[illegible] Mr. Drew made the statement [illegible] there were already in California [illegible] Japanese, most of whom had be[illegible] to the Japanese army, who co[illegible] mobilized at a moment's notice [illegible] of hostilities.

Richard Meirose of Anaheim [illegible] had gathered statistics in opp[illegible] to the bill, declared there we[illegible] more than 25,000 Japanese in C[illegible] nia, and he quoted from a st[illegible] compiled by the Asiatic Exc[illegible] League to the effect that there [illegible] not more than seventy-five Ja[illegible] property owners in the State.

Mr. Meirose, who spoke for [illegible] Gillett, Speaker Stanton and l[illegible] in both branches of the Legisl[illegible] counseled delay in order to allo[illegible] State Labor Commissioner to t[illegible] census of the Japanese.

MORE BILLS TOMORROW.

Mr. Stanton introduced recent[illegible] the instance of the Governor, [illegible] appropriating $10,000 for such co[illegible] and as soon as the other anti-[illegible] nese measures are disposed of th[illegible] will be rushed to passage and [illegible] labor bureau will begin its task. [illegible] object is to obtain all the stat[illegible] possible, to be submitted in the [illegible] of a report at the next session.

Before adjournment tonight, As[illegible] blyman Johnson asked that his [illegible] be taken up the first thing in [illegible] morning, limiting debate to t[illegible] minutes on each side. This was a[illegible] ed by the House.

Mr. Drew, with the permissio[illegible] President Roosevelt, made publi[illegible] night the following letter:

"Washington (D. C.) Jan.
"My Dear Mr. Drew: I thank[illegible] for your frank and manly lette[illegible] enclose you a copy of a letter I [illegible] just sent to the Governor. Don't [illegible] think that you can reach the goa[illegible] which you are striving and yet [illegible] ply with Secretary Root's opinion [illegible] seems, to me you can. It would [illegible] pleasure to me to see you here if [illegible] were able to come to Washington
"Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT"

Mr. Drew said in part:

"I think I voice the sentiment [illegible] majority of the people of the S[illegible] when I say that conditions now [illegible] valling are deplorable. This is a [illegible] against the alien ownership [illegible] land in this State, not against the Japanese alone, and the Pr[illegible] dent himself informs me in [illegible] letter that I received today that h[illegible] not opposed to the bill as it has b[illegible] amended.

"We must keep Japanese out of [illegible] country and we must prevent [illegible] from owning land in California. [illegible] the government at Washington has [illegible] power to keep them away from [illegible] shores, but it is for the Legislature [illegible] say whether or not they shall [illegible] property here.

"It is as important for Califor[illegible] to do her part to protect the integr[illegible] of her soil as it is for the national g[illegible] ernment to preserve our racial int[illegible] rity.

"I touch upon the national phase [illegible] the question because President Roo[illegible] velt has asked us not to pass the [illegible] bills.

"I wish to dispel the idea that see[illegible] to have gained wide circulation t[illegible] my bill was the result of union-la[illegible] agitation. When I introduced it t[illegible] years ago, I had never heard of [illegible] Asiatic Exclusion League. It was [illegible] done for any special interest, but [illegible]

PUTS END TO REIGN OF LAND FRAUD SHARKS

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frauds and sharp practices in connection with the sale of State lands will cease if the Legislature passes a bill that was introduced in the Senate today by Thompson of Los Angeles county. It was framed by Atty.-Gen. Webb, with the assistance of Surveyor-General W. S. Kingsbury, and its purpose is to make impossible the tricks of land agents and attorneys, who in the past have fattened on the ignorance of the public and on revenues that should go to the State.

Two of those who will be hit hardest by the bill are Frederick A. Hyde and John A. Benson, land attorneys, who have been convicted and sentenced for fraud, and whose cases are now on appeal. Hyde was sentenced in the Federal Court in Washington, D. C., to serve a prison sentence of two years and to pay a fine of $10,000. Benson is also under sentence.

In some manner news leaked to Hyde that one of his chief sources of revenue in California is threatened by the bill, and he is coming to Sacramento on the jump to work against the measure.

Under the United States laws, the State of California is entitled to the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections in each township for school lands, except when such sections are mineral or swamp or overflowed lands, or are held under Mexican grants, or shall be included in permanent forest reserves. In all such cases, Congress permits the State to select in lieu of these sections similar areas of unappropriated United States lands.

State lands, if the ordinary purchaser were informed as to the method of securing it, may be had at $1.25 an acre, and no homesteading or other formalities attend its acquisition.

The right to select government lands is a valuable asset to the State, but at present and for many years past a small clique of land attorneys, including Benson and Hyde has been in control of the situation. Such attorneys have agents at the national capital who watch every move of the government with respect to forest reserves, and other matters affecting State lands. This information is transmitted to the attorneys at this end long in advance of the notice that comes to the general public or to State officials.

The land agents and attorneys in the past have made valuable use of their knowledge. Each citizen has the right to purchase 640 acres of State land. Many do not take advantage of this opportunity and sell the right to purchase to the land attorneys for a nominal sum. This right to purchase, it is charged, is sold by the attorneys to land seekers, who are obliged not only to pay the $1.25 an acre to the State, but to pay about $3 an acre in fees to the attorneys.

At the time of the creation of the Sierra Forest Reserve the State came into possession by exchange of about 20,000 acres of otherwise unappropriated government lands in different parts of the tState. On this deal alone the land agents are said to have cleaned up $60,000.

Scandals have arisen in the past because of "dummy" entries made through the connivance of land attorneys, and some prosecutions for fraud have resulted, though in a general way it is said the agents cannot be convicted of crime in persuading a citizen to sell his right to purchase State lands.

Under the bill introduced today the State will sell at public auction the "base" or the right to take up government land, that may be transferred to the State under the conditions named. This will give to the State the revenues that in the past have gone into the pockets of the sharpers, for if the latter can get $4.25 an acre for such lands it is believed that the State will realize at least that much at a public auction, duly advertised.

Such auction sales, the bill provides, shall be held quarterly, beginning April 1 of the present year, at the office of the State Surveyor-General in Sacramento.

Several special agents of the national government are in California now, digging up evidence with reference to possible frauds in the past. Some revelations are expected as a result of this investigation.

DREW BILL KILLED.

that he was "in favor of this" as opposed to "the Japanese menace to our institutions."

Nathan C. Coghlan of San Francisco, who was elected with the indorsement of the Union Labor party, opposed the Drew bill on the ground that it was in conflict with the State Constitution; that it was inimical to union labor, and that it was not favored by the national administration, which he said was dealing with a delicate problem and should be supported by the people of California.

Dramatically confronting Assemblyman Drew, he said: "If President Roosevelt should suddenly throw open the doors of this Assembly chamber and laying his hand on your shoulder, should request for reason of state that you withdraw this bill, you, Mr. Drew, as a patriotic citizen of the United States, would accede without a murmur."

DREW FEARS ARMY.

This sally was received with great applause.

In reply, Mr. Drew, closing his argument for the bill, declared that he had received a letter from the President, in which he stated that he was not opposed to the bill as it had been amended.

In his opening address this morning Mr. Drew made the statement that there were already in California 40,000 Japanese, most of whom had belonged to the Japanese army, who could be mobilized at a moment's notice in case of hostilities.

Richard Melrose of Anaheim, who had gathered statistics in opposition to the bill, declared there were not more than 25,000 Japanese in California, and he quoted from statistics compiled by the Asiatic Exclusion League to the effect that there were not more than seventy-five Japanese property owners in the State.

Mr. Melrose, who spoke for Gov. Gillett, Speaker Stanton and leaders in both branches of the Legislature, counseled delay in order to allow the State Labor Commissioner to take a census of the Japanese.

MORE BILLS TOMORROW.

Mr. Stanton introduced recently, at the instance of the Governor, a bill appropriating $10,000 for such canvass, and as soon as the other anti-Japanese measures are disposed of this bill will be rushed to passage and the labor bureau will begin its task. The object is to obtain all the statistics possible, to be submitted in the form of a report at the next session.

Before adjournment tonight, Assemblyman Johnson asked that his bill be taken up the first thing in the morning, limiting debate to thirty minutes on each side. This was granted by the House.

Mr. Drew, with the permission of President Roosevelt, made public tonight the following letter:

"Washington (D. C.) Jan. 27.

"My Dear Mr. Drew: I thank you for your frank and manly letter. I enclose you a copy of a letter I have just sent to the Governor. Don't you think that you can reach the goal for which you are striving and yet comply with Secretary Root's opinion? It seems to me you can. It would be a pleasure to me to see you here if you were able to come to Washington.

"Sincerely yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Mr. Drew said in part:

"I think I voice the sentiment of a majority of the people of the State when I say that conditions now prevailing are deplorable. This is a law against the alien ownership of land in this State, not against the Japanese alone, and the President himself informs me in a letter that I received today that he is not opposed to the bill as it has been amended.

"We must keep Japanese out of this country and we must prevent them from owning land in California. Only the government at Washington has the power to keep them away from our shores, but it is for the Legislature to say whether or not they shall own property here.

"It is as important for California to do her part to protect the integrity of her soil as it is for the national government to preserve our racial integrity.

"I touch upon the national phase of the question because President Roosevelt has asked us not to pass these bills.

"I wish to dispel the idea that seems to have gained wide circulation that the bill was the result of union-labor agitation. When I introduced it two years ago, I had never heard of the Asiatic Exclusion League. It was not done for any special interest, but for the good of all the people of the State."

QUOTES FROM LETTERS.

Mr. Drew quoted from letters received from Hawaii and Canada showing the large increase in the number of Japanese there, and continued:

"Who is opposing this measure in California? First are the commercial interests including the Chamber of Commerce of our two largest cities, San Francisco and Los Angeles? Some of those interests are large employers of Japanese labor.

"In case the necessity arose," he said, "Japan could raise in California, an army of 40,000 of her own subjects, most of whom have served in the army."

After quoting many figures on the influx of the yellow races into this country, Mr. Drew concluded:

"The Japanese are better off where they are. They should be permitted to come here to take advantage of our educational institutions and to profit by our civilization but we do not want foreign absentee land ownership.

"This is a question of self-preservation. The line must be drawn somewhere and if we do not draw it now those who come after us will have to do it."

MELROSE IN OPPOSITION.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Drew received considerable applause from the crowded galleries and from his colleagues on the floor.

Shortly before noon Richard L. Melrose began his address in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Melrose said he did not think it possible that there were 25,000 Japanese in the State and he advised that the Governor's suggestion to give the Labor Commissioner power to take a census should be acted upon before passing of the bills. He also said statistics compiled by the Asiatic Exclusion League showed that there were not more than seventy-five Japanese land owners in California.

"As to Japanese labor," he continued, "some of you on this floor who own vineyards know how necessary it is at times to employ Japanese to harvest your crops. The farmers of this country cannot get along without other than white labor and so long as the Japanese do not come here in overwhelming numbers I cannot see where the danger to California lies."

MILLIONS INVESTED.

The speaker then took up the general question of barring aliens and declared that foreigners had invested many millions of capital in the State that would be withdrawn if the bills were enacted into laws.

In San Francisco, he said, about $100,000,000 of foreign money was invested and the prosperity of Los Angeles was largely due to aliens.

Thirty per cent. of the citrus fruit industry of Riverside was controlled by them, he declared.

"When you swat the little Japanese who doesn't amount to a hill of beans you also swat every other nationality on the face of the globe. Is it wise for you to do that?" he asked.

Mr. Melrose declared it was not true, as Mr. Drew had stated, that the President had withdrawn his objection to the bill. He explained that the Federal government could have no objection to any law that did not violate treaty rights, but that did not mean that President Roosevelt indorsed the measure under discussion.

LAWS OF JAPAN.

The speaker read from correspondence between the Governor and the Japanese Consul giving a synopsis of the laws of Japan relating to aliens. These laws, he said, permitted alien corporations to lease lands for indefinite periods and invited foreigners to invest their money in the islands.

If the Drew bill became a law, no aliens could lease agricultural lands for longer periods than two years and city property for longer periods than one year. This would effectually bar alien corporations from investment of large sums of money.

John R. Cronin of Solano said: "Mr. Melrose says there is nothing pressing about this matter of putting the Japanese out. In my county the Asiatics own some of the finest land in the richest valleys, and I believe some such action as proposed by Mr. Drew should be taken at once."

OTHER SPEAKERS.

W. B. Griffith of Napa, P. F. Cogswell of Los Angeles and T. D. Johnson of Contra Costa, followed with arguments against the bill.

Louis W. Juilliard of Sonoma, floor leader of the minority, said the Democrats would vote for all measures designed to discourage Asiatic immigration to this country.

C. C. Young of Alameda said the Japanese government realized that in order to retain its present advantageous trade arrangements with America, it would have to restrict immigration of coolies. If it were not for this understanding, he said, the Pacific Coast would be flooded with Japanese and the enactment of the bills under consideration would imperil the white labor of the State as, well as its commerce.

Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento, author of the measures segregating Japanese in schools and residential districts, made a vigorous speech in favor of the Drew bill. He said, in part:

"Every party man in this Assembly, and that means all, is bound by his party platform to vote for the exclusion of all Asiatics.

VIGOROUS LANGUAGE.

"Now I am in favor of this bill, not because it affects Japanese, but because I believe every country has the right to own its own land.

"Foreign capital takes too much money out of this country. Mr. Melrose said that Los Angeles owed its prosperity largely to alien capital. But there are other sections of the States, where the crops come from the ground and not from foreign tourists.

"I would rather that every foot of land in the State should go back to its native wilderness than that the accursed foot of the Asiatic should be set upon it to menace our institutions.

"Two years ago, when we attempted to pass the segregation bill, the President sent a frantic request for delay. We were told that if we put the matter off for two years more the national authorities would settle the whole matter by diplomatic negotiations. We believed, and we were fooled.

"Now, I am in favor of the white man."

HOW THE VOTE STOOD.

Mr. Drew, in closing, reiterated the President was not against his bill as amended.

"Now is the time to enact anti-Japanese laws. Japan is in no position to strike back. She cannot borrow more money. Don't let us wait until there are 200,000 Japanese on this coast, who will own 72 per cent. of the land, as they do in Hawaii."

Roll call on the passage of Drew's bill resulted as follows:

WOULD HELP GUN CLUBS.

ARTESIAN WATER BILL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An amendment to the law affecting the use of water from artesian wells was introduced in the lower House today by Assemblyman Leeds of Los Angeles. It brings up memories of the old fight between ranchers and gun clubs of Orange county and probably will set off the same fireworks that were exploded at the last session of the Legislature.

The Leeds amendment provides that artesian water may be used also for the protection of game, the present bill only allowing its use for domestic purposes, irrigation and the protection of fish. Thus fish ponds now may be supplied with water from such sources. Under the amendment gun clubs would be permitted to do by law what they now do without legal right—flood their duck ponds.

While the law stipulates the uses to which artesian water may be put it provides also against waste of the water, compelling users to cap wells and fixing a penalty for waste of more than 10 per cent. of the water.

It is asserted that there is an enormous waste of water in Orange county and the grand jury recently reported that the gun clubs were violating the law in filling their duck ponds. Prosecutions are threatened by the District Attorney of the county. On the part of the gun clubs, however, it is stated that they permit of no waste of water, while on the other hand it is declared that ranchers are very careless. Because the ranchers cannot come in with a clean bill of health, prosecutions of the gun club officers are said to be held up.

FAVOR WILLIS BILL.

COUNTY DIVISION DIFFICULT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After making only a few minor amendments the Senate and Assembly Committee on County Government in joint session decided today to report back favorably the Willis bill, under which county division will be extremely more difficult than through the agency of the present Broughton law.

The principal change made in the bill as proposed was in providing that the population of no new county shall be less than 10,000 and that division shall not reduce any existing county to a population of less than 20,000.

No change was made in the provision that a petition for an election for division shall contain the names of 65 per cent. of the qualified voters of the territory that may propose to organize a new county and 50 per cent. of the qualified electors of the entire county or counties that may be effected by division. This same proportion holds as to an election that may be called and, as Senator Willis stated at the meeting today, it will be evident upon circulation of the petition whether or not enough votes can be secured to carry an election.

Assemblyman Cogswell of El Monte, whose district includes divisionists and opponents thereof, asked that the Broughton law remain as it is, saying both sides are satisfied with it, but the majority of the joint committee favor the Willis bill, which apparently sounds the death knell of county division except in cases where public opinion in all the territory affected is practically unanimous for it.

FINAL VOTE TODAY.

ANTI-GAMBLING BILL UP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—The final vote on the Walker-Otis Anti-race-track Bill will be taken in the Senate tomorrow morning, having been made a special order by that body. Consideration of the measure was to have been had today with a view of finally disposing of it, but Senator Walker who introduced the bill, agreed to wait another twenty-four hours.

The opponents of the bill will continue to fight its passage to the end, but it is conceded on all sides that their efforts will be fruitless and that the bill will pass by a vote of at least 4 to 1. Either Senator Wolfe or Leavitt will probably then move for its reconsideration, but beyond possibly delaying the ultimate passage of the measure for a day or two, such a course will not, it is believed, prevent the bill from going to the Governor for his signature.

BOOM FOR HERVEY.

LING ALSO AFTER WOOLSACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A boom was given today by the Los Angeles delegation to the campaign of William Rhodes Hervey of Los Angeles for appointment to one of the three places on the Superior bench for that county, to be filled soon by Gov. Gillett. Hervey is well known to the southern delegation and by no means is a stranger to the Governor. It is stated that he is one of the most promising of all the candidates who have come into the race.

R. A. Ling, former Police Commissioner in Los Angeles, came bustling up to Sacramento today to boost his campaign for appointment to one of the three places. Ling is said to have some excellent letters of recommendation from prominent men of his home city, and a horde of other candidates have placed similar letters in the hands of the Governor.

It is a safe guess that the Governor will not make any selections until he can inquire carefully into the capabilities and records of all who apply.

Mrs. Sidney M. Colgate, a wealthy woman of Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Edward Olds of New York, were severely injured in an automobile collision on the Meadow Road, near Kearny, N. J., yesterday afternoon.

CHILD SAVED

By Simple Change to Right Food.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as the selection of food which will bring it around again.

"The Doctor, and I also," writes an Ills. woman, "consider that we owe the life of my little four year old niece, to Grape-Nuts food.

"From the time of her birth her stomach was so weak she could not digest milk or any food we could think of, although we tried about all the Infant Foods known. The doctor gave me no hope—called the trouble intestinal consumption.

"At 18 months the child could barely sit alone, her body was so weak, and her brain did not seem to be properly developed.

"One day, having some trouble with my stomach, I brought home a package of Grape-Nuts and started to use it. The thought came to me that a very little of the food made soft in some cream might be good for the little one.

"I gave her some Grape-Nuts thus prepared and she soon became so fond of it that she would reach out her little thin hands and cry at the sight of a saucer with a spoon in it.

"She ate Grape-Nuts not only in the morning, but at night also and since the first has never missed a day. She is now at four years, a strong, healthy child with a good straight back, fine bones, and firm muscles. Her mind is bright also.

"We stopped all medicine, so we know that it was Grape-Nuts and not medicines that saved her."

MISTAKE.

ARRESTED AS DRUNK; FRACTURE OF SKULL.

AFTER being confined in the tanks at Central Police Station for an hour last night, on the charge of drunkenness, and after he had fallen unconscious on the floor and was removed to the Receiving Hospital, it was discovered by police surgeons that Henry R. Hathaway, a guest of the Hotel Harmony, No. 655 South Olive street, was suffering from a basal fracture of the skull. His condition is precarious.

It developed that Hathaway was run down about 8 o'clock at Seventh and Olive streets by a hansom cab from the Westlake Stables, driven by E. A. Hough. Eye witnesses declare that Hathaway attempted to dodge the vehicle, but became confused and stepped in front of the horses. He was sent into Central Police Station by the patrol wagon and taken into the Receiving Hospital, where his condition was diagnosed as that of intoxication and he was sent to the tanks.

It was about an hour later when Hathaway collapsed and he was again taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Garrett discovered the injury to the skull. Hathaway, about whom little is known at the Hotel Harmony, is about 65 years of age, which is against his chance of recovery. There was nothing on his person to indicate where he came from or if he is a man of family.

WASHINGTON KILLS RACE-TRACK GAMBLING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The death knell of horse racing in the State of Washington was sounded today when the Senate unanimously passed the Hanson Anti-Race-track Gambling Bill.

Gov. Cosgrove, who is now in California, spoke in favor of the bill before he left Olympia and was sorry he could not get a chance to sign it. Acting Gov. Hay is a strong anti-race-track man and there is not the slightest chance that he will refuse to sign.

An attempt to make the bill effective May 1 was defeated. But the law will become operative on June 15. Under its provisions, pool selling, bookmaking or conducting places where bets are made on horse races constitute a felony. Possession of gambling paraphernalia is prima facie evidence of a violation of the act.

There is a rumor of an effort to bring horses here from California for a meet from May 12 to the time the law takes effect, but those in a position to know say they have not heard of it. It was this rumor that made the anti-racing men try to work in an emergency clause.

From the time the Legislature convened there has been no hope of preventing the passage of the bill, but it was doped by the racing enthusiasts that the Meadows would be permitted to run this coming summer, when the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition was open. The reformers, however, were in the saddle and would not listen to any talk of a compromise. Ole Hanson, father of the bill, was quite prominent at the track last summer. Among the sporting fraternity he is now thoroughly detested.

HUNDREDS ATTEND BIG MEETING IN THE RAISIN CITY.

The Educational and Co-operative Union of America Will Organize in California as Soon as the Necessary Number of Members Are Secured in the State.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] More than 1200 farmers from every section of the San Joaquin Valley were in this city today in attendance on the State mass meeting of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America. Contrary to expectations, it was impossible to form a State organization at this meeting, because the national organization requires that a State have 5000 male members before it can organize.

The California membership at the present time is slightly in excess of 3000. This fact did not check the enthusiasm of the meeting, however, and over 300 new members were taken in. A Fresno local was organized with about 200 members.

Upon their arrival in this city, the visiting farmers, 500 strong, formed a procession at the Southern Pacific station and marched in a body to the Barton Operahouse, headed by H. H. Welsh, State organizer of Mississippi.

The meeting at the operahouse was called to order at 10:20 o'clock this morning, with John S. Dore presiding. H. H. Welsh in a lengthy address gave an outline of the National Union.

The union at the present time numbers over 2,000,000 members and has about 5000 warehouses. The object of the union, the speaker declared, was not only to guarantee a standard price for products, but to do away with the middleman in disposing of products of all kinds.

At the afternoon session, R. K. Madsen, who is seeking the power of attorney to dispose of the raisin crop, spoke for a few minutes on behalf of his plan and secured a large number of signatures. The members took no formal action, however.

LOSES WATCH AND MONEY.

Robbers Hold up Motorman and Escape in Spite of Hunt by Police.

E. M. Cole, a motorman on the Los Angeles Railway, residing at No. 1356 Palm street, while walking to his home early this morning, was held up by two highwaymen at the corner of Palm and Fourteenth streets and robbed of a gold watch and $4 in money.

While one of the hold-ups covered Cole with a revolver the other searched him. Then both ran west on Fourteenth street and successfully eluded motorcycle policemen, who were sent to the scene as soon as Cole could telephone Central Station.

Cole describes both men as large, dressed in dark clothes and not wearing masks, though on account of the darkness he did not get a good view of their features.

WOMEN DON'T SCREAM.

Two women and a man who, through circumstances, became amateur detectives last night, caused the arrest of Jack Berry, a negro, on the charge of attempted burglary. The women are Mrs. L. J. Christensen and her daughter, and the man Frank M. Cook, all of No. 519 East Tenth street. About 10 o'clock the two women were attracted by noises at the window of the Cook apartments and on investigation discovered the negro attempting to force an entrance. Quickly they notified Mr. Cook, who watched the negro until he gave up his attempt to raise the latched window. Then Cook followed the man down the street several blocks, until he met Patrolman Weiss, whom he told of the attempted robbery. Berry's arrest followed.

FRANCISCO DE NEVARRO DEAD.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jose Francisco de Navarro, father-in-law of Mary Anderson, Lufider of the first elevated railroad in this city and also of the first American iron sea-going steamship, died today, aged 86 years, at his home, No. 13 West Forty-sixth street. Born at San Sebastian, and educated for the navy at royal expense, young Navarro threw up his commission and sailed for Havana, where he taught for a while in the university and later organized there the firm of Casanova and Navarro. In 1865 he settled in New York and established a steamship line to Brazil, building the first ship.

SHERIFF ENDS LONG MAN-HUNT.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 3.—John Paine, who has been a fugitive from justice for the past six months, was landed in the County Jail, this morning, by Sheriff Ralphs of Tucson, Ariz., having been arrested at Benson, where he was employed as a painter by a railroad company.

Fight at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With Young Corbett in his corner tonight Young Ziringer of Pittsburgh made a creditable showing against Danny Dunn of New York in a six-round bout at Duquesne Garden. In fact, in the fourth and fifth round the Pittsburgher had the New Yorker lad in distress but Dunn gave an exhibition of good defensive fighting in these two rounds and finished strong in the sixth.

Lang Beats Squires.

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Feb. 3.—Bill Lang defeated Bill Squires today for the heavyweight championship of Australia. The contest lasted seventeen rounds. Lang was defeated by Burns in Melbourne last September.

Lander and Cove Draw.

Stomach Gases and Torpid Livers

A Trial Package Sent Free.

The foul gases of the stomach and the torpid action of the liver are easy victims for charcoal to overcome.

This great natural cleaner and absorbent will most certainly be relished by a system afflicted with gaseous or sluggish tendencies.

Charcoal has long been known as a great absorbent of gas. A panful of charcoal will positively purify a room filled with foul odors and decay. Its absorbing ratio is one hundred times greater than its own volume.

The ancients gave charcoal for many human ills successfully. The North American Indians used it for snake bite, poison from eating wild herbs and cured what they called "stomach bad medicine" with it.

Willow charcoal seems to be the best product for human use, and no doubt the peculiar curative property of the willow is represented in a chemical quality in its charcoal.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are pure willow and sweet honey blended by tremendous power and compression into a very palatable lozenge. Two or three lozenges eaten after meals will prevent the process of digestion from producing noxious gases. They will vivify a lazy liver and aid every organ which is most likely to be overcome through its coffiact with impurities.

They cleanse the stomach and intestines, bring purity and sweetness out of fermentation and decay and aid digestion by allaying gas. They will aid you and your stomach. The beneficial effects are made evident after each meal when you use charcoal as Stuart prepares it. To allay gas at night they are excellent and one arises in the morning without that terrible nauseating bad breath which destroys appetite and renders one miserable.

All druggists sell Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price twenty-five cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR FOR "THE TIMES."

Great Gain in Advertising---Look at the Top and the Bottom of the List!

The publicity people have voted again. The official returns for January, the first month of the New Year, are in. They show that The Times gained 765 columns of advertising for the month over January, 1908. The Big Times is of course at the top of the list—and the toy Express is of course at the bottom, showing a gain of only 140 columns.

Following are the figures for Los Angeles newspapers for January, 1909, compared with the same month of 1908, showing gains as indicated:

	Jan., 1908 Columns	Jan., 1909 Columns	Gain Columns
The Times	4038	4803	765
Herald	684	1016	332
Examiner	2400	2704	304
Express	1493	1633	140

Note that the gain of The Times exceeds the combined gains of all the other Los Angeles newspapers.

The Express had the smallest gain. Tail-ender as usual.

The gain of The Times is five and one-half times as large as that of the Express, and twice as large as that of either the Herald or Examiner.

LOOK AGAIN AT THE TOP—NOTE THE LOSS OF THE EXPRESS—NOTE WHO IS ELECTED.

The figures given below compare January with December advertising, and show a gain for The Times of 452 columns for the month—for January over December.

Every other paper in Los Angeles shows a loss for January compared with December—210 columns loss for the Examiner, 191 COLUMNS LOSS FOR THE EXPRESS, 129 columns loss for the Herald, 107 columns loss for the Record. Here are the statistics:

	Dec., 1908 Columns	Jan., 1909 Columns	Gain Columns	Loss Columns
The Times	4351	4803	452	...
Herald	1145	1016	...	129
Examiner	2914	2704	...	210
Express	1824	1633	...	191
Record	839	732	...	107

Note the difference:

452 columns gain for The Times. Boom!

191 columns loss for the Express. Thud!

tle, but 300 are still on the island and in danger.

WATER IN HOUSES.

COOK IN RUBBER BOOTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

COTTONWOOD, Shasta County, Feb. 3.—The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has a force of forty men fighting desperately to save the 400-foot fill between its bridges here. The flood has cut away thirty feet of the banks protecting the fill, and only eight feet remain to be washed out before the fill will go. Little or no headway was made by the men during the night. The water is a foot deep in all the houses on the Rancho Rio Alto, and the cook for the workers wore gum boots in the kitchen this morning while preparing their breakfast.

The Battle Creek bridge at Balls Ferry has been carried away. Driftwood shifted the current of the stream and undermined the piers. The Balls Ferry bridge across the Sacramento is in great danger.

ARROYO GRANDE SAFE.

FEAR ANOTHER STORM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ARROYO GRANDE, Feb. 3.—A heavy rain fell last night but no damage is reported. The weather is clear today. The creeks are still high. Feed is plentiful and stock is doing well but another heavy storm would be disastrous.

CLEAR AT STOCKTON.

NO APPREHENSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 3.—Another heavy storm visited this locality last night, when .61 inch of rain fell. Clear weather followed today and there are indications that it is to continue. The storm has caused no apprehension of high water.

ICE GORGE THREATENS.

SIXTY FEET HIGH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Farmers living along the bank of Crooked River, below Stewart's, Or., are alarmed at the huge ice gorge in the river that threatens to go out, sweeping away the houses along the river. The ice gorge is about three miles long and in places sixty feet high, stretching from one wall of the cañon to the other and is almost a solid mass of ice. The gorge was formed during the severe cold and it will probably take two months or more of the warm weather to melt it. People living along the river fear that if the jam should break loose they would be swept down the river.

TOWNS UNDER WATER.

STORM IS TERRIFIC.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3.—Following fast on the end of the most terrific storm ever recorded in the upper end of the valley, the rivers and streams made record marks today, and considerable damage has resulted from washouts to bridges, railway tracks and levees.

Tehama and Vina, in Tehama county, are under water, and most of the residents have fled to high ground. The flood crest is now on the lower stretches of the river and will reach this city tomorrow, but will do no damage. It was reported tonight that the swell in the Sacramento is rapidly broadening out and the river is falling at all points above Tehama.

The storm is broken, but in the Sacramento Cañon several landslides are reported, and traffic to Portland from this city is now going by way of Ogden and over the Oregon Short Line. It will be two or three days before the extent of the damage can be estimated.

BRIDGES ARE DOWN.

SACRAMENTO RIVER WILD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RED BLUFF, Feb. 3.—The highest point ever recorded by the Sacramento River at this place was reached at 10 o'clock tonight, when the stream showed a depth of thirty feet, six inches, two feet higher than it had ever risen before. The low-lying portions of the town are flooded. Bridges are down in all directions and railroad traffic is suspended between Red Bluff and Redding.

Along the roads and railroads, the carcasses of cattle and horses, cut off by the flood and drowned, are frequent sights. Several families were rescued by means of boats when their homes were surrounded by the flood, but no lives have been lost, so far as is known.

Late tonight the water is receding and has fallen over a foot.

Looking over the town from Duncan Hill, the flood afforded a great sight. The waters of the river spread over the banks in all directions, and a dozen streams cut channels through the streets and the lumber yards. At the yard of the Diamond Match Company the river was more than a mile wide, and it is estimated that half a million feet of lumber, besides fences and flumes, has been swept away. Great damage was done to the factory, where the boiler rooms were flooded.

When the flood waters reached the company's stables the horses were cut loose, and a few of them swam to shore. Most of the animals refused to make the attempt, however, and were towed to dry ground by a boat.

The houses of the Vandyke and De Shida families, south of town, were surrounded by water early in the day, and the inmates were taken out in boats, as the water was too deep to allow them to wade ashore.

As the water continued to rise the struggle to save the bridge east of the match works was abandoned, and the new wooden structure was swept away.

Only one train passed between this place and Redding today. Division Superintendent Sheridan of the Southern Pacific, who came over in his private car, was unable to return tonight.

OVERRULED.

DESPITE VETO BILL PASSES.

TENNESSEE SENATE ENACTS AN ANTI-LIQUOR LAW.

Measure Forbids Manufacture of Intoxicants in State—Governor in Message Denounces It as Ruthless Establishing Dangerous Precedent and Discriminatory.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Feb. 3.—Gov. Patterson today vetoed the bill prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors after January 1, 1910. The bill was passed over the Governor's veto by the Senate this afternoon, by a vote of 20 to 12.

The veto message says:

"If this Legislature shall destroy all the distilleries and breweries, why cannot the next forbid the raising or selling of the grains or cultivation of the grape, out of which liquors are made?

"Shall this or some future Legislature prevent the farmer from raising or selling tobacco, or the manufacture or the placing of it on the market?

"If we are thus started, where shall we end? It is better not to make this start.

"I veto this measure.

"First—Because its ruthlessness deprives the State of revenue, without any sort of corresponding benefit.

"Second—It discriminates against our own people in favor of the people of other States.

"Third—It destroys the property of the citizen without compensation.

"Fourth—It makes a dangerous precedent, humiliates Tennessee, and lowers the dignity it has occupied as one of the proudest States of the Union.

"Fifth—It violates the will of the people twice expressed at the ballot box, offends their sense of justice, and, under the plea of civic righteousness, sacrifices a great moral principle of government at the very altar where it should be guarded and defended."

At Devil's Lake, N. D., the trial began yesterday of Mrs. Mary Wright, charged with the murder of Beulah Wright, aged 16 years. The State alleges that Mrs. Wright strangled the girl and then smeared carbolic acid on her lips.

FUNDLESS.

RIPPLES FOLLOW LURID SPLASH.

ACCOUNTANT DISAPPEARS AND LEAVES CHECKS.

Wife Also Gives up Hope of Husband's Return and Goes Back to Parents—High Life Ends in Worthless Paper and Issuing of Warrant of Arrest.

After a lurid splash of high living, which lasted a few weeks only, T. B. Farrin, an accountant at Bullock's department store, has disappeared, leaving in his wake a host of bad checks, bad bills and a deserted wife.

At the Van Nuys Hotel there is one check for $100, which has been returned from the bank marked "no funds," and another for $150, which is similarly marked. At the Hayward Hotel there is a check for $30, which is worthless. At the Lankershim a similar check is held. A friend of Farrin, who lives at the Melrose apartments, holds a check for $50, which is worthless, and the Broadway Department Store has a small check signed by Farrin.

Yesterday morning Manager T. L. Potter of the Van Nuys swore out a warrant for Farrin's arrest, and an attempt was made to locate the young man. He was seen in the city as late as Tuesday afternoon, but after that time no trace of him can be found.

Detectives were rushed to Redondo yesterday, on a rumor that Farrin was leaving for the North by boat. Hotel clerks went on watch at the Salt Lake depot yesterday morning, owing to a report that Farrin was about to leave for the East. Both quests were fruitless, and up to last night no word had been received of the young man's whereabouts.

Farrin secured rooms at the Van Nuys several weeks ago and was accompanied by his wife. He seemed to have plenty of funds, and was living at a fast rate. He won the confidence of the clerks at the hotel by cashing small checks, which were honored without comment. Mrs. Farrin led a very quiet life, and did not seem to know of her husband's fast living.

Monday morning he presented a check for $100, which he asked to have cashed, as he was temporarily out of funds. It was honored without question. Waiting until the clerks at the hotel had changed watches, he approached the new clerk on duty and asked to have a check for $150 cashed. This was also done. Tuesday morning the first check was returned marked "no funds." Farrin had not been in his rooms since the first check had been cashed. Mrs. Farrin, in answer to questions, said that she did not know where her husband was, but that she expected him to return at any moment.

Tuesday evening he had not returned and the police were notified. Yesterday a search of the city was made for the young man and it was found that he had spent Tuesday at the Lankershim Hotel, where he had had another worthless check cashed. A further canvass of the hotels unearthed a bad check at the Hayward.

Wednesday Mrs. Farrin told the Van Nuys management that she believed that she had been deserted by her husband and that she had telegraphed to her home in Indiana for money to come home and also enough to defray her hotel bill. Yesterday this money was received by telegraph and Mrs. Farrin left over the Salt Lake for her home. It was expected that Farrin might attempt to join his wife on the train, but detectives, who were at the station, and who remained on the train as far as Riverside, said that he had failed to show up.

Statements made by the management at Bullock's show that Farrin's accounts were in good condition.

MRS. DUNPHY ACQUITTED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Martha Maybelle Dunphy, wife of Dr. John W. Dunphy, a physician of Boston, was acquitted today by a jury of the charge of having stolen $8000 worth of jewelry and securities from Charles E. Giles, of Dorchester, Mass., a money lender.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Flour advanced as much as 20 cents on a number of grades yesterday morning. This is due to the high prices prevailing in wheat in the eastern markets, and the fact that the price has gone higher in California, Oregon and Washington, from which territory the local millers receive a large amount of their grain for milling purposes. First grade wheat has gone to $1.65 per 100 pounds. Other grades of grain made similar advances. Other grain and flours have been fluctuating. Rye and graham flours are both down 5 cents on the hundred owing to the decreased demand and the fact that rye is being unloaded as rapidly as possible with the bright outlook for the crop this coming year.

Eggs advanced yesterday morning as anticipated. The receipts by express were reported as 58 cases. As these are the only ones available, prices were forced to go up in order to stop the call for them. Case counts advanced 2 cents from 27 cents to 29 cents, while the jobbing of the same eggs was done at 30. Candled were held from 41 to 42 cents. Just a few cases of eastern eggs were reported by express and the market on them was up a cent.

Butter was very firm but unchanged in prices. Arrivals were light, only 14,316 pounds. Local cheese has not been selling as rapidly as it should and as a consequence stocks have gone down. Anchor cheese is selling at 20¼ while Young American is selling a cent higher. Imported Gruyere cheese on the other hand was very firm and gives an upward range of a cent.

Vegetables were the chief topic of the street yesterday morning. Producers of that State are availing themselves of the high prices here and are shipping a very large quantity of them. These cars were sold yesterday morning at 1.50. The price on the Idaho spuds is lower than that called for by Highlands.

Onions were quite as firm as yesterday. They sold yesterday at $1.25 in large quantities against the quotations held by most dealers, $1.50. Arrivals were moderate. Beans were in little call. Sweet potatoes remain unaltered in value.

New York Coffee Market.

...BOSTON, Feb. 3.—There was a decidedly better feeling today in the copper stock market, with the vitality of the belief in further important deals in the railroad world. The rumors of that kind that were most effective, dealt with the Gould group, the market action of several stocks in that group giving credence to them. These concerned themselves mainly with a revival of stories of E. H. Harriman's plans toward this system, which were active following the announcement of financial support accorded by Mr. Harriman in the disentanglement of Wabash finances last year.

Today's reports pointed more directly to Missouri Pacific and to alleged further financing for that company to be undertaken by Harriman bankers. These reports were without authoritative confirmation, but the comprehensive price movement in the Gould securities gave them influence.

The annual sailing of J. P. Morgan for his foreign vacation tour had some effect of repression on speculation, as usual.

The attention given to Japanese legislation by Pacific Coast states is not ignored in speculative circles, although the apparent restraint of the national government on the subject is of reassuring effect.

Call loans late yesterday and today exceeded the recent 2 per cent. maximum and time loans were quotably firmer. Foreign exchange rates eased with the hardening of the money market.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $6,384,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Urges Breakwater Extension.

Through its Harbor Committee, the Chamber of Commerce yesterday sent telegrams to the California Congressional delegation urging the extension of the San Pedro breakwater to the shore.

Father Emmanuel Coming.

Dr. Elwood Worcester of Boston, the great exponent of the Emmanuel movement, will arrive in Los Angeles Saturday, and will speak at St. John's Church Sunday morning. He will make no other addresses while here.

Burned by Gas Explosion.

Albert Flicker, proprietor of a hat-cleaning store at No. 328 South Spring street, was painfully burned yesterday morning by the explosion of gas from a hat-shaping machine. The jet in the machine had become choked, and as Flicker tried to light it, the accumulated gas exploded, burning him on the face, arms and hands. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Landslide on Trolley Line.

One Car, Four Rails.

A curious accident blocked traffic on the Eagle Rock car line early yesterday morning. A number of flat cars loaded with gravel for a fill on the new Glendale line was on the way north when the rear trucks of the last car failed to take the switch at the car barns. The result was a broken truck and a car full of dirt across two tracks. A wrecker was sent for, but it was nearly three hours before the line was cleared.

Boy Disappears from Ranch.

L. D. Drake of San Gabriel, guardian of fifteen-year-old Henry Wells, yesterday reported the boy's disappearance from a ranch near Fruitvale. The Wells boy left Sunday night without bidding the members of the Lake family, with whom he was boarding, farewell. He had $4. He wore a soft hat, a black soft shirt, soiled blue overalls and was barefoot. He has light brown hair and eyes, is rather small for his age, and of medium build.

Palmer Wins Admiralty Case.

The case of James H. Palmer against the owners of the bark Alden Besse was concluded in the United States District Court yesterday, and a preliminary finding made for the plaintiffs. The amount to be recovered will be decided later by the court. Mrs. Palmer will also receive an allowance for services as cook. The plaintiff sued to recover about $720 for wages claimed to be due him, while he was in charge of the vessel. The defendant probably will appeal.

Delicate Operation Saves Life.

Louis Haller, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Haller of Hollywood, upon whom eight surgeons operated Monday at the Sisters Hospital, removing a large blood clot from his brain, recovered consciousness last evening. Drs. Pallette and Lasher now believe the lad will recover and will suffer no ill after effects, except the loss of the portion of skull which was removed to allow of the operation on the brain. Young Haller was hurt by being accidentally struck by a baseball.

Remains of Fisherman Who Drowned in San Pedro Harbor Found Under Wharf.

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 3.—The body of Harry Bleeker, an old fisherman, and mate of the fishing sloop Alpha, who was drowned in the inner harbor January 22, was recovered today under the wharf of the California Fish Company at East San Pedro. On the night of his death Bleeker was crossing to the east side in company with Duncan Baxter in a small boat. An oar was lost and in atempting to recover it, Bleeker fell overboard and quickly sank, being weighted with heavy rubber boots and raincoat. An inquest was held this afternoon and a verdict of death from accidental drowning was rendered.

An inquest was held this afternoon upon the body of George Tievros, a Greek, who died Sunday night in the City Jail following a street fight with Neek Dekes, a fellow countryman. The jury returned a verdict of death from a blow believed to have been dealt by Neek Dekes. The testimony before the jury showed that Tievros was the aggressor in the fight. No complaint has as yet been filed against Dekes.

153 USED PIANOS

The Most Distinguished Collection Ever Presented in Our February Clearance

Every one of these pianos comes to us from some one who valued it highly; but, having prospered, purchased from us another instrument—a Steinway grand or a player piano. This brings us a high class of pianos, which we can sell at low prices, because of the convenience of removal of the old piano, and the fairness of the prices of our new instruments. These exchanges come in such numbers that we cannot house the pianos without inconvenience and it is our purpose to close them out at a mere fraction of their real worth.

$4, $5, $6 OR MORE Per Month

This is the finest collection of pianos ever offered in an under-price sale. Included are fine Steinway, Chickering, Sohmer, Kranich & Bach and many other famous makes. Our factory experts overhaul every instrument in the most thorough manner, making many of them as good as new before they go into the sale, and finishing every case in such perfect manner that the purchaser's friends would never suspect that the piano was not new.

The first announcement of this sale was made on Tuesday. We have sold some of the instruments listed below, and many that are not mentioned in this advertisement. We advise you to come early for these remarkable values.

Amendment No. 30, providing compensation for members of city commissions, defeated by a vote of 6872 yes to 7142 no.

TEN TO TWENTY-ONE.

Ten amendments to the City Charter of Los Angeles carried at the election and twenty-one amendments were defeated, according to the official footing made by the City Clerk last night.

The returns from all the precincts were not in till yesterday afternoon. Some of the precincts did not complete the count until forenoon, and the officers went to bed without bringing the returns to the Clerk until late in the day.

The largest vote cast was in Precinct No. 4, where 470 ballots were counted. Exceptions in one precinct, where the vote on Amendment No. 30 was omitted, the report was complete.

COUNCIL MEETING.

On a call from President Pease and Councilman Dromgold the Council met at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to canvass the returns, but only five members appeared. Councilman Wallace, who is ill, and Councilman Clampitt, Lyon and Yonkin were absent. The five members present did not constitute a quorum and they signed a call for another special meeting this morning at 10 o'clock to begin the canvass. It is expected it will be completed today and the resolution authorizing the City Clerk and the Mayor to certify the result to the Legislature will be passed.

When this certificate is received by the Legislature the carried amendments will become effective on the passage of a joint resolution by both houses of the Legislature.

HIGH AND LOW.

The official figures show that Amendment No. 1 received the greatest vote —15823—and the largest majority—5832—of those that were carried. The largest negative majority was on the amendment increasing the pay salary of the Health Officer, 9477 against it. All the amendments increasing the salaries were overwhelmingly defeated, most of them 4 to 1.

The figures also show that the vote of Amendments Nos. 2 and 4 was as close as appeared at first. No. 2 was carried by only 1366 majority and No. 4 by 2061. The tremendous vote in the Fourth and Fifth wards alone made these amendments victorious.

The closest vote was on Amendment No. 23, providing that the city may adopt a street plan or declaration to prevent large claims for damages when streets are opened. It was defeated by only twenty votes. The amendment was intended to save the property owners who have to pay for street opening many thousands in created damages and it is possible the official canvass may show errors that may change the result.

The count shows that the amendment requiring the city's annual reports to be for the fiscal year, ending June 30 and not a special year ending November 30, has carried. This will permit the city officials to make only one report a year.

HOTEL HILLCREST CHANGE.

The lease and furniture of Hotel Hillcrest, Third and Olive streets, were sold yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Combs, at present in charge of the Harvey restaurant at La Grande station. The deal was made through H. Fox, real estate agent, and involved a partial exchange. The lease is owned by the Olive Heights Realty Company, John D. Pope, president. Mrs. Susan Frances Maggs has managed the hotel for several years. She has other business interests which demand her attention.

WILL PUSH DEVELOPMENT.

Development is to be pushed on a large scale on the W. and O. mine in the Bill Williams Fork district, Arizona, near the Planet and Clara Consolidated. E. S. Osborne and C. W. Wardwell are in the city completing arrangements. They will sink and cross-cut from the lower levels, and are working in ore running high in gold values. Mr. Osborne is one of the pioneers of the district and is interested in ten camps. It is planned to spend a large sum in development as the work already done has been very encouraging.

No, Not Lincoln,

LIKENESS STARTLES.

Man With All the Facial Points of Lincoln Except the Wart Comes West.

From Minneapolis a man, who resembles Lincoln so closely that anybody would pick his picture as that of the great emancipator, has come to Southern California. He is R. H. Spear, and he attracted attention while in the city on his way to San Diego.

The likeness is startling, for Mr. Spear has all the facial points of Lincoln except the wart. He wears the same sparse, aggressive beard, similar parted black hair; his firm mouth and kindly wrinkles are replicas of those of the martyred war President's. Mr. Spear is a locomotive engineer on the "Soo" line, and has an enviable record for length of service with no fatalities and few minor accidents. This is his first visit in the Southwest. He is the guest of S. D. Button of No. 2085 Front street, San Diego.

STOCK MEN AROUSED.

"HUMANE" SHOOTING OF CATTLE SERIOUS.

INDIGNANT because of the slaughter of twenty-seven cattle by officers of the Humane Animal League, last Thursday night, stockmen of the Southwest have come to the support of J. B. Parks, the man in charge, and Henry Ogie and William Polley, who were arrested and accused of cruelty to animals—animals they were trying to save.

The officers shot the cows on the grounds that they were down and in such bad shape that their destruction was necessary. F. H. Olivas, Al Ross and Dr. L. H. M. de Biron, a veterinary surgeon of Monrovia, figured in the killing at the Southern Pacific stock yards.

The men under arrest were taking a trainload of 600 cows and steers from a cattle range in Arizona to the McKittrick ranch, near Bakersfield, where they could be pastured and fattened.

The cattlemen will fight the complaints issued against these cowboys. They will be represented by Attorneys Davis and Rush, who were retained yesterday by Capt. W. H. McKittrick of Bakersfield.

The cattle dealers assert that the killing of the animals was entirely uncalled for, and that such an act on the part of the officers of the league will have an ugly effect upon the beef business of Los Angeles. They declare that if the city authorities countenance such a procedure, the cattle men will cease to make this city a way point in the shipping of stock cattle, preferring to pay more freight and avoid the city by going around by the northern routes.

This city is the gateway to the north, and handles the output of cattle from Arizona and New Mexico. Hundreds of Los Angeles men own ranches in the Territories, and these say that they will withdraw their trade from this city if the law gives the right to "humane" officers to promiscuously shoot range cattle while being shipped through.

HERE TO GET JUSTICE.

Parks, the foreman, a cattle man of twenty years' experience, and one of the best known in his line in the Southwest, was arrested with Ogle and Polley, cowboys in McKittrick's employ. They were taken to the City Jail. Polley was locked up first, but later secured bond of $300. The others put up a like bond and appeared in the Police Court yesterday. A postponement was asked, and the case set for hearing on March 18.

Capt. McKittrick of Bakersfield, the owner of the stock, came in to fight the case. He has the backing of the American National Live Stock Association, of which he is a member, and the support of the cattle men of Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California. He owns great ranches in Arizona and this State.

"I intend to back my men and fight to a finish," he said yesterday. "This affair is an outrage, a menace to the cattle industry of the Southwest, and a fatal mistake on the part of Los Angeles officers.

"I have shipped more than 50,000 head of cattle through this city and J. B. Parks, my foreman, has handled every hoof of them. He is one of the best cattle men in the United States, who has made the cattle business his life's work. I place the greatest of trust in him, and he has never yet abused that trust.

WHERE THEY WOULD DIE.

"Some weeks ago I received word from him that 600 head of cattle were feeding near an alkali lake on the Arizona range. The animals were drinking the alkali water and feeding on the salt grass in the vicinity.

"When cattle strike a place like that they never leave. You may drive them away but they will find their way back and drink of the water until they waste away and die. The combination is, if anything, worse than the loco weed.

"When Parks telegraphed me that I was about to lose the 600 head I told him to ship the animals to Bakersfield, where I had an abundance of feed and could handle the small herd very well.

"It was a question of ship or allow them to die where they were. Some of them were lean when they were put in the train. They were attended by my men until reaching Los Angeles. I looked them over at River Station, and they were in good shape. I had to return to Bakersfield and I ordered the men to unload them, in compliance with the law which requires live stock to be unloaded whenever a layover is made.

"The cars were taken to the Southern Pacific yards, and there the cattle were unloaded. My men noticed several hangers-on but paid no attention to them. They later proved to be officers of this Humane Animal League.

LIE DOWN, OF COURSE.

"Any cattleman will tell you that after a long, hard ride, cattle will lie down. When a fighting cow takes to the ground she resents efforts to disturb her. There were seven or eight of this kind in a car. My men tried to get them out, and were charged by the infuriated beasts. They left the animals and locked the door.

"Once in the corrals, many of the animals went down, a natural act. It is the same with a human being, rocked about on a steamer. When the land is gained they sit down and rest. The cattle did likewise.

"They were in good shape, but that night these alleged officers of the Humane Animal League went there, taking with them a veterinary surgeon. This veterinary was to be the expert judge of the condition of range cattle. And they murdered twenty-seven animals in the corrals for the mere reason that these animals were lying down, resting after a long, hard jolt on the road. Cattle always look dirty after a trip, and they are, as a rule, scratched and marked by the jostling and banging of the cars. I can find no excuse for the killing of the animals.

"These same officers charged upon my men, producing handcuffs, when the boys showed up for work the following morning, and arrested them. They then threw more than a hundred dollars worth of alfalfa hay into the corrals, and had the nerve to send me the bill. The cattle trampled most of the hay into the mud, but as it was many of them ate enough of it to make them sick.

"The animals were shipped to Bakersfield and when they arrived there I destroyed two, the cows having suffered broken legs in transportation. The others were in good enough shape to be driven six miles to the ranch.

"The cattle men will not stand for such acts as these. Their animals will not be safe with men going about killing them according to fancy. If this sort of thing is permitted Los Angeles will lose the cattle men's trade and the ranches in the vicinity as well as the packers will suffer heavily."

IN DEEP.

"INFLUENCES" DO NOT HELP.

Dapper Contractor Is Still in County Custody.

Says He Speculated in Too Many Buildings.

"Friends" Versus Charge of Embezzlement.

"Mere forgetfulness and loose bookkeeping brought me to this plight. I speculated in house-building and got in too deep," said dapper W. E. Rennie yesterday at the County Jail. He is to undergo examination in Justice Pierce's court, the 15th inst., upon a felony charge of embezzlement. Though he referred to several mysterious influences at work in his behalf, none have apparently been strong enough to secure his release on bonds.

Rennie has long been classed as a building contractor, who is in jail on an embezzlement charge, and whose methods have been queer.

dangerous risk at the Builders' Exchange, an association of the best-known contractors in the city. While unwilling to make any direct charge against him, Secretary Kline has documentary evidence of the contractor's business methods. Clippings from legal and technical reports show that many houses built by Rennie have been covered by mechanics' liens and suits of all descriptions.

For the protection of its own members, with reputation and large capital at stake, the exchange keeps a list of builders, and if they become involved in crooked deals this appears on the records.

"I have no comment to make on this particular case," said Secretary Kline. "Property owners cannot be too careful in the selection of an honest builder. A reputable contractor will carry out his agreement to the letter, even if it costs him money. But unfortunately there are some in the city who are ready to submit low bids on construction work when they have neither capital nor ability to carry out the contracts."

BILLS WERE UNPAID.

The specific charge against Rennie is that he was paid $500 by Arthur H. Lacey of this city to turn over to material men and other creditors. It is asserted that the defendant received the cash in October, 1908, but never paid the bills as requested. Later, Lacey was pressed to pay bills that he had supposed had been settled. He made an investigation, which resulted in the arrest of his contractor.

The prosecution claims to have a clear case against the defendant. A number of firms are ready to testify that their bills have not been settled, and Lacey will testify that he gave Rennie $500 to pay these bills.

"I admit I am something of a speculator," said Rennie, airily, in explaining his position. "I have often taken chances in bidding for contracts, and unfortunately got in a little deep. It is merely a civil matter and it seems strange that the authorities would think of shutting me in here with criminals because of a few errors in book-keeping or a delay in paying my bills.

"I have some big men as friends; one is a bank president. They will come to my rescue. I doubt if the examination is ever held. There is really nothing to it. I have not even retained an attorney, my innocence is so apparent."

HOME BUILDERS SUFFER.

Several creditors are harsh enough to assert Rennie has made a practice of victimizing small property owners and that nearly every one who intrusted a contract to him regretted it in the end.

It is alleged that the usual method was to sign a contract for a low figure and then get advances from the property owner as often as possible. It is said that Rennie would dole out a few dollars to his numerous creditors, but kept most of them "guessing" for their money.

If the party failed to record the contract, the material men would swoop down and plaster the house with liens and carpenters, plasterers, bricklayers, masons, plumbers, etc., would take the rest. The owner generally gasped and raved, but apparently forgot to prosecute the contractor, until Lacey paved the way by his appeal to the District Attorney.

Rennie lives in a handsome house at No. 2051 La Salle avenue and is well connected. His wife is doing all she can to straighten things out and visits her husband every day at the jail.

QUARTER-TON OF GOLD.

Miner from Mexico Here With It and Quartz, and Lord Hamilton Wants to Buy.

At the Hollenbeck Hotel is a man with three great chests, weighing a quarter of a ton, and filled with samples of gold-bearing quartz which would make the mouth of the most rabid booster for Nevada mining properties water with appreciation.

His name is W. J. Partridge, and he is awaiting the arrival of a representative of Lord Hamilton, the son of the Duke of Abercrombie, of England, to whom he will tell the story of a gold mine in Sonora, Mexico, about forty miles back from the coast which he says will be by far the greatest producer in Mexico.

Partridge is a typical miner of the old days. He is taciturn and almost gloomy when asked about his mine—for fear that some one will think that he is "wildcatting."

He was called to San Francisco from Sonora by a telegram from George Wingfield of Goldfield, Consolidated fame. He listened to the offer made by Wingfield for the property, and in answer packed up his cheats and hied himself toward his mine in Sonora. When he arrived at the Hollenbeck yesterday he was seized with a slight cold, and decided to remain a day or so. Meantime he received a cablegram from London, in answer to letters sent out some months ago, in which Lord Hamilton made a direct offer for a part of the mine, and said that a representative would sail immediately for Los Angeles to meet Partridge and go to the property in Sonora.

LOVE BINDS.

ON DEATHBED CLASP HANDS.

DARK VALLEY'S SHADOW BRINGS RECONCILIATION.

Divorced Husband Reaches Bedside of Former Wife in Time to Plight Troth and Dying Woman Rallies—Daughter Cause of Last Meeting of Parents.

There has been a deathbed reconciliation between Mrs. Sarah Sawyer Hooper of Denver, whose life is ebbing swiftly at the home of her brother-in-law, Thomas McKee, of No. 670 South Alvarado street, and her former husband, Charles E. Hooper, also of Denver.

The Hoopers were divorced a year ago last November, after having been married twenty-one years. They have a nineteen-year-old daughter, Jean Sawyer Hooper, and it is said that she was the means of bringing to a loving, though sorrowful end, the life romance of her parents.

There has been considerable talk of a remarriage before the death of Mrs. Cooper, as a fitting finale to their reconciliation, but so far it could be learned last night, this has not occurred.

Mrs. Hooper has been visiting her sister, Mrs. McKee, for some time, and two weeks ago she was attacked by pneumonia. She became so ill that a telegram was sent to her daughter in Denver to come at once. The next day Mrs. Hooper made it known to her sister that she wanted to see her former husband. He was notified by wire and started westward the same night.

An automobile was waiting at the Arcade station when he arrived in Los Angeles, and he was hurried to the McKee residence. The daughter, her eyes swimming in tears, met him at the door and led him to the bedside of her mother. One look at her pain-wracked face was sufficient. With a cry, half of sorrow and half of joy, he knelt by the bedside and once again they plighted their troth.

This closing chapter of their love story is destined to be short, for all hope of the recovery of Mrs. Hooper was abandoned Tuesday, and her death was expected yesterday morning, but by a remarkable display of vitality she rallied. Death hovered very close again at 9 o'clock last evening, but once more the patient rallied.

The members of the family were at the bedside until after midnight. When seen shortly after Mrs. Hooper rallied, they declined to make any statement concerning the remarriage of the two. Mrs. McKee, however, verified the statement that they had been reconciled.

STREET CAR HITS AUTO.

Demonstrators for Lord eMtor Car Company Have Narrow Escape from Serious Injury.

Two demonstrators for the Lord Motor Car Company had a narrow escape from death when a Studebaker car, which they were tuning up prior to delivery for sale to Dr. Painless Parker, was struck by West Ninth-street car No. 306, at Ninth and Flower streets, yesterday afternoon. The big car was hurled across the street to the curb, where it alighted with a crash. One wheel and the tonneau were smashed and much of the rigging torn away.

Neither of the chauffeurs were thrown from their seat, and escaped injury, except for slight cuts from flying glass. They were taken into the home of Miss J. Gordon, No. 901 South Flower street, where they were given medical attention and then returned to the garage. Both car and auto were traveling at high speed when the collision came.

HUSBAND IS MISSING.

Mrs. Mortimer Fox Searches Hospitals and Finally Appeals to Police to Assist Her.

Mrs. Mortimer Fox of No. 1729 East Forty-first street reported to the police last night that her husband has been missing since Tuesday afternoon. An all-day search of hospitals and police stations had given her no trace of the missing man.

Fox and his wife came down town Tuesday afternoon on a shopping excursion. At the Broadway Department Store Fox told his wife he would meet her at a designated spot after she had made her purchases.

When Mrs. Fox went to meet her husband he was gone and she has not seen or heard from his since. She can advance no theory as to his disappearance.

FALLS DOWN STAIRS.

Henry Gathman, a cabinetmaker, 59 years of age, while intoxicated last night, fell down a flight of stairs at the Hotel Vendome, First street and Central avenue, suffering several severe lacerations and bruises about the head and a possible fracture of the skull. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

PUBLIC SERVICE---OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Engineer yesterday notified the Board of Public Works that storm water to double the amount of domestic sewage is discharged from the outfall sewer.

The attorney for an applicant for a hospital permit, before the Board of Health, announced that it is his purpose to test the validity of the ordinance prescribing hospitals in certain districts of the city.

Judge Monroe discharged I. E. Jones, charged with being in contempt of court in not obeying a subpoena to testify in the Thorpe divorce case.

Testimony at the preliminary hearing of "Arizona Jack" Allen, charged with the murder of a deputy constable, tended to show the prisoner believed he had been attacked by footpads at Newhall.

Arguments in the Loewenstein case opposed the admissibility of evidence. Another alleged victim of the wily defendant complained to the District Attorney.

AT THE CITY HALL.

SEES DANGER FOR OUTFALL.

CITY ENGINEER DISCUSSES THE SEWER SYSTEM.

Objects to Storm Water in the Outfall—Eighty Miles of New Sewers for Next Season—Union Mouther Finds Great Wage Discrepancy, Two Cents.

City Engineer Hamlin took occasion yesterday to call the attention of the Board of Public Works to the storm-water situation in connection with the sanitary sewers. He made the discovery that vast quantites of storm water finds its way into the sanitary sewers and thence into the great outfall sewer, which is abundantly large to carry off the sewage of the city for a generation to come, but there is a threatening danger from this water which has no business in the outfall.

He found that while the natural flow in the outfall is about 20 per cent. of its capacity, during the present storm the flow has increased to 36 per cent. of its capacity. While this was readily carried off, it was positive evidence of the extent to which surface water finds its way in, through roof-drainage spouts, manholes in the streets, and old sewers, and he was instructed to seek a way out of the difficulty.

"Before next season," said Mr. Hamlin, "about eighty miles of sewers, in addition to those now in use, will be connected with the outfall. This will add materially to the ordinary discharge of the outfall, and it is evident that it will be overtaxed if the same amount of storm water is allowed to enter the sewers. As all the sanitary sewers and the outfall have very properly been designed to carry domestic sewage only, it is obvious that this influx of storm water must be abated.

"The fact that the sewer system is a great and complicated machine, must not be lost sight of, and we should have all the necessary information concerning it and its efficiency, at hand when wanted."

The engineer asked that he be permitted to secure figures showing the probable cost of a self-recording gauge, to be placed on the outfall at a point below where the South Los Angeles sewer enters, and was instructed accordingly. In his investigation, Mr. Hamlin has also found an old wooden sewer doing regular duty in the Aliso street section, and was authorized to replace it with a modern sanitary sewer.

TWO CENTS BEHIND.

GREAT AQUEDUCT SCANDAL.

A representative of the Machinists' Union appeared before the Board of Public Works yesterday to complain against the wages paid to machinists on the Los Angeles Aqueduct.

He said that he had not found a man on the aqueduct who received more than $3.50 a day, and cited the Southern Pacific shops as at present paying machinists $3.96 for a day of nine hours.

"Let's see," said Chairman Hubbard, "that would be 44 cents an hour, wouldn't it?"

"Yes."

"For eight hours," continued Mr. Hubbard, "it would amount to $3.52, wouldn't it?"

"Yes."

The aqueduct appeared to be 2 cents behind, and the complainant was asked to submit the matter in writing.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

TO TEST HOSPITAL ZONE.

Dr. C. P. Drum made application to the Board of Health for a permit to erect a hospital on Eighth street, between Garland avenue and Francisco street, which is within the prohibited zone for hospitals. The board was informed that the object of the application was to have it denied, in order that the ordinance establishing the zone might be tested in the courts, and played a peculiar dodging game by refusing to refuse the permit on the ground that it was within the prohibited district. One member suggested that they refuse to consider it, and it was finally disposed of by ordering it filed. The attorney for the applicant stated that he had no doubt of his ability to show the ordinance illegal, but declared that he had no recourse at law unless the Board of Health took unfavorable action on the application.

T. M. Stuart, representing the Children's Home Society of California, secured an extension of time upon the demand that the society file a full report of the children received and placed in homes. He stated that compliance with the requirements of the new ordinance would destroy the intent for which the society was established, that of entirely cutting the child's past apart from its future life, as the society receives only parentless or abandoned children. The subject will be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

PETROLITHIC FAILURE.

MENDING ADAMS STREET.

The street department is getting the laugh on the folks who thought they knew best how to make good streets, but it is at the same time an expensive grin. Complaints have been received from residents of Adams street, where an elaborate oiled street was constructed last year, that water continues to stand in the gutters, and in recommending that cement curbs and gutters be put in, the City Engineer said yesterday:

"The property owners on Adams street, between Figueroa and Hoover streets, insisted on a petrolithic pavement, the street was finally improved in that manner. The grades are very flat, and the omission of gutters was a mistake."

His recommendation for cement curbs and gutters on Adams street, from Grand avenue to Hoover street, was adopted.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

AN AFTERMATH OF A DIVORCE.

UNWILLING WITNESS IS PURGED OF CONTEMPT.

Was Wanted to Testify in Thorpe Case, but Went to Pasadena With Wife and Acknowledges He Did not Read "The Times" While Away. His Narrow Escape.

"Do you mean to tell me that you do not read the Los Angeles Times?" This sharply from Judge Charles Monroe.

L. E. Jones, the missing witness in the Thorpe divorce case, admitted reluctantly that during the temporary absence of his wife and himself in Pasadena last week, he had missed a few copies of the newspaper.

This little episode came out in the hearing of Jones yesterday before Judge Monroe, who had issued a bench warrant for his apprehension, when wanted as a witness for the plaintiff in the divorce suit of Annie L. Thorpe against Dr. Arthur C. Thorpe. Jones had failed to appear, and his dropping out of sight was the cause of much comment, both in the courtroom and about town. Yesterday Jones was taken into custody and brought into court to purge himself of contempt.

During the taking of the evidence, Mrs. Jones, who occupied a seat near her husband, broke into the proceedings, and was rebuked by the court. Judge Monroe had asked Jones where he was on Tuesday of last week, when he was so badly wanted.

"He was at home with me because I was ill," volunteered Mrs. Jones. Everybody looked about to see who had interrupted the course of justice in this unusual fashion. "Madam, you are not a witness in this case," said the court sharply.

Jones was first on the stand. He said he had been served with a subpoena on Friday of last week, but that on the Monday following, when the case had gone over for a day, he had been told by Thomas Ball, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Thorpe, that he might not be wanted at all. On the following day when the case was on, he said Ball had again told him that he might not be needed, and that if he was, he would be telephoned for. The witness said that he took his wife, who was quite ill, to Pasadena that evening, where they remained several days.

"Didn't you know you were wanted?" asked the court. "Didn't you see in the daily papers that serious charges were being made against you?"

The witness claimed that he had learned nothing about it, and did not know that his name was bandied in the testimony.

"Why did you go away at all?" asked the court. Jones replied: "I heard I was to be summoned in behalf of Dr. Thorpe, and on account of my recent wedding I did not want my wife embarrassed."

Thomas Ball, the attorney, corroborated Jones in his testimony that he had told him he would call him by telephone if he was needed as a witness.

The court in closing the hearing said: "There is no doubt in my mind that the witness left the city to avoid the processes of this court, but in view of the evidence Attorney Ball, I shall not punish him."

GARWOOD FIGHTS.

ATTORNEY'S PLEA FOR TIME.

The trial of A. J. Garwood, charged with being one of the gang who made the murderous attack upon F. G. Johannsen, December 23 last, has been fixed by Judge Willis for March 1. At the arraignment yesterday, H. H. Appel appeared for the prisoner, and interposed a demurrer to the information, claiming the magistrate committing Garwood was without jurisdiction in the case; that the complaint did not state facts sufficient for prosecution for the crime of robbery; that it did not allege Johannsen was in actual possession of the property claimed to have been taken from him at the time of the attack, and that the money had not been sufficiently described. The demurrer was overruled.

Garwood then pleaded not guilty.

In fixing the date for the trial, Attorney Appel said it was not certain that he would appear for Garwood, but in the interest of fairness he hoped that at least thirty days would be allowed the accused to prepare his defense. He charged that the police department, or a portion of it, was unduly anxious to push the case against Garwood, and he believed the prisoner was entitled to as much consideration as a man accused of larceny. If convicted Garwood would be given a life sentence probably; he hoped the court would give him a chance. The date was then fixed.

Henry Olwell pleaded guilty of petty larceny after a prior conviction and will be sentenced Saturday morning. He stole a bicycle at Long Beach.

Harry Murphy, charged with assault with intent to rob, will be arraigned this morning. C. P. Darden was appointed to defend him.

A. M. Clark, charged with killing Joseph Lahr, January 2, will be arraigned this morning. Paul M. Nash was appointed by the court to defend the accused.

Benjamin Whitney pleaded guilty to burglary and will be sentenced Saturday morning. His partner, Frank Meeker, said he was not guilty and he will be up for further hearing Saturday morning.

FAMILY SKELETONS.

RATTLE IN DIVORCE COURTS.

An excellent assortment of family skeletons was uncovered in the divorce courts, yesterday. In the case brought by Marie Hickok against C. A. S. Hickok, a member of the Los Angeles police force, the plaintiff claimed she was compelled to leave her home and go to the neighbors for protection; that he threw milk bottles at her on a number of occasions, and that the walls of the kitchen were full of holes made by bottles that had missed their mark. He smashed the dishes and on one occasion threw a five-gallon jar of mince meat at her. She got the decree from Judge James.

Pearl Philips in her charge of extreme cruelty against William R. Philips, testified they were married in 1903, and both had children by other marriages. The first trouble was in 1907, when they were on a trip to one of the cañons in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and camped out. Her husband had purchased a revolver and said he expected to use it, and at that time told her that if he had all of his property in cash he would skip and leave her. He threatened to kill her, and declared that nothing would do him more good than to cut out the hearts of her children and herself, and placing them on a plank, "see them quiver. The only thing that deterred him from doing this, she testified he said, was the fear of the law. Judge James gave her a decree.

In Judge Hutton's court, Ethel Cutler testifying against Arthur G. Cutler, said he had worked but a month and a half since their marriage, two years ago; that he was always tired and seldom got out of bed until about 10 o'clock, when her mother, where they lived, wanted to clean up his room. The wife also said she was compelled to sell her wedding gifts in order to raise money to live on. A decree was awarded her.

LOVE OFFERINGS.

DEFENSE IN FRAUD CASE.

H. H. Appel, criminal lawyer, joined Frank W. Allender in the defense of Mrs. Fay Loewenstein, charged with fraud, in the hearing before Justice Stephens yesterday. The day was largely spent in arguments in regard to the admissability of evidence, and at noon the case was postponed until next Wednesday.

The crux of the talk was concerning the testimony of Lewis Wilson, No. 440 Park View street, who had answered an advertisement of the accused woman, but had invested nothing in the enterprise.

It was argued in behalf of the defendant, that so far as Harmer was concerned, the money he had given her was a love offering with a marriage to follow. On which he could not recover. It was also claimed that the prosecution had not up to this time established the alleged fact that Mrs. Loewenstein was not possessed of the land and stock which she claimed in her conversation with Harmer.

Mrs. Mary E. Hotford, No. 846 South Figueroa street, called at the office of the District Attorney yesterday in quest of information concerning Mrs. Loewenstein, claiming she had been a victim of the woman.

STICKS TO STORY.

"ARIZONA JACK" ON DEFENSE.

The preliminary hearing of John M. Allen, alias "Arizona Jack," for the murder of Deputy Constable Charles DeMoranville at Newhall on the night of January 4, began in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday afternoon. After the examination of several witnesses the case was adjourned until next Monday.

The evidence, so far as it proceeded, was in harmony with the statements of the prisoner made after his arrest, that he thought he was being held up the night of the tragedy, and the shooting followed.

Dr. George W. Campbell, who made the autopsy on the body of the dead officer, gave the result of his findings, showing how the deceased came to his death.

Frank Butka of the Rivera saloon at Newhall testified that the afternoon before the shooting Allen had come into the place three or four times, and had some words with a customer, Frank Contario. Allen had a revolver with him and showed it to the witness. He did not think Allen was intoxicated.

R. M. Wilson said he was with DeMoranville between 6 and 7 o'clock the night of the shooting; that they were on the porch of the Rivera saloon. They say Allen walk down the street, and DeMoranville asked witness to watch him while he went to the hotel, but Wilson lost sight of Allen.

James Moore, a rancher, said that, coming over from Saugus, he met Allen at Newhall, and that the latter was staggering from drink. He heard one shot as he stood watering his horse, and about ten minutes later heard five more shots, but he paid but little attention to the shooting.

C. H. Kellogg of Saugus said he met Allen about 6 o'clock the morning after the killing. Allen came to the barn, and said: "I guess they tried to hold me up last night." Allen said he thought he had been struck in the neck by some one, thrown upon the railroad track and robbed, the alleged thieves getting his money, and breaking a ring on his watch. As the supposed thieves went away, Allen said he had fired a shot at them. Allen was sober in his opinion. He (Allen) asked Kellogg to find out in Newhall if anybody had been hurt, and asked him to bring back his dog if he found him in the village.

NOT HEEDING THE REDS.

Local Federal officials scout the idea of any aid being extended to the imprisoned Mexican revolutionists by the Political Refugee League of Chicago, as is intimated in press dispatches from that city. It was stated yesterday by one of the officers that Magon, Villareal and Rivera will be taken to Arizona, to stand trial for inciting an armed expedition, despite any attempts of reds here or elsewhere to prevent it. The mandate from the United States Supreme Court is expected to reach here within a few days. Upon its arrival, the order of removal will be put in force. The league of reds in Chicago is said to be on the point of "taking up" the case of the Mexican revolutionists, but it appears nothing more can be done to delay removal.

RED'S RETRIAL TODAY.

M. G. Miller, alias Joseph H. N. Longy, etc., arrested last July for sending threatening letters through the mail, will be called in the United States District Court today. Miller professes to be an ardent anarchist and follower of the doctrines of Emma Goldman. He came to this city from Chicago last summer, and made his headquarters at Howell Hall, the meeting place of local socialists. He is charged with sending letters to several local business men, in which he threatened to burn their houses unless they sent him money. He was arrested by the police and turned over to the Federal authorities.

FOR STATION AND DEFENSE.

Chamber of Commerce Directorate Discusses San Pedro Fortifications and Other Subjects.

Discussion of ways and means for securing adequate fortifications at San Pedro occupied the attention of the Chamber of Commerce directorate, yesterday. A telegram from Senator Flint stating that the fortification bill, as passed in the House, contained no appropriation for San Pedro, evoked much regret. The utmost confidence was expressed in the ability of the Senator to include an appropriation for the harbor when the bill reaches the Senate. A special committee of the chamber reported concerning the possibilities of a coaling and naval station at San Pedro. It is believed there is no probability of anything being done at the present session, but the chamber will boost the project as strongly as possible.

President Stewart was authorized to appoint committees to provide entertainment for the members of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, due to arrive next week, Friday. No particulars of the itinerary has been received here as yet. It was announced that a similar excursion of members of the Seattle and Tacoma Chambers of Commerce will arrive here on the 26th inst. The local chamber will give a reception and provide automobile rides and beach trips.

The following-named were elected members: A. Brodin & Co., Walburg Bros. Hugh T. Gordon, Company of Public Stenographers, J. F. Sartori, A. D. Myers, Harris, Newmark, Franklin V. Gregory, Bailie & Brandt Co., California Commercial Company, Southern California Supply Company, and H. W. Boyd.

DOUBLE-ACTION SENTENCE.

Chinese Ordered Deported, but Required First to Serve a Term in San Quentin Prison.

When Ham Hi tried to impose on immigration officers by forging the signature of another Chinaman on a bogus certificate of residence, he evidently did not realize the consequences of his act.

In addition to being ordered deported, the Mongolian will serve six months in San Quentin, having been convicted of forgery in the Federal Court yesterday. At the completion of his sentence he will be sent back to China.

FAVOR THE PRESENT SYSTEM.

To take the allotment and distribution of the funds of the Reclamation Department from the hands of the Secretary of the Interior, as called for in a proposed bill in Congress, is considered unwise by leading members of the Chamber of Commerce. "It is felt that such a course would be a serious mistake," said Secretary Wiggins yesterday. "I believe the present system of distributing the funds is admirable. As far as can be learned, the result in past years is very satisfactory."

CREDITORS' PROCEEDING.

Creditors of the Graphite Paint Company of San Diego filed an involuntary bankruptcy against the concern in the United States District Court yesterday. The company presented its own petition some time ago, but it was disallowed. The liabilities will not be heavy, it is stated.

Clara's Progress.

The most important find on the Cla Consolidated properties, at Swansea Ariz., the new town founded by Geor Mitchell on the Bill Williams Fork, reported in the west drift of the 2 foot level in shaft No. 2, says M Mitchell. Recently this old shaft w cleaned and timbered.

When these workings were first pe etrated, wonder was expressed at th courage of the early-day operators i mining the class of ore found on th old dump. While this was sufficient high grade years ago, the profit d rived was not bonanza by any means By finding large deposits of coppe ores, which at first occurred i bunches, the secret of the pioneers is explained. As the workings advance the glance becomes more regular, an large quantities are being hoisted fo developing the drift.

Characteristic of these ores, the gol content increases with the additions enrichment by copper, and the discov ery is considered by Mr. Mitchell as important as the one recently made when the pay shoot was determined to be 150 feet in width between shaft Nos. 1 and 2.

A thirty-five ton converter plant ha been ordered for the smelter, to b erected in such manner that copper i conveyed by gravity direct from th furnaces to the converter stands. B this method the dangerous travelin cranes are eliminated, while great economy in handling matter in the smelter is effected.

The last check or ores in the mine showed approximately $12,000,000 de veloped to date.

A permanent camp is being estab lished at the Morro, and the force o men at the Consolidated has been in creased to 100. The old shafts on this property, sunk by Tom Kerrigan, when he hauled water twelve miles and sup plies ninety, have been cleaned out and all are in excellent ore. In no in stance where work has been started on croppings has a failure to find pay rock occurred.

Mr. Kerrigan recently visited the property with President Mitchell and Prof. Treadwell, and pronounces it one of the best in Arizona.

On the Colorado River.

The Pioneer Consolidated Mining Company, owning nineteen patented claims in the Colorado River range, seventeen miles from Needles, near the Tom Reed and Gold Roads, has opened a 100-foot shoot of $10 to $12 ore, said. General Manager Carl F. Schaller left last night to start the eighty-horse-power compressor which was shut down some time ago and a double shaft of Sullivan three-inch air drills. The face of the drift at the 100-foot level runs $25 and it is estimated to open a shoot similar to those of high grade recently uncovered in the Tom Reed, which has between $40 and $4000 worth of ore blocked. Mr. Schader says it is working seven men and extracts 25 per cent. of the values with no amalgamation or concentration.

Bullfrog Pioneer.

Rich samples of ore from the bottom of the shaft of the Bullfrog Pioneer, where the strike was made a short time ago, brought to the city by Dr. G. A. Scroggs, are exhibited at Rod. King's. It averages from $30 to $400. Dr. Scroggs says that the town of Pioneer is growing rapidly. The population numbers 600 and business lots sell for $1000 and up. Miss Helen McDonald is going to remove the Montgomery Hotel from Beatty to Pioneer and is figuring on installing electric plant and water works at the same, according to Dr. Scroggs. The Bullfrog Pioneer is next to the Mayflower, and is making a fine showing.

Shipment of Kingstone.

Rod King has made the first carload shipment from his Kingstone quarry, at Von Trigger, San Bernardino county, this State, and it is being supervised at the plant of the California Magesite Company.

Mr. King is taking over a plant in this city to manufacture interior and exterior housefinishing material, high class mantels, statuary, vases and lawn ornaments out of white California kingstone from the quarry he is developing. This will be the first of its kind on the Pacific Coast and it is said to be the first clear white artificial stone made that will stand fire and rain and mould and cut as mar-

MINES AND MINING.

MINERS BUILD A RAILROAD.

Locomotives to Run to El Dorado Canyon.

Ore Company to Treat Ore at Crescent.

Clara Reopens Old-time Rich Workings.

The Nevada-Victor Mining and Reduction Company, which is erecting a 60-ton concentrator at Crescent, will build a twelve-mile standard-gauge railroad from a point on the Salt Lake between Nipton and Leastock to Crescent, Morgantown and Nelson. It will also build a 200-ton smelter to concentrate and smelt its own ores, and will ship out bullion over its own rails within the next six months, according to George P. Spittall, general manager, who is at the Alexandria.

Construction will start within thirty days, the rails and rolling stock have been ordered, and the road will be completed in four months. The company has purchased a townsite on the Salt Lake for its southern terminus. Later the line will be extended to the mines of El Dorado Cañon. Heretofore all communication with this district has been by the Colorado River from Needles and by automobiles of the Searchlight Nevada Navigation Company to Nelson, and thence sixteen miles by stage. A railroad should make this cañon a great shipping center, as many rich properties are located there, among which are the Signal, Tehachicup and Wall street. In the Signal, particularly, a fine ore body has been recently discovered.

Mr. Spittall states that the reduction works are well under way. Seventy men are at work, and half the machinery and material are on the ground and the remainder, en route from San Pedro, is expected to reach the mine today. A good strike was made a short time ago. Mr. Spittall says a ledge was stripped for two feet of the surface and ore exposed averaging $40 to $80. Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 is ready for the mill. Contracts have been made to treat ore from other mines of the district, and a lease has been taken on the Big Tiger, which has 400,000 tons ready for treatment and about $1,500,000 in sight. The largest vein in the district, 200 feet by 1600 feet long, has been opened on the Big Tiger.

The Victor is now erecting houses for laborers and miners, and is opening a supply house and general store at Morgantown and Crescent.

Listener and Billboard meeting among the dead as the Lincoln-Roosevelt League.

IF I WERE THE MAYOR OF LOS ANGELES.

XI.

Our Set Meets as the Lincoln-Roosevelt League and Decides to Make Izzy Markovich the Goat.

President Listener was sobbing softly when the Lincoln-Roosevelt League was called to order in the graveyard yesterday, to protest against programme politics, and to name one of "Our Set" as boss of the new Mayor.

"This makes me think of the time when I led the crusade against the wicked programming push," he said brokenly. "Oh, those unscrupulous bosses!"

"It makes me think of the time when I was worked for a goat," said Editor Churl, sourly.

"Tut, tut," said Mr. Billboard, in a pained voice. "You went down to a glorious defeat in the cause of political purity—and have never come up again. What a glorious place to stay in!"

Editor Churl sneered. "Yeh; I know all about that political purity," he said bitterly. "You told me it would make me a pure boss. You said when we downed the machine, I could have a machine of my own to do things to people."

There was a pause of some embarrassment. "The sovereign people," began Mr. Handyson, gravely, "are against any and all programme except to appoint me."

"Huh, Huh," said Editor Churl. "Last November the sovereign people of Our Set were so —— scarce that the election officers had to use a microscope. I paid for all the purity that was coming to me, but I never got any of it. Now I'm afraid that this recall was coming to me, but I never got it. Now I'm afraid that this recall game will come out the same way, and I don't propose to put up for any more purity unless I get some of it myself. I can't consent to let Listener have all the purity there is, you see——"

"The question to be considered today," interposed Mr. Listener, tactfully wiping away his tears, "is the selection of some prominent citizen to act as boss to the new Mayor. We must have no programming, so I have kindly arranged all the details of this meeting in advance. Mr. Handyson will make the first motion and Mr. Billboard will second it. Mr. Billboard will then move that a committee be appointed to make a selection, I will second his motion myself, and will appoint Billboard the committee. I hope there will be no hitches——"

Just then, however, a strange young man burst through the group. In his hand he carried a bill covered with numerous items.

"I want to know who is going to pay all the expenses for this recall electioneering," he said, severely. "Somebody's got to come through, or this recall election don't go any further."

With a graceful wave of his hand, Mr. Listener indicated Editor Churl. As the young man approached, however, Editor Churl sprang up and ran in behind a tombstone marking the resting place of a prominent citizen.

"Nothing doing," he cried. "Don't bring it to me. Take the thing away. Go way, young man."

"Somebody's got to pay for this thing," protested Mr. Billboard, very soberly.

"Somebody isn't one of my names," shrilled Churl, excitedly.

"You are getting all the advertising out of it," said Mr. Listener, tartly. "You ought to pay."

"The case of the People vs. Charlton——" began Judge Nitt.

"You're lucky," murmured Editor Gammon, with a trembling voice.

But the young man with the bill was becoming impatient. "What about this bill?" he asked with some asperity.

"Not mine," said Editor Churl, firmly. "I am lending the columns of my paper for civic purity; that's my share."

Mr. Billboard gave a snort of derision. "Tush, for civic purity," he said disgustedly. "You know very well that you begged us to get this up to help you out in your libel suits." War clouds seemed lowering.

"The Mayor must be recalled," said Mr. Handyson, anxiously. "Let us now avert trouble by asking one another if vice is protected in Los Angeles."

"Of course it's protected," snapped Mr. Billboard. "Didn't we all understand that it would be when we put into office the bunch of highbinders who stood behind Harper?"

"Then what's all this recall about?" asked some one, plaintively.

"Our friend, Mr. Churl, got in bad trying to be Carrie Nation," snarled Listener. "The Mayor sued him for libel and we had to get out and start something against the Mayor to save A. Bias from paying half a million dollars damages. A. Bias is It."

Editor Gammon looked puzzled, "But Churl, he republished my celebrated articles on protected vice," he said, doubtfully.

Mr. Billboard sneered at Editor Churl. "He wanted to show that you are in bad, same as him. Misery loves company."

"Stung," cried Editor Gammon in a voice shaken with grief. "I thought he did it because he admired my style."

Editor Churl, while this dialogue went on, sat in an attitude of defiance, swinging his heels from a tombstone, whistling "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie."

Presently there crawled out from behind a tombstone a long, lean form. "What about all the prominent citizens; what do they get?" asked Uncle George, for it was no other.

"They get invitations," said Mr. Billboard, smiling faintly.

Quite discouraged by the defiant attitude of Mr. Churl, the young man with the bill turned and advanced upon Uncle George.

"Don't come this way," cried Uncle George, "I resign. I always done my duty as I saw it. Why should I pay?"

The bill collector turned to Mr. Handyson, who turned and ran in alarm. "Press of private business; I resign," he cried back over his shoulder.

The collector turned hopefully to Mr. Bullvine. "I resign," shouted Tommy, "I have to go and work on a plot."

The young man then turned to one and another. Mr. Billboard said that being responsible for the conduct of every one else's affairs in the city, made it necessary for him to resign. Couldn't pay.

Judge Nit muttered something about the celebrated case of the People vs. Joney and hurdled over the tombstones in his anxiety to get away.

In desperation, the young man with the bill turned at last to Listener, who turned upon him with a bitter smile. "Young man," he said, "when you attend a meeting of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, you are among the dead; it's no use trying to collect money from ghosts."

The young man then sat down on a tombstone and wept bitterly.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said Editor Churl, seeing the young man's plight. "I'll make a proposition. Suppose I go out and get the prominent citizens to stand for this bill for recall expenses, how much rebate do I get?"

Before the young man could answer another figure came crawling out from a concealed place.

"Fellow," said the well-known voice of Doctor Wowtown, "I have a hunch for a lottery ticket. When my laundry came home this morning, the number was 4-11-44 on the ticket; that's a hunch. If somebody will courteously advance me the price, I will give half the winnings toward the bill. I am most guilty of you all. I was once a recall candidate myself. I done it. Let me pay."

Dr. Wowtown and his hopeful proposition were waved aside by President Listener who now came forward.

"I understand," he said, "that a prominent citizen named Isidor Markovich, a talented kosher butcher on East First street, has organized a club of prominent citizens who have not yet been touched. I suggest that we try to make his club the goat. Young man, I suggest to you that you meet us there and we will take up the matter of the bill you have presented. We will also take up the matter of the Mayor.

"Let it be understood," Mr. Listener went on, "that there will be no programming nor machining at this meeting. Everything will be so well arranged by me that there will be no need of a programme. I will first recognize Judge Nit to nominate a chairman; I will be chairman; and then I shall recognize G. Finn Franklayson to introduce the resolutions—and nobody else need butt in. The resolutions will be furnished by myself, all typewritten in advance.

"Mr. Churl, I now hear your motion to adjourn."

Accordingly the meeting adjourned to confer with "Izzy" and the "promunints." A report of the reception of the invitation to "confer," by Izzy's "set" will be given in tomorrow's Times.

Scares His Wife, Goes to Jail—Cows Feed in Cemetery—Fines for Over-Speeding.

Charles G. Hines is serving fifty days in the workhouse as penance for scaring his wife. Hines, after imbibing too freely, thought it would be a good joke to scare his wife, and sent her a message that he had been killed in a boiler explosion at Cambrillo, Cal. The woman, after wiring for the care of the remains, returned to her lonely home to find her husband sitting on the front porch. Yesterday the joke turned on Hines, and he will devote the next fifty days to hard labor.

CEMETERY PASTURE.

H. A. Fritz, the keeper of the pauper's burial ground, was acquitted yesterday of a charge of battery, filed against him by Mrs. Ella Bush.

The evidence showed that cows belonging to Mrs. Bush frequently pulled stake and wandered into the cemetery. When Mrs. Bush collected the animals Saturday evening and started toward the gate, Fritz caught hold of the chains in order to detain her and warn her to keep the animals off the property.

The woman tugged at the chains and Fritz dropped them, whereupon Mrs. Bush, who was pulling hard, fell down and struck her head on the corner of the gate post.

H. Donovan, J. L. Dabbs, F. E. Guinney and R. Kurrie were fined by Justice Frederickson yesterday after pleading guilty to violating the speed laws. Donovan was fined $5 after pleading ignorance of the law. Dabbs was fined $10. Both are recent arrivals in Los Angeles. Guinney and Kurrie were fined $15 and $10, respectively.

TIRED OF ELECTIONS.

The charter election has gone into history and is now a fact, which, as the old Greeks used to say, the gods themselves cannot destroy. It was nobody's fight. The people rejected two-thirds of the propositions submitted to them by the faddists.

A large percentage of the jury begged to be excused from voting upon the many important matters put up to them. That was their business. There is no law, and should be no law, to compel a citizen to vote on any question unless it is his good will and pleasure so to do. The vote cast on Tuesday in the whole city of Los Angeles was under 15,000. That is, about one citizen in four entitled to vote cared anything about how the different propositions went. It is disappointing. Staying away from the polls is not good citizenship. The fact is, we are springing so many elections upon the people, disturbing their minds with so many discussions, wrangles and squabbles, that they are becoming tired of the whole business.

Of the thirty-one amendments to the charter submitted to the consideration of the voters on Tuesday, it appears that amendment No. 1 has carried, as should have been the case, as its effect will be for the general good of all. Amendment No. 2 has carried by a small margin, against our advice, which we think the people will have reason to regret in the time to come. This amendment replaces the present method of selecting the Council by an all-at-large body to legislate for the municipality. Its success appears to us to confirm every objection we have urged against it. We think its success is its condemnation. That class of our citizens who earnestly favored it, that section of the city which will have under it a much larger voice in city affairs than other sections, by their votes carried it. It was a class vote and a district vote. We believe that under the workings of this amendment we shall have a class Council and a district Council, and we believe that will be against the interests of all classes of citizens and of all sections of the city. Recognizing as we do the high intelligence, the honest purposes and good intentions of most of those who voted for this amendment, we think they were misled, as they have been before, and we predict that they will see in the practical workings of this scheme the error they have committed.

Amendment No. 4 has also carried by a small majority. By this, all nominations for all municipal offices must be made at a primary election. The names of the two citizens receiving the highest number of votes at the primary election shall be the only names permitted to appear on the ballot at the final election. There shall be no party designations upon the ballot, primary or final. All party distinctions are obliterated. We may have a Council composed entirely of members of one political party. With amendment No. 2 in effect, we may have a Council composed all of one class of citizens, all of one type of mind, all of one political leaning, all from one quarter of the territory included within the city limits. All these things are possible under these two amendments, and if the possibility ever become a fact, the effect upon the city will be injurious in the extreme. Party organizations exercise a check one upon another; the party is responsible in a large measure for the action of members of that party holding office. No such check, no such restraint, will exist under the new arrangement. The Councilman, Mayor or other city official will be a law to himself, will be answerable only to his own conscience, if he has any, to his greed or ambition if he lacks conscience.

However, we have no personal interest at stake in this matter in any way. We are not in politics. We have no desire to dictate to the citizens whom they shall elect or how they shall elect, or to impose any of our views or favorites upon the officials after they are selected. We have no favorites, no candidates for elective offices, no candidates for appointive offices, no desire to run things. Our interest is the broad and general concern of a plain, ordinary citizen in the well-being and progress of his city.

There is one impressive thing about this election of Tuesday. About one voter out of every four took the trouble to go to the polls. Out of thirty-one proposed amendments the people knocked twenty in the head with emphatic negatives. It means that the people are sick and tired, weary and disgusted, with this everlasting election business. The amendments which carried were successful because the faddists who favor them were thoroughly organized, on fire with their desire for some innovation in politics, determined to try some new thing. On the contrary, the "push" does not seem to have cared a deuce ace how the election went. If this gentry did not vote for No. 4, we are greatly in error as to their shrewdness and they quite as much so as to the effect it will have in determining our politics in the future.

If any man wants to play poker with a card sharp and thinks that although he would be beaten in one game he would win by playing two games, his reasoning faculties are not normal.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 304.

A bill has been introduced in the Assembly at Sacramento by Mr. Melrose of Anaheim, numbered as in our headline. The scope of this bill is to place in the civil code of the State of California two new sections, the purpose being to make trust deeds given to secure loans on real estate the same in intention and effect as a straight mortgage.

Giving Assemblyman Melrose credit for good intentions, we must, from a careful study of the question, conclude that he is wrong, that his bill will have a mischievous effect upon those in whose behalf it is proposed. It will not injure money lenders. It will in many ways work hardship upon borrowers. It will not take one dime out of the pocket of the rich nor put one in that of the poor.

As a matter of fact, many money lenders, rich ones among them, would be glad to have a law like this enacted. Banks and similar corporations would undoubtedly advocate such a law. These institutions, the abundantly rich, generally, can find desirable investments in straight mortgages for all the money they have to put out upon this kind of security. They limit the amount of their loans to about 50 per cent. of the market value of property of the average quality, 40 per cent. on non-income property, and seldom over 50 per cent. on central business property producing large revenue. These lenders do not ordinarily accept trust deeds; and many agents who handle money for wealthy people discountenance trust deeds, some of them refusing outright to lend money upon this kind of instrument.

The courts, under existing laws, safeguard the interest of the borrower in every way possibly contemplated in this proposed bill. It is competent for a debtor to go into court and show that the money obtained upon a trust deed was in the nature of a loan and not in the nature of an outright sale of the property; that in fact it was only intended to be a mortgage. The courts, we believe, have in not a few instances ruled in favor of this contention.

But the trust deed already has its proper place in our jurisprudence and serves an exceedingly useful purpose, favoring the borrower rather than the lender, the poor man rather than the rich, in numerous instances.

Let us instance two classes of real estate transactions where this is true. First, we will take the case of a man of very moderate means who desires to become possessed of a piece of property and has but, perhaps, 15 or 20 per cent. of the purchase price in cash. He can buy the property, but the seller will not take back a straight mortgage under these circumstances, whereas he will accept a trust deed. Of course, a contract for sale may be drawn and signed by both parties, but this is much more drastic and binding upon the borrower than the trust deed. Generally these contracts contain a clause reciting that "time is of the essence of this instrument," and with such a clause inserted, one day's tardiness wipes out all interest of the buyer in the property, entailing upon him the loss of all money paid.

Another instance where the trust deed serves a useful purpose favoring the person of moderate means, the borrower, rather than the lender, is where the owner of a piece of real estate desires to raise an unusually large sum of money. We will suppose that his purpose is to obtain a loan of 75 per cent. of the market value of the piece of property. No bank, heavy capitalist nor loaner of money of any degree who is conversant with business and wise in the management of his own affairs will think of lending so much money upon a straight mortgage, entailing a lawsuit to foreclose it, with very considerable costs, which, with accumulated interest, may run the money expended, including the loan, to actually more than the property will bring in the open market. Of course, the deficiency judgment is possible under such contingencies; but the debtor may be worth not one dollar outside of the parcel of property in question. Here the trust deed plays a very important part in favor of the person who feels he must have all the ready cash available upon his property. The trust deed provides that in case of failure to repay the money, property goes straight to the lender.

Now no person, honest, and possessed of good common sense, expects to borrow money and not make it good. If his purpose is to obtain more than his property is worth and then be delinquent in paying, he certainly should not expect to keep the money borrowed and the property pledged for its redemption. If he has procured an exceedingly large percentage of the actual value of the property and is unable to meet the obligations he has undertaken, he ought to be willing to put the lender to the least possible trouble. If, under market conditions, the property is worth more than the sum loaned upon it, the borrower is at liberty to go out into the market thirty or sixty days prior to the maturity of his note and sell his equity for what it will bring. If he has borrowed 70 or 75 per cent. of the actual value of his property and sells his equity for 10 or 15 per cent. more, surely, considering the pressure upon him for ready money when he entered into this undertaking, he has little room for complaint.

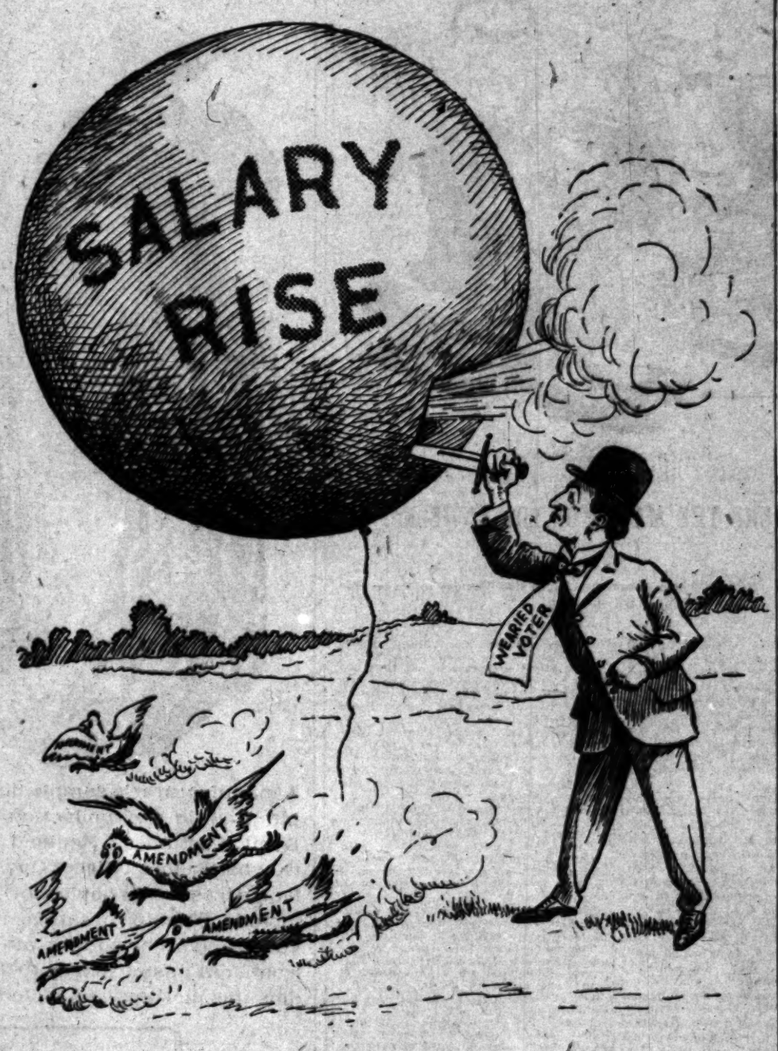
The giving of trust deeds has been practiced in this city for a long period of years. Going back into the past and taking 11,756 trust deeds given in Los Angeles county to secure money loaned on property, we find that in only ninety-five cases has it been necessary to sell the property to liquidate the indebtedness.

Assembly bill No. 304 should be defeated in the Legislature in the interest of the borrower, of the man of moderate means, of the plain people, of the mass of the people.

SIGNIFICANT VOTE.

The close vote Tuesday on charter amendments Nos. 2 and 4, pressed so hard by the Lissner-Willard organizations, is very significant. It has thrown a shadow over the enthusiasm of the recallers. It shows that they cannot hope to win. In an election of Mayor they cannot hold many of the voters who stood with them on Tuesday on theoretical questions. Hundreds of theorists in this city who are friendly to the recall and kindred fads, are outspoken in condemnation of the unfairness of the raid on Mayor Harper by those having grudges to pay, and will not vote the recall ticket in this case. Moreover, the Willard-Lissner party was well organized on Tuesday, whereas the anti-recall party made no effort to get out its vote. Again, thousands of voters, who cared not a whit about charter questions and did not vote on Tuesday, will go to the polls and vote against class politics if we have an election of Mayor. Then the Mayor's large personal following, split and largely asleep on Tuesday, will be united and come out when he appeals to the people. The recallers, in our opinion, cannot elect a Mayor, no matter whom they put up, with the line-up as it stands now—and the movement is clearly losing ground every day. The effect of the senseless recall agitation will only be to strengthen the hold upon the city of an element that never should have been permitted to gain control.

HAD HIS KNIFE OUT.



JUST BE PATIENT.

The right way for the government to deal with corporations which do business on a scale so large as to approach a monopoly is not easy to find. The "trust," so called, is new in our affairs. Government interference with business is new. It is dangerous unless exercised with great care and wisdom. We Americans do not yet see our way quite clearly. But we are learning.

Here is the Standard Oil Company brought to bay in Missouri. It comes into court and proposes a device which gives the State oversight over the company's affairs, and the "octopus" promises to obey this law.

It was the railroad managers who took up the campaign to stop rebating. The roads were being robbed by rebates. They are very glad to have them made illegal. Industrial magnates were more than willing to secure special privileges. They clamored for them. Each thought he was getting the greatest concession. The roads never gave up more than they were obliged to yield.

It is amazing to hear men abusing the railroads for infamies they made the road commit, which they received benefits from, made fortunes out of and would perpetrate again. And not one of these beneficiaries of rebates became a "reformer" or complained of bad treatment until he had ceased to get money surreptitiously out of the railroads.

The men who manage railroads and other large concerns are ordinary people, no better, no worse, than the rest of us. The things they are blamed for now were legal a few years ago. These men are quite as much inclined to obey the law as politicians or agitators. Make just laws and the managers of big concerns will obey them with as much alacrity as the rest of us. Some of our new laws are experimental and need amending. Let us be reasonable and patient.

REVOCACION MEXICANA.

Old Mexico sends greeting to the recallists of Los Angeles. The burden of the message is that our system of recall is complicated, expensive and cumbersome. They give us a pointer which will be simple and prompt, save expense and trouble, and eliminate general contention and strife among the people in cases of recall.

Lo, the Mexican method! A Chief of Police or other official, a higher-up or a lower-down, incurs the hostility of some good citizen, compadre or comadre, as the case may be. Said inimical person guards in strict secrecy his or her grouch, the public is not taken into confidence, nor imbroiled in the squabble. The parientes, male and female, large and small, far and near, are organized into a municipal league to recall the offending official.

There is no rushing into print nor calling a convention by pink ticket or otherwise. A few husky members of the conspiracy, secretly appointed, lie in wait for the offender, catch him some dark night as he passes the cuartel, chuck him bodily into the prison, seize all his artillery and ammunition—and there the recall process ends promptly and effectively. The offended compadre immediately proclaims himself successor to the office on which the "revocacion" has been so successfully worked.

A postscript to this communication from Guadalajara, Potosi or Guaymas calls attention to the beauty of the system. There is not a cent of expense involved in this recall. There is no stirring up of strife, bad blood and hatred among neighbors outside of the immediate families of the official and the few compadres or comadres. It is important to note that we spill too much ink in our recall business, and that the fear of bloodshed involved in the revocacion Mexicana is entirely unfounded. There is not a scratch made upon the cuticle of the culprit, nor is there a hair in his head disturbed. His sombrero is rarely knocked from his cabeza, and still less frequently is his serape torn from his shoulders.

This communication from the sister republic is respectfully referred to C. D. Willard and Mayor Lissner. When they have ousted the Mayor and the Chief of Police, Lissner shall proclaim himself alcalde and Willard will fill the office of Chief of Police, to the hobo's taste, if not to the Queen's.

HOROSCOPE.

Mars beckons boldly to the bold.
The market-place this day hath gold.

The moon approaches the full on this 35th day. Mars is in trine with the moon and in broad aspect.

Seek work. Deal freely with others. Travel.

The indications are good for anything connected with feathered creatures.

There is a most unusual influence for vigor and effective competition and rivalry. It will, indeed, be so powerful that those of sanguine or choleric temperaments will profit by keeping a tight and masterful rein on their impulses.

Quarrel is a menace in these twenty-four hours, and he will be wise who refuses to let dispute or annoyance draw him into angry reply or retaliation.

A good period is indicated for those who wish to consult physicians, surgeons, oculists, dentists or chemists.

The conjunction is favorable for butchers, grocers, bakers, tailors, shoemakers, carpenters, iron workers, sheriffs and other peace officers, soldiers and sailors.

Opportunity is promised for those in the employment of others if they are keen of wit and eye.

Women with this birthdate will do well not to get entangled in social war springing from gossip. The young will meet new friends.

Men with this birthdate should take heed against quarrel or hatred and consider well before they act on angry impulse. Those in employment must keep aloof from office feuds.

Children are born today under a sign promising great talents. Girls may develop a tendency to lack of self-esteem and discouragement. They must be trained to concentration.

A HAPPY TRIO.

Fair Exchange.

"Dear," she said, tremblingly, as she nestled against him on the first night of their honeymoon, "I have a secret to tell you."

"What is it?" he hissed, tragically.

"Can you ever forgive me for deceiving you?" she sobbed. "My left eye is made of glass!"

"Oh," he murmured, with a sigh of relief, "so say any more, dearest; so are the diamonds in your engagement ring."—[Tid-Bits.

Overtaken.

A wisened little man charged his wife with cruel and abusive treatment. His better half, or, in this case, better two-thirds, was a big, square-jawed woman with a determined eye.

The judge listened to the plaintiff's recital of wrongs with interest.

"Where did you meet this woman who, according to your story, has treated you so dreadfully?" his honor asked.

"Well, judge," replied the little man, making a brave attempt to glare defiantly at his wife, "I never did meet her. She just kind of overtook me."—[Everybody's Magazine.

His Deficiency.

A certain Chicago merchant died, leaving to his only son the conduct of an extensive business, no great doubt was expressed in some quarters whether the young man possessed the ability to carry out the father's policies.

"Well," said one kindly-disposed friend, "for my part, I think Henry is very bright, and expect I'm sure he will succeed."

"Perhaps you're right," said another friend, "Henry is undoubtedly a clever fellow, but take it from me, old man, he hasn't got the head to fill his father's shoes."—[Harper's Weekly.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

The Gamut Club gave its month dinner last night, and had as guests of honor, William Shakespeare of London; Mayor Harper, and Col. Kewen.

Mr. Shakespeare entertained the musical gathering for an extended period with thoroughly unconventional and delightfully interesting reminiscences of the great musicians with whom he has been associated during a long career.

Mayor Harper spoke briefly upon the advantages of felicitous fraternity and his remarks took a decidedly humorous turn. He was received with laughter and the applause of the good-fellowship he commended.

Col. Kewen recounted some of the early history of Los Angeles, and told a number of the obscure Spanish and Indian legends of the pre-Gringo days.

Musical numbers were also in evidence, Heber Coleman singing several songs, while J. E. Anderson was heard in piano solos—the club itself as usual, resolutely thumping out a stein accompaniment to a whole cluster of rollicking gloes.

With a cast of sixty, made up of the best amateur and professional talent obtainable; with a stage setting that is promised to be of unusual elegance, and with the supplementary attraction of a variety of special performances, the Los Angeles Athletic Club Minstrel show, at the Mason on February 18 and 19, should be a thoroughly worthy amateur event.

George L. McKeeby, Dr. T. O. Treen and Capt. C. W. Jargstorff comprise the committee which has direct charge of the show. Lyman Emerson, who has had a good many years of practical experience, is the manager. Roy L. Crist, well-known local musician, will be the director, and is now actively engaged in training the chorus. George McKeeby will be the interlocutor.

The famous Constabulary band of the Philippine Islands, head organization of the group of police bands so familiar in all Spanish cities, is approaching California waters, and is expected to land in San Francisco in about ten days.

On its way to Washington, where it will form the principal music feature of the Taft inauguration, it will pass through Los Angeles, and will play one or more concerts here.

Little is known about the band as yet, save that the whole organization numbers about seventy men, with a playing force of sixty.

Robert Lett will leave Ferris Hartman's company at the end of this week and join an eastern organization.

Edwin Lateil, who has himself been obsessed by "Dull Care" in the form of illness since his arrival here, was about yesterday and will probably resume his place on the Orpheum bill today, leaving the Vans free to go on to Salt Lake, where they will join the Road Show.

Miss Alice Colman of San Francisco will present her series of Greek dances, supplemented by vocal music, at the Gamut Club tonight. Miss Colman's idea is the conveyance of a complete Greek tableau by vocal and physical expression. She also presents brief Spanish and Neapolitan impersonations.

Frieda Langendorff's programme for the Saturday matinée will include arias from the "Stabeat Mater," Rossini's "Mitrane," Meyerbeer's "Le Prophete," and Donizetti's "Lucrezia Borgia," beside smaller numbers by Franz, Strauss, Van Der Stucken, Dalton, MacDowell, Hammond, Wolf, Tosti and Eckert.

Alice De Garmo, an attractive young woman, does some good equilibristic stunts. She is assisted by Edwin Keough. Harry Earl, in the new sketch written for Mr. Earl and his company by Edgar Lewis, is scoring a strong popular hit, and has been brought out for curtain speeches at each performance. Other performers are Al Hesse, tramp juggler; the Ballard, Albert and Wilson company, in comedy, and Miss Ferne Darby, singer.

DRAGS HEAD DOWNWARD.

In attempting to escape from the patrol wagon last night, F. F. Luttrell, an employe of the Merchants' Cold Storage Company, sustained a broken shoulder and numerous painful bruises about the head and body. Luttrell was arrested at Fifth and San Pedro streets on a charge of drunkenness, and the patrol wagon picked him up.

As it was moving briskly toward the station on First street, between Main and Spring, and while Officer Fred Hurt was busy with another prisoner, Luttrell suddenly sprang head foremost for the street. Hurt saw the move, and was able to grab Luttrell's trousers at the ankle. Unconscious of the trouble behind him, the driver went on for 300 feet before he was attracted by the shouts of Hurt, who still clung to the prisoner's legs. Luttrell's head and shoulders dragged on the asphalt. He lives at No. 1715 East Seventh street.

SUCCESSFUL SEMESTER.

Fresh Interest Awakened in the Work of the University of California and Art.

The semester now closing at the University of Southern California has been the most successful and encouraging in the history of the institution. There is a particularly large enrollment in the department of engineering, while another step forward of interest is the appointment of Prof. Hector Alliott to the faculty staff, who lectures on art subjects every week and looks forward to the establishment of a museum of fine arts under the shadow of the college.

During this and next week registration will proceed for the next semester. Classes will be resumed next Monday, although work in each will not be resumed in full swing before the next week.

Mayor Harper spoke briefly upon the advantages of fellcitous fraternity, and his remarks took a decidedly humorous turn. He was received with laughter and the applause of that good-fellowship he commended.

Col. Kewen recounted some of the early history of Los Angeles, and told a number of the obscure Spanish and Indian legends of the pre-Gringo days.

Musical numbers were also in evidence, Heber Coleman singing several songs, while J. E. Anderson was heard in piano solos—the club itself, as usual, resolutely thumping out a stein accompaniment to a whole cluster of rollicking glees.

With a cast of sixty, made up of the best amateur and professional talent obtainable; with a stage setting that is promised to be of unusual elegance, and with the supplementary attraction of a variety of special performances, the Los Angeles Athletic Club Minstrel show, at the Mason on February 18 and 19, should be a thoroughly worthy amateur event.

George L. McKeeby, Dr. T. O. Treen and Capt. C. W. Jargstorff comprise the committee which has direct charge of the show. Lyman Emerson, who has had a good many years of practical experience, is the manager. Roy L. Crist, well-known local musician, will be the director, and is now actively engaged in training the chorus. George McKeeby will be the interlocutor.

The scenery of the first part is being painted by Frank King of the Burbank and Majestic theaters.

The famous Constabulary band of the Philippine Islands, head organization of the group of police bands so familiar in all Spanish cities, is approaching California waters, and is expected to land in San Francisco in about ten days.

On its way to Washington, where it will form the principal music feature of the Taft inauguration, it will pass through Los Angeles, and will play one or more concerts here.

Little is known about the band as yet, save that the whole organization numbers about seventy men, with a playing force of sixty.

Robert Lett will leave Ferris Hartman's company at the end of this week and join an eastern organization.

Edwin Latell, who has himself been dubbed by "Dull Care" in the form of those since his arrival here, was shot yesterday and will probably resume his place on the Orpheum bill today, leaving the Vans free to go on to Salt Lake, where they will join the Road Show.

Miss Alice Colman of San Francisco will present her series of Greek dances, supplemented by vocal music, at the Gamut Club tonight. Miss Colman's idea is the conveyance of a complete Greek tableau by vocal and physical expression. She also presents brief Spanish and Neapolitan impersonations.

Frieda Langendorff's programme for the Saturday matinée will include arias from the "Stabeat Mater," Rossini's "Mitrane," Meyerbeer's "Le Prophete," and Donizetti's "Lucrezia Borgia," beside smaller numbers by Franz, Strauss, Van Der Stucken, Dalton, MacDowell, Hammond, Wolf, Trell and Eckert.

Heading the vaudeville bill at the Walker Theater this week are Armstrong and Davis, with their laughable sketch, "The Amateur Chauffeur." The piece has bright lines, new music and good comedy situations.

Alice De Garmo, an attractive young woman, does some good equilibristic stunts. She is assisted by Edwin Keough. Harry Earl, in the new sketch written for Mr. Earl and his company by Edgar Lewis, is scoring a strong popular hit, and has been brought out for curtain speeches at each performance. Other performers are Al Hessian, tramp juggler; the Ballard, Albert and Wilson company, in comedy, and Miss Ferne Darby, singer.

DRAGS HEAD DOWNWARD.

In attempting to escape from the patrol wagon last night, F. F. Luttrell, an employé of the Merchants' Transfer & Storage Company, sustained a broken shoulder and numerous painful bruises about the head and body. Luttrell was arrested at Fifth and San Pedro streets on a charge of drunkenness, and the patrol wagon picked him up.

As it was moving briskly toward the station on First street, between Main street and Spring, and while Officer Fred Hurt was busy with another prisoner, Luttrell suddenly sprang head foremost for the street. Hurt saw the move, and was able to grab Luttrell's trousers at the ankle. Unconscious of the trouble behind him, the driver kept on for 300 feet before he was attracted by the shouts of Hurt, who was clinging to the prisoner's leg. Luttrell's head and shoulders dragged on the asphalt. He lives at No. 1719 East Fourth street.

SUCCESSFUL SEMESTER.

Interest Awakened in the Work of the University of California and Art.

The semester now closing at the University of Southern California has been the most successful and encouraging in the history of the institution. There is a particularly large enrollment in the department of engineering, while another step forward of interest is the appointment of Prof. Alfred Allott to the faculty staff, who will lecture on art subjects every week looking forward to the establishment of a museum of fine arts under the shadow of the college.

During this and next week registrations will be resumed next week, although work in each will be resumed in full swing before the week.

LOCAL RAILWAYS.

TWO OUTLETS IN SOUTHWEST.

REPORT THAT ROCK ISLAND IS TO BUILD LINK.

Will Complete Line Started Seventeen Years Ago, Which Will Give Railroad a Shorter Path to Mexico and the Pacific Coast—Desert Road Is Progressing.

The Amarillo-Tucumcari extension of the Rock Island, begun in 1892, is to be completed, according to advices from Chicago. This will be a very important link in the Rock Island system, 111 miles long, and will cost $2,000,000. It was completed and is in operation between Amarillo and El Dorado, Tex., twenty miles, and when connected will give the Rock Island a short line to the Pacific Coast, to the Southwest and to Mexico, and will put it in a strong position to compete with the Gould and other lines for business to those sections.

The Rock Island will then have two outlets to the West and Southwest, one through Kansas City, and the other through Oklahoma City and Amarillo, and will become an active competitor of the Illinois Central-Southern Pacific combination and the Gould lines, for Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma business.

Ninety Miles Finished.

The California and Nevada, the name of the Mojave-to-Keeler road, has been completed for ninety of the 137 miles of the distance, and F. S. Edinger, the contractor, is quoted as saying that he is a year ahead on his work and will turn over the line in ten months. A 4400-foot tunnel is being built at the rate of 120 feet a day, at El Paso Pass.

Nash Succeeds Connelly.

S. C. Nash, district freight agent of the Gould lines in this city, has been appointed general agent, succeeding the late T. D. Connelly. A. C. Woppel takes the place vacated by Mr. Nash.

L. Harkness Dead.

L. Harkness, general agent of the Erie Dispatch, died yesterday at his home in San Francisco as a result of a stroke of paralysis two weeks ago. Mr. Harkness was well known on the Pacific Coast and was for a number of years agent for the Erie in this city.

Railroad Notes.

W. L. Greiner, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Colorado and Southern and Fort Worth and Denver railways, is in the city on a business trip. His territory covers all of the United States west of Denver, and he usually makes two trips a year to the Pacific Coast. He will be here for several days.

H. N. Butterfield, general agent of the Delaware, Lackawana and Western, after a stay of two weeks in Los Angeles has returned to his home in San Francisco.

T. C. Peck, general passenger agent of the Salt Lake, is spending a few days at Riverside.

H. A. Jones, traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, arrived in the city yesterday, to meet E. O. McCormick, traffic director of the Harriman lines, at Chicago, who is visiting here.

HER DIVORCE IS DOUBTFUL.

Mrs. Guggenheim to Have Hearing for Second and Absolute Decree.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Justice Gerard of the Supreme Court today appointed John Nash as referee in the suit brought by Grace Brown Guggenheim for an absolute divorce from William Guggenheim.

Referee Nash will be called upon to take evidence as to Mrs. Guggenheim's claim that she is still the legal wife of the defendant, despite the granting of a divorce to her in the Illinois courts in 1906.

In her suit, she alleged that the Illinois divorce was invalid because she was not a bona-fide resident of the State at the time.

A FEW REVIEWS OF THE BEST SELLER

The Wild Widow

By GERTIE DE S. WENTWORTH-JAMES.

New Haven Union: "The book, like the proverbial widow, is so dangerously fascinating in style that one does not care to commence to read it until they have time to finish it."

San Francisco Bulletin: "'The Wild Widow,' by Gertie De S. Wentworth-James, is just as wild as the wildest. The searcher for the morbid under the glare of the white lights may save himself the trouble of the hunt and read this book. It seems to be a cross between Sappho, The Absinthuer, The Decameron of Boccaccio and a Literary Aspiration. It might have been written by Potiphar's wife, had that lady grabbed a frenzied and unreproved pen and let her imagination have full sway."

The Cincinnati Times-Star says: "Let us introduce the 'Wild Widow.' She comes from England, where Paul of 'Three Weeks' lived. Gertie De S. Wentworth-James is the authoress. It is frankly an unusual story that comes perilously near the jumping-off place into the realm of unclad and virgin realism. It is passionate, palpitating and ingenious. The plot is unusual and the English readers liked it much."

The Milwaukee Free Press says: "The Wild Widow' is well named. Katherine Orlitson, with her striking looks and red hair, is the adventuress of imagination and originality. Her friend, Honora, was one of the true feminine type, Katherine being one of whom it was sure to be said that the gray mare was the better horse. Between them these ladies contrive to juggle with some of the deadly sins and to fracture several of the commandments, and when at last it turns out that none of the ten is broken beyond repair, nobody will be more justly surprised than the reader of this extraordinary tale."

PROGRESS.

NEW ROAD TO ENTER DOUGLAS.

ENGINEER OF RANDOLPH LINES ANNOUNCES PLAN.

Several Camps Are Working on Extensions and Work Is Progressing Rapidly — Authentic News from Yaqui Country Indicates Peace Conditions Are More Permanent.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Feb. 2.—There is joy in Douglas over a statement made yesterday by J. C. McClure, engineer of maintenance of way for the Randolph lines, who, in company with Right of Way Agent Charles D. Reppy, is in this city, after an inspection of the Southern Pacific lines through from Pearce to the border. He said, "We are coming straight to Douglas over the old surveyed line which was laid out about five years ago. The main line will be from Pearce to Douglas, but there will be branches to Gleeson, via Courtland, and to Bisbee and Naco." Mr. Reppy stated that he had secured a full right of way, and there would be no trouble whatever on that score.

"At Douglas connection will be made with the Nacozari Railroad, giving the Southern Pacific a much more direct communication with the great railroad building operations now under way in the upper Yaqui Valley below Nacozari. At Naco connection will be made with the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific Railroad, and over it with Cananea and Nogales, connecting up the border towns in much more direct manner than at present. Just how the Southern Pacific will get into Bisbee seems to be a question, but it is understood that Col. Randolph is absolutely sure on that point.

About 200 men are working already, grading the line from Pearce southward, and another camp is to be added at once, the outfits on the ground being managed by D. J. Desmond of Los Angeles, R. R. Coleman of Los Angeles, and Powers & O'Connor of El Paso. An interesting feature about these grading camps is that under a law passed by the Territorial Legislature they will be protected by absolute prohibition of the selling of liquor in quantities less than five gallons, the same prohibition to be effective within a radius of six miles from each camp. This prohibition also will shut down liquor selling in Courtland or in any other camp where a saloon shall not have been established at least six months.

The Phelps-Dodge Railroad to Courtland is being pushed through from Douglas as fast as possible. Dr. James Douglas, president of the road, states that the line will go no farther than Courtland, and that it is being built simply for the purpose of hauling ore of the district to the Douglas smelter.

Some Yaqui news, apparently of the authentic kind, at last is at hand. Col. Emilio Kosteritzky, commander of Gendarmerie Fiscal in the State of Sonora, is a visitor to Douglas. He says that the Yaquis apparently have come off the warpath permanently and that hundreds of Mexicans already are streaming into the Yaqui valley, settling upon farming land or going to work mines in districts which for years have been unsafe to the white man. A Sonora ranchman confirms this news, stating that he was present when the Yaqui Chief Bule made formal pledge of allegiance to the Mexican government and was invested with a nominal officership in the Mexican army, which gives him an allowance of about $10 a day silver. With him, as soldiers, were enlisted about fifty of his Yaqui warriors, who are to be under his direct command, their work principally being the seeking out and pacification of any outlying bands of the tribe. Bule also was adopted, after the Mexican fashion, as the son of a prominent Guaymas resident, adding the name of his adopted father to his own. The chief speaks both English and Spanish fluently and has acquired a much better education than the majority of his tribesmen.

Col. Kosteritzky declares that the much-killed Apache Kid is still alive and that for years he has been living in the Sierra Madre Mountains in Chihuahua, at the head of a little settlement of well-behaved Apaches, renegades from the United States. It is intimated that if any of these Apaches behave in other than circumspect manner their end would be in sight. The colonel deplored the prospective abolishment of the Arizona ranger service, stating that to his own knowledge very much good has been done along the border by the rangers, with whom he has worked in the utmost harmony at all times. He believes it would be very much better to double the force than to wipe it out.

Miguel Yanez, a resident of Pirtleville, a suburb of Douglas, has fled into Mexico, after a double murder, that of his wife and a Mexican known only as Pedro. The affair was one due to jealousy and drink. There were no witnesses, the body of the Yanez woman and Pedro being found together in the middle of a road, each with a fatal wound made by large caliber rifle bullets. Yanez and his wife had been separated about a month. Word has been received by the local authorities that Yanez announced that he was not through but that he had an account to settle with some unnamed American.

B. F. Graham of Douglas, who was one of the principals in the sale of the Tigre mines in Sonora for $650,000 and who afterward tried to break the contract by which he had released this property, now considered worth fully ten times that sum, is reported to have just made a $2,000,000 timber land sale in British Columbia. He lost everything he had in the litigation over the Tigre mine and is understood to have been compelled to borrow money to get as far as Los Angeles. Thereafter, on funds raised in Douglas, he secured an option on land in the Northwest which he has just disformed a Chamber of Commerce, with C. H. Jury as president and S. Montana, secretary. A similar organization has been started at Sylvanite with G. F. Humbert serving as president and J. W. Stoneman as secretary.

"STOMACH CLOCK"

Spoonful Said to Excite Ravenous Appetite and Digest Any Meal Eaten—Cut Out and Save.

Dr. Spaar, the noted stomach specialist, says that any healthy person can tell the time of day by their stomach. He explains by saying that it is a sub-conscious feeling due to the activity of the healthy nerves of the stomach calling for food. He says dyspeptics or people with any stomach disorder cannot tell time by an hour or two. The symptoms are heavy feeling and distress after eating, fickle appetite, heartburn, heart palpitation, headache, dullness, languor, weakness and nervousness. No better treatment can be found than this, relieving quickly and supplying plenty of digestive fluids: Get two ounces of syrup of ginger, two ounces of essence of pepsin and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix, shake thoroughly and take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal. A spoonful before eating will induce a good appetite. Very fine for old people and children with weak, sickly stomachs, and can be used freely without creating any drug habit.

Improvement Clubs and Recall.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been reading for some time and with much interest your paper and regarding its attitude toward the recall of our Mayor I have been surprised to see how fairly you have treated the matter.

The fact of The Times being the leading Republican paper of the Pacific Coast, and Mayor Harper a lifelong Democrat, convinces me that The Times wants to be perfectly fair. I am a Democrat and am free to state that I am not in politics and have never taken any part since a resident of this city excepting to vote, but I do admire a worthy and honorable foe.

The recall has done more harm to real estate and to the fair name of Los Angeles than the San Francisco earthquake and it is time that the good citizens of Los Angeles, regardless of party politics, should step in and put a stop to the disgraceful affair.

I noticed a few days ago in the columns of an evening paper a statement that the Federated Improvement Clubs of this city had indorsed the recall. This is an absolute falsehood. I am the delegate from the Euclid Heights Improvement Association to the Federated Clubs, and the treasurer of the Federated Clubs of this city, which is a non-political improvement association organized for the purpose of building up the city of Los Angeles. I am one of the charter members and have attended every meeting. The association has never been asked to indorse or denounce the recall, and it has never been discussed in our meetings; but personally I have talked the recall with a great number of our members and the majority of all I have talked with as individuals have condemned the recall as not being for the best interests of our city and being too narrow in scope and savoring too much of politics to be of any great value.

JAMES M. FLOWERS.

Hall Represents Only Himself.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your morning issue you print an article headed, "Queer Bedfellows," "License Allies," "Prohibitionists Fight Local Option." Now I want to say, as State chairman of the Prohibition party, that Mr. C. J. Hall in his letter to Sacramento does not represent the views of the Prohibition party of the State, county or city. They have never authorized him to speak for them before the Legislature. His letter only represents his individual views on the subject. The Prohibitionists are not fighting the local-option measure now before the Legislature, and are not lined up with liquor dealers.

The Prohibition party is in favor of any law that will give the people a chance to vote out the saloon in any political division of our fair State, and that will make the will of the people, as expressed by petition and vote, mandatory on the Board of Supervisors.

Such a law is demanded in almost every county in the State, and for the Prohibitionists to oppose such a law, to my mind, would make them unworthy of support and respect. While we do not think that local option is the best or final settlement of the liquor question, yet we have always worked for any local measure that would furnish even temporary respite from the saloon curse, until we could strike the finishing blow by national prohibition.

ELLSWORTH LEONARDSON,
State Chairman Prohibition Party.

Fire in the basement of the New York State Capitol yesterday afternoon filled the corridors with dense smoke and caused considerable excitement in the various departments. The loss was slight. The Senate was in session at the time.

News of the Shops.

An exclusive specialty house on ... Broadway is showing in its windows ... an array of lovely lingerie dresses, ... marked at prices that are simply astounding at this season of the year, ... when every one is planning their summer wardrobes. I noticed beautiful ... white, and pale pink and blue frocks, ... of French batiste, daintily trimmed ... with lace or embroidery and cut in ... the popular princess style, priced as ... low as $7.50.

The always handsome and popular ... shepherd's plaid seems to be well in ... the foreground of spring fashions. I ... have seen several of the black and ... white check suits very smartly made ... with a touch of plain color effectively ... used.

We are all on the qui vive these days ... looking for between season hats. None ... of us are exactly certain yet just what ... the summer styles will be and no one ... wants to commit herself to an expensive spring hat until she is pretty positive as to what the dictates of fashion will really demand. When in doubt, ... choose a turban for between season ... wear and you won't go amiss. I have ... heard a whisper from headquarters ... that the turban will be the thing for ... early spring. Just now the shops are ... selling them at attractive prices.

Have you noticed that many of our ... stores set aside a special day for bargains in particular lines? Just watch ... the advertising columns of The Times ... and you will see for yourself. For instance, yesterday a certain department ... store sold table linens at a reduction ... of 10 or 15 per cent. from the price ... which rules on other days. Notions, ... such as pins and needles, buttons, ... brass shields and hooks and eyes were likewise offered by this same firm at ... half price. It is economy to take advantage of these special sale days.

The above custom applies also to ... one of the leading and high-class grocers. Yesterday, for instance, you ... could get certain lines of canned and ... delicatessen goods at a Spring-street ... house for half the usual price, and ... sales at a special reduction. The ... fact that a limit was set on the amount ... sold to each person emphasized the ... point that you were getting a bona ... fide bargain.

Comfortable Corsets.

The head of the corset department ... in one of the Broadway stores, which ... is famous for its perfect fittings, told ... me yesterday that their average daily ... sales were ten dozen. Think of it—120 ... corsets a day at this one house. In ... these days of sheath effects, nothing ... is so important to the well-gowned ... woman as the fit of her corset—especially if she is inclined to be stout. ... The firm above referred to carries a ... line of corsets specially adapted to the ... woman of large figure. The old-fashioned idea of stiff bones and unbending ... steels is entirely out of date and the ... modern corset is pliable and molds the ... figure rather by persuasion than force. ... Elastic tricot is much used and corsets ... are cut so long that at first sight one ... wonders how in the world they can ... be worn, but it is the very fact of ... their pliableness that makes it possible, ... and women unite in saying that never ... before has Dame Fashion given us ... such comfortable corsets. The abominable creations which literally obliterated the abdomen of the stout woman ... last year, and gave her a gait like an ostrich, are done forever, we hope ... sincerely. High-class dressmakers are using corset material as a boned ... foundation of lining for costumes.

The hose supporters are really the ... "important thing" said the young ... man at the head of the corset department. "Some of our corsets have ... hose supporters and these keep the ... hose down and obliterate all ... wrinkles."

What Is a Brassiere?

Some one writes to know what is a ... brassiere. It is the French name for ... a corset cover and it is a counterpart of that garment, only it is absolutely smooth fitting and is slightly ... boned, fitting the figure perfectly. The ... brassiere is specially adapted to the ... stout woman and, when worn with a well-fitting corset, gives her a trim ... appearance.

Children's Styles.

I saw such a cunning little model in ... the window of a Broadway shop the ... other day. He wore a smart Panama ... hat, the brim turned up on one side ... and down on the other and a black ... band about the crown, ending in a ... jaunty string bow and ends. His ... suit was Russian suit was embroidered ... in French knots in pink and blue ... and a row around the tiny cuffs, the ... collar and decorating the simulated ... vest of this stunning little suit.

His little Russian suit was embroidered in French knots in pink and blue and a row around the tiny cuffs, the only decorating on the simulated coat of this stunning little suit.

Yesterday was "baby day" at one of the biggest department stores in town. All hemming was done free and baby's cunning little coat of wool or bearskin could be had for $1.50 instead of its former price of $4. Collapsible go-carts, with rubber-tire wheels and upholstered in leatherette, the regular $6.50 value, were offered for $3.50.

Children's rompers are quite the most fascinating little garments in the world when developed in linen, chambray, gingham or percale. They are of such simple construction that even an amateur can easily make them. They are the only proper garment for wear when the little one is engaged in the manufacture of the delectable mud pie, or is tunneling through a sand pile. Better make the sleeves elbow length and cut the neck low and square, for its warm work for baby—this digging and mixing business.

Ridiculous Fur Fads.

Really, it would seem that the fad for furs is going to extremes. The lady from Philadelphia informs me that actually whole frocks are being made of fur, and fur-covered buttons are considered especially smart in the Quaker City, while fur ornaments for the hair are in great demand. She says that the Mephisto quills, which are wired and bent back to resemble the quills on the head of the mediaeval devil, are generally fur tails. No wonder fur-coated cats and dogs are fashionable accompaniments for the ultra fashionables.

Fashions and Fads.

Skirts still grow narrower.

Heavy Venetian lace is in high favor.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Bubble Rides for Building.

The Wednesday Morning Club has evolved a unique plan for raising money to add to the club-house building fund, and for advertising the scenic beauties of East Los Angeles and its environs. On the 17th inst., a whole string of automobiles will be drawn up before the lot owned by the club at Twenty-eighth and Sichel streets. Those who have purchased tickets for a ride will be whirled to Eastlake Park and shown this beautiful breathing place. Then they will be hurried on to Montecito Park, and to see those splendid giant trees of Sycamore Grove, and finally up Mt. Washington to behold the grand view from its summit.

Yesterday afternoon this enterprising club gave a programme looking backward over the pages of early history in Los Angeles, especially of East Los Angeles. Mrs. Owen McAleer read a paper dealing with the history of this city up to the time of the padres, and J. M. Guinn carried on the story to the present day. Mr. Guinn has the old wonder tales of Southern California on the tip of his tongue. In his talk the picturesque figures of the early days in Southern California were made realistic by personal reminiscences.

The delightful feature of the afternoon was the presence of a number of the old settlers of East Los Angeles who related experiences which have now gone into history. Mrs. Hancock Johnson, Henry Earl, Mrs. Mary Haywood, Mrs. F. R. Willis, Mrs. J. P. Morris, Mrs. H. E. Ball and others spoke.

Ruskin Art.

In spite of the rain, Symphony Hall was filled with the members of the Ruskin Art Club and their friends yesterday morning to hear a clever exposition of "Color in Interior Decoration, by Francis Hill Latimore of Rochester, N. Y. He unfolded the spiritual significance of color and spoke of the psychological influence, defining the elements of color charm. The stereopticon slides shown revealed the interiors of homes eminently livable with that simplicity which is a restful content," and their opposites showing crowded and unpleasant effects.

"Bal Poudre."

There is always an air of distinction about powdered heads, a command to hark back to days of courtliness and romance, when lace frills and satin waistcoats were the concomitants of stately cavaliers, and when maids and matrons wore panniers and quilted petticoats and adorned their pretty faces with coquettish patches.

February is the month of romance with St. Valentine in its calendar, and Washington's Birthday to revive colonial memories, so the 16th inst. has been selected as the date for a brilliant "Bal Poudre" to be given under the auspices of the auxiliary of the Convent of the Good Shepherd. It will take place at Kramer's Hall, and belles and beaux will have an opportunity to look their best with the powdered hair that will be the keynote of the evening.

The annual entertainment given by the Good Shepherd auxiliary is always looked forward to with delight and one has the sweet assurance of feeling that the gay good time will mean help and support to one of the worthiest charities in the world.

Badger Meeting.

"California Authors and Literature" was the subject for consideration at

Mrs. C. C. Desmond,

yesterday's meeting of the Badger Club. Miss Mary Bevans of the Public Library gave a charming account of that early Overland group of writers who first placed the name of California on the roll of literary fame. Quoting Irving B. Richman, she said: "California has achieved to a remarkable degree the position of a literary State. More than any section, other than New England, is California noted for its authors. Its literary birth began, so to speak, with the founding of the Overland Monthly.

"In July, 1868," continued Miss Bevans, "when the first number of the Overland Monthly appeared, scholarship and culture were concealed in mining and logging camps and on remote ranches in this great State. Both men and women wrote with the intellectual freshness and inspiration of a new and better environment."

Miss Bevans called the roll of those old familiar writers, Bret Harte, whose short-story masterpieces are filled with the life of the mountains, the prairies and the cañons, with torrents, snowstorms, bronchos, stage coaches, mining camps, poker games, brawls and lynchings woven into stories by a man who understands all emotions from despairing anguish to glorious exaltation; Charles Warren Stoddard, and his South Sea Idylls; Samuel Clemens, Ina Coibrith, Edward Rowland Sill, Joaquin Miller, John Muir and the rest.

Mrs. Clarence Pease followed Miss Bevans with a splendid account of the later writers, enlivened with personal anecdotes. She covered the field from the juvenile writers to Gertrude Atherton, Gwendolin Overton and Homer Lea of the "Vermilion Pencil."

Rally Day.

Something new under the sun has been found by the Child-Study Circle of the McKinley-avenue school. This afternoon a rally will be held in the vicinity, fifteen homes being opened from 2 to 4 o'clock, where various speakers will talk on the coöperation between home and school, and other vital matters of public interest in the vicinity.

At these fifteen homes, clothes and supplies for the Emergency Committee of the Mothers' Congress will be received, and the work of the committee in relieving the distress among the school children will be explained to the callers. The speakers will be taken in an automobile from place to place, each speaker going to three places. They are: Mrs. H. W. Crevelling, president of the McKinley-avenue organization; Mrs. W. A. Varcoe, Mrs. C. A. Noble, Mrs. Frank Goodhue and Mrs. Charles Hutchinson.

RECALL PROTESTS.

Signatures Against the Movement Are Gained by the Business Men's Organization.

Over 2000 signatures were gained for the pro-Harper petitions against the recall election yesterday. The canvassers reported at the headquarters of the Business Men's Organization, in the Germain building, that they were meeting with great success. One man, Vincent Bowser, reported 100 signatures for the day.

The anti-recall signatures now approximate 13,000 and the effort for the rest of the week will be to double this number. Many voters are calling at the headquarters to sign the petitions and to tender their services in supporting the fight against the recall.

One man who made his station in the Pacific Electric building received over 200 signatures in a day and a half without soliciting one.

New petitions of the organization read: "We, the undersigned, believing that the present movement under way to recall the Mayor of the city of Los Angeles is not for the best interests of the city, and, believing that the recall, if put into effect, will be of great injury to the city, therefore protest against such recall and pledge ourselves to use our influence against it."

William D. Stephens, who was asked by the recall set to permit the use of his name as a candidate for Mayor, has not returned his answer to Judge J. D. Works, chairman of the meeting. Mr. Stephens said last night that he had not decided what he would do.

At recall headquarters it is asserted that there are 7500 names on the lists asking for a special election. As it was said on Monday that over three-fourths of the number needed (8000) had been obtained, it appears that the efforts at the polling places on election day gained only 1500 names. The recall set is working with reduced forces and those "reduced" say they were told that the funds were insufficient.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Willimantic, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularities, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstair without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. ETTA DONOVAN, Box 290, Willimantic, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

This Doctor

Cures Without Drugs

Don't take another dose of drugs. You know how they upset your stomach and cause you to lose appetite. You know the many disagreeable effects of drugs, yet you go on taking them for every little pain or disorder, just because your father before you took drugs.

I have the natural way of curing disease, the way nature does it. I cure with electricity.

When your stomach, kidneys, liver or digestive organs become weak or fail to do their work properly, it is because they lack electricity. It's the power that runs every part of your body. It's the cause of life itself. Any man can see that if the body has all the electricity it needs there can be no pain or weakness.

The only way to restore a weak organ to a healthy condition is to restore electricity where it is needed. I do this with my electric belt.

Wear it while you sleep and feel its life-giving stream of electricity penetrating your vitals. It soaks into your nerves and is carried by them to every part of your body. It removes the cause of disease, and when the cause is removed, Nature will do the rest.

It's easy and cheap to be cured by my electric belt. The cost is not half an ordinary siege of drugging.

Cut out this ad and mail it to me today. I'll send you my large, illustrated book which explains my treatment fully. It gives prices and descriptions of all my belts. Cut out the ad. now.

ELABORATE RECEPTION.

Mrs. Helen Belford and Mrs. Edwin D. Neff, of Altadena, gave yesterday afternoon, at the Valley Hunt Clubhouse, one of the most elaborately appointed receptions of the winter season, complimentary to Mrs. Adolph Gartz, who has recently come to Altadena to reside.

Bay trees, potted palms and rare foliage plants were used in the reception hall. In the south drawing-room American Beauty roses were used with smilax, and festoons of asparagus plumosis. On the mantel acacia was banked and over arched doorways garlands of green made effective decoration. Mrs. Neff wore an exquisite costume of white mousselin de soie, embroidered with pompadour roses and trimmed with Duchess lace. Mrs. Belford's gown was white chiffon velvet with elegant embroideries of white and antique lace. Mrs. Gartz wore an imported gown of white embroidered crepe.

The ballroom was open and attractively set with groups of palms, bay trees and potted exotics. On the stage Bland's Orchestra furnished music throughout the reception hours. In the dining-room, the floral decorations were charming. Pink carnations with ferns were banked in every available place and upon the table was an immense basket of roses. Pale pink tulle carried out the color scheme and pink-shaded candles aded to the pretty effect. Mmes. Clinton P. Morehous, Arthur H. Sellers, George Gerald Guyer and Carter Harrison presided over the tea table, and in the reception-room Mmes. D. H. Girouard, and Arthur Woodward served punch. Other unbonneted women were Mmes. E. A. STIR AT BEACH.

OCEAN PARK IS FAVORED CITY.

RECOMMENDED BY INSPECTORS AS POSTAL CENTER.

Despite Protests Santa Monica and Venice May Have Only Branch Postoffices—Senators and Representatives Pledged to Oppose Such an Arrangement.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 3.—The information was received today that the inspectors who recently examined into local postal conditions have recommended the installation of the free delivery system, with the main office on Marine street and the Santa Monica and Venice offices as substations. The examination made by the inspectors was in response to the petition of Santa Monica for free delivery, but the inspectors reviewed conditions from one end of the bay to the other and gave it as their opinion that the Ocean Park postoffice should be discontinued as such and that it should be known hereafter as Santa Monica.

Santa Monica and Venice have flooded the department with protests against the proposed consolidation, and as the Senators and Representatives in Congress and Postmaster Flint of Los Angeles are pledged to oppose consolidation, it is not generally believed that the department will go against this opposition.

Etta M., wife of W. L. Pierce of Rose avenue and Fourth street, died last night at the Santa Monica Bay Hospital, as a result of burns sustained several days ago. She was 45 years of age. A daughter is Mrs. William H. Ford of Los Angeles. The interment will be at Evergreen Cemetery, Los Angeles, tomorrow.

A few days spent at Arrowhead Hot Springs will put you in perfect physical shape.

THIEF OVERLOOKS JEWELS.

Secures Sixty Dollars from Monrovia Home, However—Shortages in City Departments.

MONROVIA, Feb. 3.—A purse containing $60 was stolen last evening from the residence of W. C. Campbell on North Encinitas avenue. The thief gained entrance to a bedroom, adjoining the livingroom, in which the family was gathered, by cutting the wire screen and unfastening the window catch. Jewels of considerable value and numerous gold ornaments were not disturbed.

Two hobos were arrested on suspicion, but they had no money on their persons. They were given five days on the rock pile for vagrancy.

MUNICIPAL SHORTAGES.

Shortages in three municipal departments, due to clerical errors, have been met by the officials in charge paying into the City Treasury about $800. The accounts of Recorder W. H. Evans were perfectly clear and correct. His apparent shortage of $125 was due to failure of the city to make formal demand for an accounting. Water Collector H. M. Bovee, whose accounts were reported $170 short by Special Auditor Chase, declined to make good on the ground that he did not collect the sum charged to him. The bill for the amount has been placed in the hands of City Attorney Haas for collection.

SANTA MONICA.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 3.—The student body of the High School has made its nominations for the coming year, and tomorrow will be election day. Three officers are to be chosen and a hot campaign is on.

HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3.—Especial interest attaches to the Lincoln Day celebration at the Union High School here, owing to the fact that one of the speakers, former Senator Cornelius Cole, was present at the platform at the time Lincoln made his Gettysburg address. Col. J. J. Steadman will speak on "Lincoln, as Seen By a Northerner," and Rev. E. P. Ryland on "Lincoln, as Seen By a Southerner." Robert McLaughlin will read the Gettysburg address. Senator Cole will tell the circumstances under which it was delivered and Hugo Kirchhofer will sing Lincoln's favorite hymn, "Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud." The exercises will open at 10 o'clock the morning of February 12, in the High School Auditorium.

WATTS, Feb. 3.—The agreement between the City Attorney and the James H. Adams Company of Los Angeles, concerning the purchase of the $50,000 bond issue, was ratified by the Council yesterday. The James H. Adams Company agreed to purchase the bonds at par value and will pay cash. The city will defray the cost of engraving the bonds. The bonds bear 5 per cent. interest, and mature in forty years.

The board also awarded the contract for the paving of Compton avenue and Long Beach boulevard to Mr. Le Mieu of Compton. Le Mieu agreed to construct the curb for 25 cents per linear foot, and the sidewalks for 9 cents per square foot.

The Methodist Church will commence work on a large addition to the present building within the present month. The addition will be 46 feet square and will cost $1500. The labor and $500 of the cost has already been given.

Showers at short intervals since 2 a.m. today will delay plowing for a week as the ground is already soaked.

BURBANK WANTS RAILWAY.

Electric Line Assured If Thirty-Thousand-Dollar Bonus Is Raised—Subscriptions Sought.

BURBANK, Feb. 3.—A petition asking for money subscriptions to be used as bonus for an electric railway is being circulated here. The prospect of such a line has aroused much enthusiasm, and there is little doubt that all the private right of way needed can be obtained from the Glendale end of the line at Casa Verdugo. The route contemplated will lead north of Kenneth road to Drahans, to Grand avenue north to Tenth street to Providence avenue, north to Eleventh street, to Olive avenue to the terminal at Brand Cañon and Olive avenue.

L. C. Brand has made an offer to build the road providing the people will raise $30,000, and furnish the right of way.

HIGH PRICE FOR GROVE.

Former Nebraskan Purchases Orange Ranch—New Pastor of Brethren Church Arrives.

LORDSBURG, Feb. 3.—Crookshank & Somers Company today sold to J. C. Gapp, a recent arrival from Nebraska, eighteen acres of their La Verne orange grove for $36,000.

This grove, located near the La Verne public school, is well known as the former ranch of M. L. Sparks. The trees are 9 years old and there are 5000 boxes of oranges on them, which go with the place. Mr. Gapp buys for an investment.

Rev. Dr. Thomas, the new pastor for the Brethren Church, and his family have moved from Los Angeles and are now settled in the parsonage.

Charles R. Baynham, former proprietor of Canip Baynham, San Antonio Cañon, has leased the former Noble ranch on Mesa avenue and will make it his home. He has also bought ten acres of the Mills tract and will plant orange trees.

TO POKE FUN AT FAMOUS.

Pomona Minstrels Hold Successful Dress Rehearsal—High School Crowded.

POMONA, Feb. 3.—A full rehearsal of the chorus and orchestra of the Co. D minstrels, which will give two performances at the Fraternal Aid Theater, February 18 and 19, was held last night. The music is bright and the dancing graceful.

There are forty in the chorus. An innovation is the boy choir, composed of the pick of the local singers among the school lads here. The orchestra is large. A laughable afterpiece, introducing several of Pomona's celebrities, will be given under the title "A Night at the Palomares." A musical comedietta will also be given in the olio by Messrs. Brewster and Crandall and A. H. Witman, Jr., will give a monologue.

Members of the local Board of Education have waited upon the Trustees relative to having incorporated in the proposed bond election for the City Hall and site, a measure providing $30,000 for an addition to the present High School which is now much overcrowded. With the recent promotions there are now about 350 pupils in the school.

The new fifty-horse-power fire truck has arrived, and was tested satisfactorily yesterday afternoon. The machine cost about $2500 and will carry 800 feet of water hose, a chemical tank and 250 feet of chemical hose.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

LONOAK'S FIND IN MONTEREY.

SALINAS COMPANY'S STRIKE IS STARTING BOOM.

Hundreds Said to Be Flocking to King City and Stock Sells There at Six Dollars a Share—Eighteen Millions Paid by Companies Listed in 'Frisco.

According to reports reaching here from King City, there is a boom in sight in the fields of Monterey that, once started, may extend to San Luis Obispo county. In the term "Monterey county" is included the western edge of San Benito, as the dividing line runs right through the center of the district where oil has been found, it is said, and where it is being sought by the Standard. No one can tell, without being better posted than most people, which county many of the well sites are in.

The Salinas Daily Index of January 26 says that telephone messages received from Scott Herring, in charge of the Lonoak's well, said that a strike was made the night previous, and oil had risen 400 feet in the hole. Twenty barrels had been used in the engine and found "superior to that furnished by the Associated." Drilling is temporarily suspended, it is said, until provision is made for handling the oil.

The Lonoak is owned by Judge Vanderhorst, a Salinas banker, and associates. The Index says its stock is selling locally at $6 a share. The Salinas, another company, is also to put out stock and drill in that region. Excitement is high at King City, the headquarters for the region, and several hundred men are reported to have come in looking for oil.

Last October The Times oil reporter visited Monterey county and at that time the Lonoak was pulling the casing from its first well of 2700 feet near the Monterey-San Benito line and between Peachtree and Topo Valley, where the Standard was drilling. Salt water had been struck and a second well was to be started a few miles away, somewhere around Alvarez Cañon, according to information then obtainable. This is the well which is reported to have oil. The location and depth are not given in the Index's article.

The Wright & Callender Company of this city has 25,000 acres just south of and extending almost to the town of Bradley, mostly west of the Salinas River, and partly in Monterey and partly in San Luis Obispo county. Some very shallow drilling was done here years ago, but not enough to prove anything for or against the territory. Chansler, the station where the new branch to Stone Cañon coal mines joins the Southern Pacific's main line, is on this land.

By unlisted companies there have been paid something over $3,000,000, counting only those whose disbursements are known. Some of these are listed in Los Angeles. The largest payer is the California Oil Fields, Ltd., whose known dividends are $1,750,000. Thus in round numbers California's oil dividends are $22,000,000, not counting many close corporations.

Traders Begin Paying.

The Traders' Oil Company of Coalinga began paying dividends at New Year's at the annual rate of 12 per cent. The capitalization is $1,100,000 and shares are $100 par. Payments of $1 a share were made January 1 and February 1. Last month, deliveries to the Associated were 27,730 barrels, valued at $22,853.39.

Sixty-three Cents Now.
Beginning February 1, the Associated is paying the Independent Agencies 63 instead of 60 cents a barrel. Half a cent is deducted by the agency for its expenses.

Goes to Mexico.

M. V. McQuigg leaves today for a trip to Mexico, where he will visit Ebano and the oil fields on the gulf. He says he is going to see the country and study the situation, and there is no particular significance to his trip.

FAMILY JAR.

WIDOW FILES DINGLEY BILL.

LATEST ONE IS TO MAKE SON GIVE ACCOUNTING.

Wife of Late Congressman Asks Kalamazoo Court to Secure from Edward Dingley an Explanation of Mismanagement of His Newspaper There and Disappearance of Money.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KALAMAZOO (Mich.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Salome M. Dingley of Lewiston, Me., widow of the late Congressman Nelson Dingley, author of the tariff bill which bears his name, in chancery division of the Circuit Court, has filed a bill asking for an accounting from her son, Edward Dingley, until November last manager of the Kalamazoo Telegraph. The bill contains sensational charges of mismanagement, misapplication of funds to his own private purposes, and failure to give an accounting on the part of Dingley, the defendant, while he was manager of the Telegraph. It is alleged that the items, amounting to $134,000, appear on the books, accounted for only as incidentals, and that Mr. Dingley's personal account has been overdrawn over $29,000.

Mrs. Dingley, who is 77 years old, has been forced to take this action because of the demands of two children for an accounting of the estate, which demands have taken the form of action in the probate court in Maine.

Edward N. Dingley claimed to own the Telegraph building, in which his paper is published. He recently, his wife joining, gave deed to the building to Fred W. Rockwell of Albany, N. Y. The bill alleges that funds belonging to Mrs. Dingley were used in the building, for which reason she has an equity in it, and asks that during the pending of present proceedings Edward N. Dingley, Miriam Dingley, his wife, and Fred M. Rockwell be restrained from in any way disposing of the building.

TEXAS MAY PUBLISH BANS.

Legislator Wants to Prevent Hasty Marriage and Cites Ruth Bryan Leavitt as Example.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hasty marriages cannot take place in Texas if a bill which is now pending in the Legislature becomes a law as anticipated. At a meeting of the House Committee on Judiciary today the measure was discussed. Representative Jenkins urged the adoption of a provision requiring the application for a marriage license to be posted for ten days before being complied with. His object, he says, is to lessen in a degree hasty marriages and marriages against the consent of the parents, contending that happy marriages under these conditions is exceptional and pointed out the case of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of W. J. Bryan as an example.

Mr. Jenkins contended that such a precaution as he advocated would assist in reducing the number of divorces in Texas. The bill under consideration is by Mr. Cable and provides that before issuing a marriage license a County Clerk must have received the consent of the parents, either in person or writing, and when in writing it must be sworn to. Mr. Jenkins's arguments resulted in a postponement of the bill for amendments.

The manner of posting the notice, according to Mr. Jenkins, should be in a specially provided document in order that newspapers could publish the record before the marriage takes place. A thirty-day instead of ten-day notice was recommended.

Burns of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress has been notified by cable that Sir William MacDonald of Pretoria, one of the most noted agronomists of the world, has left London to attend the meeting of the Congress in Cheyenne on February 22, as a representative of the Transvaal.

For many years Sir William has studied the problems of arid land farming, with a view to producing in the Transvaal not only a local food supply, but of producing enough grain for export to England.

He will address the congress on dry farming in South Africa.

SUSTAINS BROKEN LEG.

Thrown from his seat to the pavement when a Downey-avenue car struck the furniture wagon he was driving, at Workman street and Downey avenue, last night, Walter Mitchell of No. 1354 South Flower street sustained a fracture of his left leg. He was taken to the County Hospital for treatment, where he was attended by Dr. W. E. Carter.

Numerous reports have been received of an additional earth tremor being felt in Montreal at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The shock was very slight and brief. It was the third shock felt there this week.

HOW TO CURE ASTHMA

Successful Method of Home Treatment for Every Sufferer.

It is not necessary, although many people think it is, to change climate in order to cure asthma. This distressing disease can be cured at home, and without absence from business.

The discovery, a short time ago, of the wonderful specific, ascatco, has made it possible to cure the most obstinate cases of asthma right at home in four or five weeks, and ward off the choking spells at night, so dreaded by sufferers and looked forward to with fear and anxiety.

Being the result of careful study and research by a world-famous specialist, ascatco represents the best brain-work of the medical profession. It is not a patent medicine, but a scientific formula, and it will cure the worst cases of asthma, no matter of how long standing.

The Austrian Laboratory, which dispenses the preparation, keeps the Owl Drug Co. constantly supplied with ascatco, where sufferers in Los Angeles may secure it in either the fifty-cent size, intended for mild cases, and which will prevent the choking paroxysms, or the $2 size which lasts a month, and in which time the more obstinate or chronic cases are permanently cured.

The way for any one to become satisfied that ascatco is a really wonderful remedy is, simply, to write to the Austrian Laboratory, 32 West 25th street, New York City, and ask for an experimental treatment which they will be glad to send by mail without any charge whatever.

ECZEMA CURABLE? PROVEN!

Attorney at Moline, Ill., Convinced by Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

There is nothing that will convince a lawyer except evidence.

Now, here is some rather startling evidence of a simple home cure for eczema which convinced one lawyer, F. C. Entriken, attorney at Moline, Ill. He tells how oil of wintergreen compound mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription, cured him in thirty days after thirty-two years of suffering.

"For 32 years," writes Attorney Entriken, "I was troubled with eczema, scabs all over my face, body and head. I could run a hair brush over my body and the floor would be covered with scales enough to fill a basket. I tried everything—salves, internal medicine, X-Ray—all without result."

"Just a month ago I was induced to try D. D. D. Prescription. The itch was relieved instantly; so it continued. It is just a month now and I am completely cured. I have not a particle of itch and the scales have dropped off."

"I can only say again CURE DISCOVERED. I am now starting all eczema sufferers on the right track."

Cure after cure has been brought to our attention and always that instant relief from the awful itch.

HINGES ON HORSE.

LIVERYMAN ASKS FOR A SCALP.

ACCUSES COUNTY VETERINARIAN OF INCOMPETENCE.

Supervisors Receive Complaint at Santa Ana and Refer Matter to the District Attorney—Constable of Talbert Is Arrested on Charge of Selling Liquor.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 3.—Formal charges of gross incompetency were preferred against County Veterinarian W. S. McFarlane of Anaheim, before the Supervisors today, by John Hahn, a liveryman of that city. Hahn asks that Dr. McFarlane be removed from office. He has complained verbally several times, but the Supervisors refused to act unless the complaint was written.

Hahn says that McFarlane, last March, diagnosed a case as glanders and spread the report that Hahn refused to kill the horse, and would not pay a bill owed McFarlane, if the latter killed it. Hahn states that Dr. R. A. Lord, a local veterinarian, and Dr. W. E. G. Morrison, assistant State veterinarian, have examined the animal, and have found it to be free of glanders.

The liveryman is after McFarlane's scalp and has retained Attorney H. G. Ames to help him get it. No action was taken on the charges today, pending advice from the District Attorney.

A short time ago the county was presented with a bill for $400 from E. J. Levengood, which amount Levengood claimed was due him for cattle that died as the result of dipping for Texas fever tick, under McFarlane's inspection.

FOR FIRE PATROL.

H. A. E. Marshall of San Diego, supervisor of the Cleveland National Forest, has asked the Supervisors to agree to pay a man $75 per month for six months to help in the fire patrol of Orange county's timber and brush-covered hills during the dry season this year. The communication was referred to the District Attorney.

CONSTABLE ARRESTED.

Constable Maitland Smith of Talbert has been arrested on a charge of running a tippling house. The complaint was sworn to by J. R. Goodrich, who claims to have bought liquor from Smith at different times on and before January 29. Smith was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Smithwick this afternoon and will plead Saturday morning.

SLAUGHTER.

LAMBS SLAIN BY WHOLESALE.

STORM KILLS EIGHT HUNDRED IN HALF AN HOUR.

Santa Barbara Man Loses Small Fortune on Ranch in Refugio Section, Where Others Suffer Similarly. Five Torpedo-boat Destroyers Sail for San Francisco.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 3.—Joseph Borderro, a local hotel-keeper who has a large ranch in the Refugio section, lost 800 lambs in the recent storm in half an hour.

He says that many other ranch men in the same section suffered similarly. It was the worst storm in his memory.

A quartette of torpedo-boat destroyers, the Truxtun, Stewart, Perry and Preble, were joined here this morning by the Paul Jones. Later in the day they left for San Francisco, executing maneuvers in the channel on the way.

HOTEL GUESTS.

Resumption of regular traffic on the Coast Line has brought floods of guests to the Hotel Potter. From San Mateo are registered the Viscount and the Viscountess Elie de Dampierre, who will be entertained at many functions during the next few days. C. L. Peters, a well-known New York manufacturer, arrived today, as did also W. H. Simpson, who has full charge of the Santa Fé's advertising.

HIGH SCHOOL AT FILLMORE?

New District Probably to Be Formed. Ventura Will Support a Band. Motor Fire Engine.

VENTURA, Feb. 3.—The east end of the county, with Fillmore as the center, is to have a new high school. Some weeks ago seven of the districts included in the Santa Paula High School district expressed their intention of withdrawing and forming a district of their own, the intention being to locate a high school at Fillmore. Santa Paula was up in arms over the threatened change and at the last meeting of the Supervisors, appeared in opposition. The matter was put over. Today Santa Paula withdrew her opposition. It then only remained for the new district to legalize her claim and her petitions and the District Attorney was ordered to prepare the necessary document for the withdrawal of the districts involved. With the permission of the County Superintendent of Schools, a new district may be formed.

George C. Hobrat has filed petition for letters of administration upon the estate of the late William Livesey, who died at Salina Cruz, Mex., while on a visit there. The estate consists of cash, notes and real estate of the probable value of $10,000.

This city is to have a municipally conducted band. Arrangements to that end were made at the last meeting of the Council. There will be concerts once each week. Fifty dollars a month is set aside for Prof. Simonds, the leader.

The city has decided to buy a motor fire engine and one is to be brought here for trial.

The City Marshal is after the dog owners of the town. The place is full of untagged canines and a plan is being considered by which it will be a misdemeanor for one to own a dog upon which the tax has not been paid.

Paul Charlebois having withdrawn from the bond of the Marshal, that official has presented a new bond in the sum of $20,000, with D. S. Blackburn, J. E. Camarillo, Charles Barnard, B. W. Dudley and E. E. Dunning as sureties.

The Native Daughters are making arrangements to plant each side of the entire length of Thompson boulevard (two miles) with fan palms.

Peck of Elsinore, which he has had put in pamphlet form, was discussed. Mrs. Taylor of Grand avenue spoke of the L.T.L., which is being organized on Grand avenue, and it was decided that the White Ribbon be sent to each member of the W.C.T.U.

SAYS GOV. TOOLE ASKED GRAFT.

Sensational Testimony at Legislative Committee Hearing Into Montana Land Question.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sensational testimony was adduced at today's hearing of the joint Legislative Committee into the State land question. W. A. Prodger, a Kalispell liveryman, testified that William McRae, general manager of the Northwestern Lumber Company, had told him that there would have been no delay in consummating the deal for the purchase of 50,000 acres of State timber lands had it not been for the action of Gov. Toole in demanding $10,000 additional, this being alleged "graft."

McRae took the stand and denied that he had made such a statement, declaring that he told Prodger that the deal had been delayed by the action of Poole, manager of an opposition lumber company, who had made a bid for lands in violation of a territorial division of county.

Gov. Toole swore that he had never received a dishonest dollar in connection with the deal, as did other members of the board.

The testimony showed that the State received higher prices for its holdings than ever paid individuals for similar tracts

BUILDING AT BISBEE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BISBEE, Feb. 2.—An immense amount of building is to be done in the business district of Bisbee early this year, mainly in the section lately burned out. Letson, Kline & Marks will erect a structure costing $25,000; the Fair, $20,000; the local lodge of Elks a business and lodge room structure, $35,000; Johnson building, $15,000, and many other structures that will cost $10,000 or less. There is notable activity in building in the upper part of Tombstone Cañon, above the old flood gate.

Dist.-Atty. Williams has notified the Cochise County Board of Supervisors that there has been an immense amount of waste in connection with the fees of justices and deputy sheriffs. The office of justice of the peace in this city has been one of the most lucrative in the Territory, and it is understood that a closer watch will be kept hereafter over the granting of warrants for trivial cases.

There has been much correspondence of late between the District Attorney and Maj. Allen, commanding officer at Fort Huachuca, over two soldiers who have been held in the jail at Tombstone charged with killing cattle near the fort. Though Maj. Allen preferred that the men be punished by civil authority, it was considered best to send them back to their command of the Fifth Cavalry, that they may go with the regiment to Honolulu.

The teachers and 400 of the pupils of the public schools, together with a number of parents and friends, lately held a banquet in Bisbee at the Central school, an annual affair believed to be peculiar to Bisbee. The main table extended the whole length of the building and there were dozens of smaller tables. Miss Ella Itzweire presided and a glee club of girls provided music. There were a number of addresses by teachers and prominent citizens. It was shown that in ten years the school attendance had increased from 400 to 2000 and that in five years the number of teachers had been raised from 18 to 47.

Charles Lane, a miner in the Hoatson shaft, is the latest victim of local mine accidents. He was caught and crushed to death in a cave-in at the end of a short drift.

J. H. Masia, who has been general foreman of the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Company, has been made superintendent to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of E. W. Walker.

FUNERAL SHIP TO SAIL.

Eight Thousand Chinese Bodies Will Make up Cargo for Tombs of Ancestors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight thousand bodies will be started on the way to their final resting place in China when the Shimesa leaves New York next week for the Far East. The bodies are those of Chinese who have died in this country.

The bodies have been sealed in new coffins, carefully labeled with the name and description of the men, and are being stowed between decks on the ship.

The Shimesa's cargo has been collected by a society in the United States which for small weekly dues attends to the transfer of the bodies of those Chinese who die here to the tombs of their ancestors.

THIRSTY CROPS DRINKING DEEP.

WEATHER MAN PROVIDES FRESH SUPPLY OF RAIN.

Tourists Will Be Fascinated by the Beauty of Hillside and Valley When Sun Appears—Storm's Precipitation Adds Valuable Amount to Moisture Stored in Mother Earth.

The storm which began about 5 o'clock, yesterday morning, and continued throughout the day, added materially to the supply of liquid stored within the earth. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, The Times gauge showed that .41 of an inch of rain had fallen. During the night there was .04 inch more precipitation, making the total for the season 12.61 inches. At the same date, last year, the record was 5.98.

People who live in the city and are not interested in agriculture doubtless failed to see the necessity for more moisture at this time but the crops, which have been making record growths in the past few days under the seductive warmth of the sun, were probably made thirsty by their energy and appreciated it.

Tourists, in their auto trips or car rides about the country, will see the results in the added freshness and greenness of grass and grain and the fascinating beauty of hillside and valley, and they will shudder at the mere thought of ever having to leave Southern California.

The weather forecaster reported that rain fell generally in the coast districts from British Columbia to San Diego, but that the storm was moving slowly eastward and that the sun might appear again in Los Angeles today.

Water Bothers Autoists.

MONROVIA, Feb. 3.—Light rain has been falling at intervals throughout the day and, early this morning, considerable snow feel on Monrovia Peak. No increase of water is noticeable in the San Gabriel River but considerable water is running in what is known as a new river—the branch of the San Gabriel that flows on the north side of El Monte. Farmers near the crossing of this stream on the road between Monrovia and El Monte are reaping a rich harvest from the automobilists who cannot cross with their machines.

Long Beach's Record.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3.—Rain began at midnight and has continued at intervals today with prospects of continuing through the night. The gauge registered .22 inch, this evening, making the total for the season 11 inches, as compared with 8.31 inches at the same date last year.

Planting Delayed.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 3.—During the night .13 inch of rain fell here and today the fall was .29 inch, making 9.45 inches for the season. The precipitation is not needed at this time, and again delays the work of planting in the grain districts. A large portion of the grain was planted before the first rain in January. Unless the fall is harder than is expected the river will keep within its levees and there will be no overflow.

Since the last rain, ranchers in the lowlands have used brush in strengthening the levees. The channel from the sewer farm to the head of Talbert Drainage Ditch No. 1 was much deepened during the recent storms and will carry any stream likely to come.

Heavy in San Diego County.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—A heavy rain fell throughout San Diego county today, with indications for further precipitation, although there was a lull for several hours early tonight. The average in the county is .75 inch. In this city the precipitation was .40 inch; at Mesa Grand, 1.40 inches; Escondido, .90; Ramona, .75; Oceanside, .75; Witch Creek, 1.35; Otay, .45. The rain followed several days of warm sunshine and farmers say it insures abundant crops.

Storm at Santa Barbara.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 3.—During today's storm .40 inch of rain fell, making the season's total 21.90 inches. The weather cleared this evening, but the storm signal is still up.

Elsinore.

ELSINORE, Feb. 3.—Rain began falling again early this morning and continues lightly.

Ontario.

ONTARIO, Feb. 3.—Rain began falling here at 5:30 a.m. and light showers have continued throughout the day.

GRAFT IN SHOVELING SNOW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—As the result of an investigation inaugurated by William (Billy) Edwards, who recently was appointed street cleaning commissioner of New York City, eight employés of that department and the foreman of a private contractor were arraigned in court today on charges of grand larceny by the use of fraudulent tickets. These tickets were issued to drivers of snow wagons and attest to their removal of wagonloads of snow from the streets. It is estimated that the frauds would have cost the city $50,000 if the street cleaning commissioner had not detected them.

Among the nine men under arrest are David Jacobs, a foreman in the employ of Daly & McBean, snow removal contractors, and James Cleary, a foreman of the street cleaning department. Frederick A. Hogel, deputy street cleaning commissioner for the borough of the Bronx, and William F. Charlesworth, a foreman of the department, were suspended by Commissioner Edwards and were subpoenaed to appear before a grand jury today. All the existing contracts for snow removal have been abrogated.

Commissioner Edwards said that after the discovery of the frauds he sent an agent to Jacobs, the contractor's foreman, and purchased $700 worth of tickets at 80 per cent. of their value when redeemed by the city. He said Jacobs offered $10,000 worth of tickets at the same price. Jacobs when arrested implicated the others and surrendered a check for $700 drawn to his order by Deputy Hogel. Hogel said he had been speculating in legitimate snow tickets, taking 10 per cent. from the drivers by redeeming their tickets more promptly than the city.

MAY RAISE REPUBLIC.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) Feb. 3.—Although she lies at the bottom of the Atlantic in the open sea, at a depth variously estimated from thirty to fifty-eight fathoms, attempts may be made, as an experiment, to raise the White Star liner Republic, which sank after being in collision with the Italian steamer Florida, off Nantucket.

W. W. Witherspoon of the John W. Arbuckle Wrecking Company, who raised the cruiser Yankee, is now figuring on the probable damage to the Republic.

"We have been looking for a deep-water job for some time," he said, "and a steamer wrecked in the Klondike region was first to come under consideration. The Republic affords just the opportunity perhaps to demonstrate the method. The steamer is certainly worth saving. If it was a pile of $1,000,000 in gold down there at the bottom of the sea some one would be going after it."

MISSOURI WILL BE SHOWN.

Several Hundred Petitions for Prohibition Election Are Submitted in State Legislature.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Feb. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The floodgates of prohibition submission petitions were opened in the House this morning and in the first fifteen minutes several hundred were offered and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Representative Deal of Mississippi county offered five petitions to start the ball a-rolling and immediately at least fifty members were on their feet at once demanding the floor. The petitions all call for a submission of the prohibition issue to the people at the general election of 1910.

A like performance was enacted in the Senate yesterday when petitions from twenty-seven counties were reported.

In view of the tremendous pressure being brought to bear upon members of both houses of the Assembly there is little doubt that the submission resolution will pass the House. A canvass of the Senate shows the possibility of similar action.
